OBITUARIES.

Mississippi Conference.

Mason Brown was for several years an effective minister in the Mississippi Conference, and served as pastor upon Garlandsville, Shubuta, and Waynesborough Circuits. In 1887, when the Conference was held in Yazoo City, Brother Mason Brown was granted a supernumerary relation on account of ill health. He slowly declined until the Master called him home.

Carroll Luke Crump was born near Aberdeen, Miss., in 1844, and died at Benton Dec. 25, 1887. Brother Crump was converted to God in 1868, under the pastorate of the sainted G. W. Dunlap. In 1870 he was licensed to preach by Rev. A. C. McDonald. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Foster in 1875, at Meridian, and in 1880 was ordained an elder by Bishop Harris at Macon. Brother Crump was a faithful and a successful pastor, greatly beloved by his people.

John Wesley Dunn, who departed this life July 1, 1887, at his home in Greenwood, Miss., came to us from the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, at the first Conference held in Canton, Miss., by Bishop Simpson, in 1869. At this Conference he was appointed to Greenwood, where he served acceptably for two years. He was ordained elder by Bishop Scott in 1870 at Columbus, and in 1871, when Bishop Scott presided over the Conference, he appointed Brother Dunn presiding elder of the Natchez District, and for twelve successive years he was an acceptable presiding elder in the Mississippi Conference. In 1883, at his own request, a superannuated relation was granted him. He was a pure, devout, faithful servant until the end of his life.

Gilbert Brooks was transferred from the Tennessee Conference to the Mississippi Conference in 1874. During these years he was a faithful and earnest preacher in our midst. Two years ago this Conference granted him a supernumerary relation. After this he went to live with his children in Arkansas, and continued to work for the saving of souls until he was called home to glory early last spring.

Wilmington Conference.

Joseph Dare died suddenly in Newark, Del., Oct. 22, 1887, in the fifty-seventh year of his age. He was born in Greenwich, Cumberland County, N. J., July 20, 1831. In the spring of 1854 he was admitted on trial in the Philadelphia Conference, and was appointed to Lebanon and Reading Furnace as junior preacher. The next year was spent at Schuylkill Haven and Port Clinton. Two years of probation were passed successfully, and he was elected a member of the Conference and ordained a deacon by Bishop Scott. Evansburg, followed by Crozierville, were his fields, until he was elected and ordained an elder by Bishop Ames. Saint George's Circuit, Cochranville, Milton, Quantico, Charlestown, Cherry Hill and Wesley, Delmar, Wyoming, Elkneck, Roxana, Fruitland, Galestown, Christiana, and Hockessin were the various charges occupied by him, until at once he ceased to work and live. His widow, a son, and daughter remain, and cherish the precious memory of his patient, gentle, devout, and faithful spirit. Brother Dare had been attending a meeting of Good Templars in Newark, Del. The last day of the convention he took a hurried leave of the lodge, intending to go to his home. Just as he was leaving the lodge a brother arose and said, "I move we all form into line and bid Brother Dare good-bye." They did so, saying, This may be the last time we shall ever see him. He dined with Rev. C. W. Prettyman, whose guest he was during the meeting. After dinner he went to the railroad station; but finding he had forgotten something he returned to Brother Prettyman's for it. On his way again to the station, as he was crossing the street he laid down his umbrella, kneeled on one knee, fell over and expired. His remains were laid away in the Methodist Episcopal Cemetery, Newark, Del., after public religious services, in which several of his brethren took part.

South Kansas Conference.

W. H. Tyner was born near Carbondale, Ill., Dec. 28, 1841. At an early age his parents were taken away by death. He enlisted in Company K, Eighteenth Illinois Infantry, on May 16, 1861, and was honorably discharged June 7, 1864, at Springfield, Ill. He was wounded twice at Fort Donelson. Brother Tyner was converted under the labors of Rev. G. W. Hughey at Cairo, Ill., Feb. 28, 1864. The following September he entered McKendree College, graduating therefrom June 11, 1868. He was licensed to preach Aug. 3, 1867; admitted on trial in the Southern Illinois Conference in September, 1868, and ordained deacon by Bishop Simpson Sept. 18, 1870, and elder by Bishop Bowman Oct. 6, 1872. In the Southern Illinois Conference Brother Tyner served Dingola charge, Mount Carmel, Newton, Pocahontas, Sparta, and Opdyke, until compelled to resign the charge on account of failing health. The next year he was sent to Ashley Circuit, but before the year closed his health failed again. After the Conference of 1878 he again took work, being appointed to Bunker Hill charge and serving it two years. He served Chester one year, Pinckneyville three years, Bunker Hill a second time. Again his health failed. He rested from labor until the Spring of 1885, when he was transferred to the South Kansas Conference and stationed at Hartford. After serving Hartford two years he was appointed to Beulah, Kan., serving the charge until Jan. 23, 1888, when he was transferred to the Church triumphant. On Saturday, Jan. 21, he preached to his people, and conducted love feast on Sabbath morning. He was prostrated by illness in the afternoon, being unconscious almost two hours, and died the following Monday.

John Broadhead died at Busti, N. Y., March 7, 1887, aged about eighty-nine. He was born in Yorkshire, England, and came to America in 1827. He married Hannah Hall, also of Yorkshire. She died in 1835. Afterward he married Miss Elizabeth Cheney, of Harmony, N. Y. She died in 1878. He was converted and joined the Methodist Church at the age of twelve. At sixteen he was made a class-leader, and at twenty was licensed to preach. In 1833 he was admitted to the New York Conference and sent to Durham Circuit. After two years in the western part of the State he came to Chautauqua County, N. Y., and was transferred to what is now the Erie Conference. During the agitation of the slavery question in the Church he withdrew and preached for the Wesleyan Connection; but as soon as the question was settled he came back to the Church of his choice to again minister at her altars. In 1865 he went to Kansas and was transferred to the Kansas Conference. After about eight years of effective work he took a superannuated relation, and returned to his old home at Busti, N. Y. As a preacher Brother Broadhead was practical. Having clear views of the great doctrines of God's word, he held them most tenaciously, and preached them with a positiveness and force which could not be misunderstood. For any thing like toning down the severer doctrines of God's word he had nothing but loathing and disgust, and to the day of his death he believed in the whole Gospel of Jesus Christ. Having an evenly poised brain and caring nothing for the flattery of men, loving God more than self and being devoid of egotism, he was honest and consistent with the truth, and he ever preached a whole Gospel. Truly it may be said a good man has gone from us.

South-west Kansas Conference.

G. W. Harrison was born in Marion County, Ill., Oct. 24, 1845; united with the Baptist Church in his seventeenth year; was married Feb. 26, 1867, to Miss Nancy Sugy, who died one year after; was married in the spring of 1869 to Miss Belle Shoemaker, who, with several children, mourns his loss. Brother Harrison united with the Methodist Episcopal Church in January, 1869; was licensed to exhort in February, 1870; was licensed to preach in August following, and was received on trial in the Southern Illinois Conference Oct. 12, 1871. Two years thereafter he was transferred to the South Kansas Conference. When this Conference was divided he fell on the western side of the line, and became a member of the South-west Kansas Conference. Brother Harrison continued in the work of the ministry until failure of health compelled him to take a superannuated relation, when he went into business in Andover. He continued in business until the uncertain condition of his health made it necessary for him to retire from active pursuits. His health declined rapidly until Friday, April 29, 1887, when he died in great peace. He was widely known and universally respected.

Lynn O. Mead, oldest son of Rev. Stephen L. and Electa C. Mead, was born in Brokenstraw Township, Warren Co., Pa., Aug. 24, 1856. He was converted at the age of seventeen. Soon after his conversion he became convinced of a divine call to the Christian ministry and consecrated himself to this as his life-work. After graduating from Alleghany College, Meadville, Pa., in 1881, he entered the Erie Conference in the fall of the same year and was appointed to the Kane Circuit. In August, 1882, by request of Rev. W. H. Cline, presiding elder of the Newton District, he was transferred to the South-west Kansas Conference and stationed at Hutchinson, where he remained in charge until March, 1885. Success crowned his labors in this his first charge. Many souls were given him as seals to his ministry. His second charge in Kansas was Halstead. Here, as at Hutchinson, only more signally, the divine blessing attended his ministry. As the Conference year drew near symptoms of the fatal disease, consumption, manifested itself, and it was apparent to Brother Mead and his best friends that unless relief could be found life must soon end. His first thought was to lie by for a year's rest and spend his time in the mountains of Pennsylvania and try to overcome the disease. He loved his work, and finally said to his presiding elder, "Send me to a circuit where I can have plenty of out-door exercise, ride over the prairies and breathe the pure air of Kansas. That will perhaps do as well as rest in the mountains of my own native State." He was appointed to Canton Circuit by Bishop Walden, March, 1886, where he labored for a few months, as long, indeed, as he had any strength or voice for the work, yielding only when compelled to do so. On Sept. 16, 1884, he was married to Miss Mattie Shaver, of Jamestown, N. Y., a most excellent and accomplished Christian lady, who now mourns his early death. Brother Mead was one of the purest men in this or any other Conference—a fully consecrated and sanctified child of God. His work was short, comprised in four brief years; but it was well done. May 6, 1887, he departed this life. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. P. W. Schofield, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Forestville, N. J., assisted by C. W. Nimer, a former classmate of Brother Mead's, at the home of his father in Forestville, N. J.

James Monroe Woolpert was born in Miama County, Ind., March 12, 1853; he died at Canton, Kansas, Feb. 11, 1888. Brother Woolpert was educated at the Methodist Episcopal College, Fort Wayne, Ind. He entered the Indiana Conference in the year 1879. He was united in marriage with Miss Tillie Kelsey, March 11, 1881. Brother Woolpert was a man of great activity in the service of the Master. He was admitted into the Conference at its session in Winfield, March, 1887. His work on the Canton charge was such as to recommend him to all as a workman who needeth not to be ashamed. He labored beyond his strength, was stricken down in the midst of a glorious revival of religion. For two weeks he suffered intensely, yet was patient and cheerful, and even at the very gate of death evidenced a most signal victory through our Lord Jesus Christ, whose praises were on his lips. Brother Woolpert fell at his post in the midst of the battle.

New Jersey Conference.

R. A. Chalker was born at Saybrook, Conn., Nov. 16, 1817. When sixteen he was triumphantly saved, and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church. His call to the ministry was clear. At eighteen he entered Wesleyan University at Middletown, Conn., where he spent four years. He then passed a year in Union Theological Seminary, New York city. In 1840 he entered New York Conference, receiving Amenia Circuit as his first appointment, with Samuel Cochran for colleague. This circuit required him to preach three times on Sabbath, and often every day in the week, in churches, school-houses, barns, private dwellings, or the open air. The next year he was at Fishkill, where were extensive revivals. Then Hyde Park, where he had large accessions. Farmington followed, where he counteracted Millerism and reunited a divided Church. In 1844 he was married to Miss Minerva Thurston, of Fishkill, N. Y. After marriage he filled, in New York State, the following appointments: Hyde Park, Sing Sing, Peekskill, Saugerties, Duane Street, New York city; Cannon Street, Poughkeepsie; and Saint James, Kingston. In all these were wide-spread revivals. In 1857 Brother Chalker, by earnest request, was transferred to New Jersey Conference, and stationed at the First Church, New Brunswick. His two years were almost continuous revival, and nearly two hundred were added to the church. He was also stationed at Bordentown, Broadway, Salem, Pennington, Mount Holly, New Brunswick, and Lambertville. Then, with strength somewhat impaired, he was associated with J. S. Chadwick, D.D., in State Street Church, Trenton, N. J., locating his family at Rondout, N. Y. In 1880 he became supernumerary, and remained in this relation until the close of his life. In his ministry he was conscientious, spiritual, devoted to Methodism, yet catholic-spirited, plain-pointed, earnest, intellectual, affectionate, everywhere beloved, and always successful. In dealing with the wayward and willful, his patience and forbearance were rarely exhausted, and he usually succeeded in winning them back to Christ. His industry, too, was unflagging, as his well-worn Hebrew, Greek and Latin Bibles and lexicons, now resting on the shelves, fully attest. These he continued to continued to study with great interest up to the last, and often the midnight hours found him at his self-imposed, yet delightful task. During the summer of 1886 there were signs of muscular debility, which increased until Thanksgiving Day, when he had a fainting attack from which he never fully recovered. Two days before his death, while lying on the sofa, his wife asked: "Are you in pain?" He replied, "None whatever; the Lord is letting me down very gently, very gently." During the months of his prostration he often said, "I would like to be able to preach again; but whatever the Lord wills is right." Well might Dr. Crawford, his life-long friend and Conference classmate, say at his funeral, "He did not preach merely because it was his duty, but because he loved to do so." About ten o'clock on Saturday evening, April 30, 1887, as he was lying with closed eyes, Mrs. Chalker asked: "Is Jesus with you in this journey?" Faintly smiling, he answered, "Yes." She then asked, "Is it bright all the way?" Again he whispered, "Yes." She said, "You are going to leave us?" The faint reply was, "Yes." Then the smile faded out, and his spirit was in heaven.

William Williams Christine was born in Philadelphia, Pa., on July 27, 1823, and died at Florence, N. J., Jan. 31, 1888. He was converted in 1839. In 1846 he was admitted on trial in the New Jersey Conference, held that year in Newark, N. J., and appointed to New Egypt, then one of the largest and most laborious circuits in the Conference. In 1847 he was sent to Freehold Circuit; in 1848 he was ordained deacon and sent to Columbus; in 1849 he went to Hoboken, and in 1850 was ordained elder and sent to Dover. On May 22, 1850, he was married to Miss Eliza D. Kemple. His memoranda abound with reverent appreciation of her character, of testimony to her usefulness among the people, admiration of her noble qualities and deep gratitude for the tender constancy of her love. In 1851 he was sent to Rome and Wantage, where he was in labors abundant. In 1854, Cokesburg; 1856, Quakertown. Being now within the bounds of the Newark Conference, which had been set off from the New Jersey Conference, and desiring to be near his intimate associates, he obtained a transfer to the latter Conference. His subsequent appointments were: Bethel, Union Street, Trenton; Keyport, South River, Union, Camden; Pemberton, Walnut Street, Salem; Absecon, Paulsborough, Williamstown, Mantua, Mays Landing, Toms River, and Florence, where, at nearly the close of a three years' pastorate, on Jan. 31, 1888, he fell asleep in Jesus. His memory will long be green among us. Too kind to make an enemy, he will be mourned by all who knew him.

Samuel Jaquett was born in Lower Penn's Neck, Salem Co., Feb. 9, 1805, and on Aug. 31, 1823, he was blessedly converted. In March, 1835, he was received on trial in the Philadelphia Conference, and appointed to Crosswicks Circuit, with Rev. Edward Stout in charge. In 1836, on the organization of the New Jersey Conference, having his appointment that year in its bounds, he became one of its original members; and remained connected therewith until the close of life. His first appointment in the newly-organized body was to Freehold Circuit, in 1837. In 1838 he was sent to Middletown Circuit. Oct. 24, 1838, he was married to Letitia T. Throckmorton, a lady who, for nearly fifty years, was his constant companion in sacrifice and oil. After his marriage he ceased, as was the custom in those days, to be junior preacher, and was in charge of all his fields of labor, which were, beginning with 1839, Rome and Wantage, Parsippany, Flanders, Medford, Freehold, New Egypt, South River, Keyport, Crosswicks, Eatontown, Farmingdale, Barnegat, Waretown, Hedding, and Longacoming. At the close of his term at Longacoming in 1864, he took a supernumerary relation and removed to near Farmingdale, where he remained four years. After that he removed to Farmingdale village, where he continued for one year, and then to Tom's River four years. During these years, still a supernumerary, he supplied Englishtown, Bayville, and Manchester. In 1875 he removed to Ocean Grove, where he closed his mortal career. At Ocean Grove, where he resided for the last thirteen years, none was more respected, and none took a livelier interest in all that pertained to the welfare of the Church. When expostulated with as to his attendance upon divine service, when it seemed more prudent for him to remain at home, his reply was, "I must go while I can, for the time will soon come when I cannot." Thus lived, and thus, on Sept. 3, 1887, aged eighty-two years and seven months, died, this devoted minister, affectionate husband, tender father, and faithful friend.

Newark Conference.

James Oliver Rogers was born at Freehold, N. J., July 10, 1813, and died at Hackensack, April 11, 1887. He was converted when about sixteen, and received license June 6, 1835, as a local preacher. During nine months of this Conference year he labored on the Flemington and New Germantown Circuit, under John L. Lenhart, as preacher in charge. In the spring of 1836 he was admitted on trial in the Philadelphia Conference, and two years later was ordained deacon by Bishop Hedding, who also, after two years, ordained him elder. His appointments were as follows: New Germantown and Somerset Mission, Rockaway (in New Jersey Conference, which held its first session this year), Dover and Millbrook, Mount Horeb, Somerville, Middletown Point (now Mattawan), Elizabeth, Plainfield, Salem, Front Street, Trenton; Third Street, Camden; Bordentown; Franklin Street, Newark (Newark Conference, which held its first session March 31, 1858); and Hoboken. In 1860 he was transferred to New York East Conference and appointed to Mariner's Church, New York city; soon after which Norfolk Street Baptist Church was purchased and took the name of "Alanson Church," with Brother Rogers as pastor until the close of the next year, when he was transferred back to Newark Conference and stationed as follows: Orange; Trinity, Newark; Franklin Street, Newark (second time); Trinity, Staten Island; supernumerary; Irvington; Belleville; First Church, Hackensack; Metuchen; supernumerary. After his more than fifty years of almost unbroken pastoral service, it was fitting that the Conference of 1886 should adopt an appreciatory minute concerning him and his associates of 1836, a single clause of which need here be given: "We rejoice in the glorious work they have wrought by the grace of God—a work that is no insignificant part of the grand history of the Church. Brother Rogers's ministry was as remarkable for its success as for its length. From among the one hundred and more converts at Elizabeth, five young men were given to the Christian ministry. At Salem a revival occurred that awakened the whole town; his two years at Camden were spent in a continuous revival: Among the many added to the church at Bordentown were forty railroad employees; and the remarkable work of grace during his first pastorate at Franklin Street Church, Newark, resulted in six hundred professed conversions. Brother Rogers's love of the humorous abounded, and sometimes gave him trouble lest by its too free indulgence he might injure the cause of piety; but its wise use often gave him a power of winning men to the Church whom otherwise he could not have reached. His conversation was enlivened from an inexhaustible fund of anecdote with which he effectually pointed many a moral. Rev. J. W. Dally, to whom we are indebted for many of the above facts, writes of him thus: "As a preacher he occupied an enviable position, being especially strong in persuasive power while urging the truth upon the unconverted. Endowed with an exceptionally musical voice, multitudes were charmed by his singing in the social means of grace, and often he sang alone in the public service with thrilling effect. He was a modest man, seldom taking part in Conference debates; but was one of the best known and best beloved men in the body of which he was an honored member." During the last Newark Conference, held at Hackensack, the place of his residence, a committee was appointed to visit him at his home. With characteristic modesty and deep emotion he assured them of his love to the Saviour and of his unshaken faith in the Gospel, and with great fervor he responded to the prayers that followed. When death came, two weeks afterward, it found him fully ready "to depart and be with Christ." In 1840 Brother Rogers married Miss Lydia A. Brumfield, of Port Deposit, Md., who during almost forty-seven years ministered to him as a faithful, devoted wife. She still survives.

James N. Keys was born in Bushhill, Ireland, Feb. 12, 1827. He died at his home in Deckertown, N. J., May 14, 1887. Brother Keys was a student at Didsbury Theological Institute, England, whose adjacent churches gave early employment to his promising ministerial gifts. Wexford, in the Irish Conference, also witnessed some of his labors; but his life-work was destined to be in America, where he arrived and received employment in the Baltimore Conference prior to 1856; for in that year on account of the infirmity of his aged father, he returned to his native home where he remained till his parent's death, when he again came to this country and labored in the Newark Conference, successfully serving in Passaic, Otisville, Mechaniesville (N. Y.), Rockland Lake, Vernon, Deckertown, Asbury, Mount Vernon, and Mendham. In the spring of 1878 he was reappointed to Deckertown, where, at the close of his full term, he took a supernumerary relation. He was esteemed by those who knew him best to be an able preacher of the expository, analytical style. In the pulpit he was dignified but not priestly. The matter, spirit, and language of his ministrations were devotional but peculiarly his own. His readiness in Scripture quotations was remarkable. His spirit was Connectional but charitable. So catholic was his spirit and manly and courteous his demeanor that during his few supernumerary years he was often called upon to supply the vacant pulpits of various denominations in the community.

William G. Wiggins was born in the township of Mount Hope, Orange Co., N. Y., Feb. 24, 1821; and died at his home in Paterson, Sept. 10, 1887. He was converted at the age of sixteen, and began to teach school about the same time. Feeling the need of a better education, he entered a school in Middletown, Conn. After an attendance of two years, he yielded to the request of his presiding elder, and was assigned to Vernon Charge, 1843. He was admitted in 1844 to New Jersey Conference, and appointed to Delaware Circuit. He served his Lord faithfully on the following charges: Delaware Circuit, Port Jervis, New Prospect, Barryville, Lafayette, New Prospect, Bloomingdale, North Haverstraw, Parsippany and Pine Brook, Sandystone, Sparta, Hope, and Boonton. In 1866 he was granted, because of throat trouble, a supernumerary relation, which he sustained until death. He engaged in mercantile pursuits first at Newburg, N. Y.; removing to Paterson in 1874. His business grew to large proportions, and Brother Wiggins soon became one of the prominent merchants of that enterprising city. Although diligent in business, he never became secularized. His heart was in the work of saving men, and for this he was every ready to help a helping hand. For a number of years he had the pastoral care of Notch, and also of Saint Phillip's (colored) Church of Paterson. To these people he greatly endeared himself. For several months Brother Wiggins had received premonitions of physical decay, the trouble being disease of the heart. But still he went about doing work for the Church.

James M. Tuttle was born in Caldwell, N. J., June 12, 1809. Very early in life the stern battle began with him. He was a wage earner when only ten years of age. By trade he was a blacksmith, and at this he continued until he bade farewell to apron and anvil to go and preach the Gospel of the Son of God. When twenty-four years of age he was converted. This was in 1833, and in one year after this he was licensed to preach. Shortly after this he began his itinerant career, under that grand old presiding elder, Manning Force. In 1836 he was received into the Philadelphia Conference and appointed as follows: New Prospect Circuit, Flemington Circuit, Dover, Trinity, Jersey City; Bordentown, Belleville, Hackettstown, Front Street, Trenton; Trinity, Jersey City, again; agent for Pennington Seminary, agent for the Conference Tract Society, presiding elder of Rahway District, presiding elder of Newark District, secretary of United States Sanitary Commission, Madison, Rahway, Asbury, Staten Island, Boonton, agent for Hackettstown Seminary, Mount Hope, Perth Amboy. In 1878 he took a supernumerary relation, which he sustained until the close of life, doing such work as he was able to do. In 1841 Brother Tuttle was united in marriage with Miss Margaret H. Dickinson. While on Flemington Circuit, in 1838, his health partially failed, and for awhile it seemed as if his labors must early end. His health improving he at once began to rise rapidly in the estimation of the Conference and the Church. This led to his early appointment in Jersey City, Bordentown, and Trenton. His talent and tact for raising money led to his appointment as Financial Agent for Pennington and Hackettstown Seminaries. He was stationed in Madison at the time. Drew Theological Seminary was established there, and it was largely through his influence that this grand institution found its home in that place. Dr. McClintock, its beloved and honored first president, said of him: "There is no man whose judgment I trust more implicitly than Brother Tuttle's." He was made a trustee of the seminary at the time of its organization, and continued in this relation until his death. In 1860 he was elected a delegate to the General Conference. His preaching was often in power; but his exhortations were remarkable. Bishop Janes once said of him in the Cabinet, "I would rather have Brother Tuttle's power of exhortation than to be the best preacher in the State." He quickly and joyfully responded to the bugle-call for an alliance in the collection for missions. And when a million of dollars was raised, he still longed for the time when we, as a Church, should average a dollar per member throughout the entire connection. He was a man of great warmth of heart. His friends were numerous, and yet he was a man of imperturbable coolness. He loved his brethren in the ministry, and had a warm welcome for them all. The last year of his life was spent in Wilkesbarre, Pa., and at Spring Lake, N. J. At this latter place he breathed out his life on Nov. 22, 1887.

James H. Runyan. [See obituary, p. 106.]

Northern New York Conference.

Edward L. Wadsworth was born Jan. 16, 1806, in New Hartford, Oneida County, N. Y., and died in peace, July 10, 1887, at his home in Sanquoit, N. Y. He was converted in 1826, and licensed to exhort Feb. 28, 1831. He joined the Oneida Conference at its session in Manlius, N. Y., July 12, 1832, and was appointed to the Bainbridge Circuit. He was appointed to the following fields of labor; namely, Bainbridge, Russia, Westmoreland, Nanticoke (Pa.), Slatersville, Scott, Chenango, Homer, Nelson, Fayetteville, Manlius, Cayuga, Scipio, Spafford, Cardiff, Lowell, and Litchfield. For twenty years he traveled laborious fields as a faithful minister of the gospel, and had the joy of seeing hundreds converted. Brother Wadsworth's health was always delicate. His life was a continual struggle against a complication of diseases, which often had a depressing effect, and prevented him from such abundant work as his judgment planned, and his ambition and zeal desired. His health completely failed in the winter of 1851, and he was compelled to take a superannuated relation. His memory of old friends and associations constrained him to locate at Sanquoit, N. Y., the region of his former home, where he has since resided, living an irreproachable life. Whenever his health would permit, he was in attendance upon the means of grace, and in former years often preached and assisted in the services in the Lord's house. Charlotte C. Clark was his first, and Prudence Nealy his second wife. Both preceded him to the better country. Brother Wadsworth's death seemed strange, and yet wisely ordered. Suffering so long, how fit and good it seemed that he was not called to endure special pain or long sickness at the last. A little before his departure he was engaged in very cheerful conversation with his daughter, and was quite animated in recounting reminiscences of his school-days sixty years before at Cazenovia. Shortly after this he left the parlor and entered the sitting-room, where, alone, he apparently sat down in his chair by the window to read his Bible. It would seem, that getting drowsy, he laid the good Book on the couch by his side and fell asleep. It was the last sleep; no more did he awake on earth. At half past six he was found dead, still sitting in his chair like one asleep. Thus quietly, without pain or a struggle, he passed gently away. Literally, he "fell asleep" and "was not, for God took him." Five children—two sons, Clifford and Theodore, of New York city and Brooklyn, and three daughters—mourn their loss. He will be missed, but only a little while, for glorious will be the Christian family reunions in the better land. The memory of our brother's Christian life is precious, and his peaceful death a beautiful close.

Andrew F. Bigelow was born in Plattsburg, N. Y., March 18, 1824, and died September 20, in Malone, N. Y., in the seventy-fourth year of his age. Brother Bigelow professed faith in Christ at the age of thirteen. It is encouraging that much attention is turned to the matter of early conversion. This fact adorns many lives in the ministry and laity. It is destined to become more universal. Andrew F. Bigelow was licensed to exhort in 1839, to preach, Dec., 1842; admitted to Black River Conference, Aug. 6, 1844; full connection, July 7, 1848; deacon, July 9, 1848; elder, June 30, 1850. His appointments were: Fort Covington and Bombay, Louisville and Massena, Heuvelton, Hopkinton and Parishville Mission, West Stockholm, Buck's Bridge, Carthage, DePeyster, West Stockholm, Malone, Moira, Lawrence, Bangor, North Bangor, Dickinson located, Moira, West Stockholm, Louisville supernumerary, Brasher superannuated, South Malone supernumerary, superannuated. He lived the last year and a half in the town of Malone. As a public man he was known to be somewhat eccentric, which phase of life was not taken on to attract attention, but grew out of his social and mental qualities. It was part of himself. In 1847 he was united in marriage with Marion Albina Purmort, who remains to mourn the loss of the companion of her early and late years. The funeral was held, Sept. 23, 1887, in the Methodist Episcopal Church at Malone. There was a large attendance, including nine neighboring pastors.

Samuel Salsbury was born in Elbridge, Onondaga County, N. Y., Oct. 14, 1828, and died in Constantia, Oswego County, N. Y., Dec. 14, 1887. In 1848 Brother Salsbury was converted. In 1849 he was licensed to preach. He was recommended to the conference for admission on trial by the Central Square Quarterly Conference, and was admitted into the Black River Conference at its session held in Rome, N. Y., July 3, 1850. At the session of the Conference held in Ogdensburg, N. Y., he was admitted into full connection, June 24, and ordained deacon by Bishop Morris, June 27, 1852. In 1854 he was ordained elder by Bishop Morris. During the years of his itineraney he served the following charges: North Manlius, Redfield, Salmon River, Morristown, Natural Bridge, Oswegatchie Mission, Duane Mission, South Butler and Savannah, Fair Haven, Cato, Ohio and Gaysville, Delta, Constableville, Constableville and Port Leyden; in Central New York Conference, at Steuben, supernumerary, Florence, Florence and Redfield, Brookfield, Springfield, Starkville, Starkville and Van Hornsville, Jordanville, Earlville, and Constantia. Had he lived to the close of this conference year, he would have completed his thirty-eighth year in the work of the ministry. A good record. These were years of toil; most of these fields were large, having a number of appointments, requiring three sermons on the Sabbath, and frequently preaching during the week, and for this hard work he received a very small salary. During the summer his health was as firm as usual, when in September, while returning from his afternoon appointment where he had preached in a church that was very warm, he felt a slight chill, and on arriving at his home he complained of being cold. From this attack he never fully recovered, though he continued his pulpit work. On Thanksgiving Day it fell to his lot to preach at a union meeting. After preaching, he and his family rode to the home of Brother Prentice to enjoy a Thanksgiving dinner. On entering the house he was seized with severe pain in the region of his heart, and rapidly went down until unconscious. For a few days he gained strength so that he sat up and walked about the house, then came a relapse, when he rapidly drew to the close of his mortal life. All who were acquainted with our brother will unite in saying that he was a good man and a true Christian, a faithful minister and loyal to the Church. He loved the Church, her usages and her doctrines. He was faithful to his vows. He studied to understand her doctrines; he faithfully preached and maintained them.

Amasa Clark Woodward was born in Rutland, Jefferson County, N. Y., Sept. 9, 1820, and died at Sprague ville, N. Y., Jan. 31, 1888. He was converted on Champion Circuit in early manhood, and soon after joined the Methodist Episcopal Church. He was admitted on trial in the Black River Conference and ordained deacon in 1854, and in 1859 he was admitted into full connection and ordained elder. He supplied South Canton six months in 1851, Edwards and Fine Mission in 1852, and Macomb in 1853. So it appears he was employed in the regular work from the time he was licensed to preach until he joined the Annual Conference. Brother Woodward's appointments from the Conference were as follows: Edwards and Fine Mission, Lisbon, DePeyster, Lawrence, West Stockholm, North Brasher, Brasher, Messena, Russell, DePeyster again, Hammond, Morristown, Ellisburg, Pamelia and Sprague's Corners. Since 1884 he has been superannuated. He was married in 1840 to Miss Lucy Muzzy, who died in 1851. In 1853 he married Mrs. Francina Barter, who survives him. Since retiring from the regular work, Brother Woodward has resided at Sprague ville, where he spent quite a portion of his early life. And there he died, among those who knew him well, and who universally respected and esteemed him as a devoted Christian and a faithful minister of the Lord Jesus. He was a plain, practical man of good natural ability and of unimpeachable integrity; humble and reserved in his manner, yet he never assented to what he did not approve for want of courage to maintain and defend his honest convictions. Our departed brother was a Methodist; not a bigot, for he had charity for all Christians. But he believed and loved the doctrines of his own Church and he was content with her discipline. He did not use the influence of the high position to which the Church had elevated him in her ministry to weaken or destroy public confidence in her polity. The people whom he served were not less Methodistic because he had been their pastor. Brother Woodward was a good preacher. He was Scriptural in doctrine, clear in experience, ardent in spirit and intensely sincere in his appeals to the judgment and consciences of those who heard him. The Church was edified and strengthened and many sinners were converted under his ministry. But his work is done and he has gone to his reward.

New England Southern Conf.

JOSEPH MARSH was born in the village of British Lane, Staffordshire, England, April 3, 1796; died May 21, 1887, aged ninety-one years. In 1821 Brother Marsh was induced to come to this country under contract with the New England Glass Company, to serve them three years. He says at the end of that time, "I found plenty of work as a local preacher." In 1823 his work was confined to East Cambridge. Success followed his labors, and the next year a nice church was dedicated. In 1824–25 he labored in Malden with success. In 1829 he went to Jersey City, N. J. Not finding any Methodism here, he went to work with his usual zeal and success. In twelve months a society was formed and a church erected, and dedicated by Dr. Bangs. He was in Baltimore in 1830–31, and came to Sandwich, Mass., in 1832. Working in the glass factory four and five days in the week, on Saturday going to his appointment, preaching on Sunday, returning Monday to his work — thus, for nearly forty years, Father Marsh would blow glass on week-days, and on Sundays blow the gospel trumpet with no uncertain sound. In 1860 he was elected chaplain of Massachusetts Senate, performing his duties there in a most acceptable manner, and preaching on Sundays in the outlying towns and villages. So valuable had been his services to the Church, and such ability manifest in all his work, that at the Conference of 1870, when seventy-four years of age, he was admitted to full connection by a full vote of his brethren. Probably this case has no parallel in the history of our denomination. He continued in active service until 1876. While engaged in revival work at Cottage City, holding services every evening, he had an attack of paralysis. He then came to his home in Sandwich, residing here until his death. During these years of disability Father Marsh was a blessing and benediction to his home church and the pastor. He was able to walk about until the last. While passing across the room to get a drink of water he sank into a chair and was not, for "God took him."

JOHN HOWSON died in Thompsonville, March 10, 1888, in the eighty-fourth year of his age. He had been feeble in health for several years, but was not confined to bed until November 30, when his final sickness began, and ran its fluctuating course until his demise. His end was peaceful, and fitly closed a long and eventful ministry. His tenacity of life has been equaled only by the strong hold he had on the vital doctrines of our glorious faith. The New England Conference of 1840 admitted him to the itinerancy. It was the next year, 1841, that the Providence Conference, now known as the New England Southern, was formed. He naturally joined the new Conference, and his long experience as a local preacher gave him rapid advancement. Thus he served all the cities in the Conference. New London and Norwich, especially the latter, were often mentioned by him as most pleasant pastorates. In 1849 he preached for the second period in Thompsonville. In 1853–54 he was appointed to the old Power Street, now Hope Street, Church, Providence, one of the historic spots in Methodism. Again he served the First Church, Fall River, Mass., then went to Pleasant Street, New Bedford. This was his most remarkable pastorate, although he went to Allen Street also and had success. A great multitude of people were converted in Pleasant Street during his term. Sometimes during the revival three meetings were going on at once. The audience-room held 1,200 and the vestries a great many besides, so that one can imagine the interest. Taunton, Wellfleet, Danielsonville, and other prominent places he served during his long term of ministerial service.

CHARLES A. CARTER was born in Leominster, Mass., Feb. 23, 1810. He received his first appointment in 1836, when twenty-six years old. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Hedding at the session of the New England Conference held in Boston, June 10, 1838, and elder by the same bishop at the session of the New England Conference held in Lowell, July 5, 1840. He was married to Miss Judith Williamson, in Marshfield, April 16, 1846. Brother Carter served, with great acceptability and to the glory of God, the following charges: Southbridge and Woodstock, Franklin and Griswold, Wapping and Ketch Mills, South Yarmouth, Wareham, West Sandwich, Falmouth, North Dighton, Truro; Mansfield, supernumerary, superannuated, West Palmer, Marston's Mills, North-west Bridgewater, West Falmouth, Hull, Carver, Wareham, Hebronville, Hanover, superannuated. During his fifty-one years in the ministry he served nineteen charges, and, to his great grief, was laid aside from active service twenty-seven years. The death of his wife and overwork resulted in paralysis of the muscles, from which he never fully recovered. His last sickness, although most painful, was endured with true Christian heroism.

Vermont Conference.

AARON BELL was born in Groton, N. H., Aug. 17, 1821, and died in Lonoke, Ark., Oct. 16, 1887. He was converted at the age of fourteen and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church. He was admitted on trial in the Vermont Conference in 1850; entered into full connection in 1852. He labored earnestly for the Master on the following charges: Coventry, Newport, Brownington and Charleston, Orange and Washington, Bethel, Worcester, Albany, Westfield and Troy, and supplied for two years at North Danville. In 1876 on account of his poor health he was entered on the supernumerary list. In 1878 he moved to Iowa where his health improved so much as to enable him to take work as a supply for three years in the North-west Iowa Conference. In 1886 he moved to Arkansas. Down in that southern clime he preached the Gospel, and not in vain. Two weeks before his death he held a protracted meeting which resulted in much good. Just one week before his death, he preached his last sermon. The following Sabbath at the rising of the sun the Lord called him home, and with joy he answered to the call. Thus departed a faithful laborer in the vineyard of the Lord in the sixty-sixth year of his age.

L. C. DICKINSON was born in Weathersfield, Vt., July 22, 1822, and died in Saint Johnsbury Center, Dec. 3, 1887. Brother Dickinson was converted in early life, and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. In 1848 he was admitted on trial to the Vermont Annual Conference. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Morris in 1850, and elder by Bishop Scott in 1852. He filled the following appointments: Londonderry, as junior preacher, Putney, Bellows Falls, Cambridgeport and Athens, teacher in Springfield Wesleyan Seminary, and supply at Chester, Woodstock, West Windsor, and Proctorsville. In July 1862, he was commissioned chaplain in the Ninth Regiment Vermont Volunteers, and remained in the field with his regiment three years, being discharged July 1865. The church at Fairhaven being without a pastor, he supplied that place the remainder of the conference year. He was stationed at Wilmington, presiding elder of Springfield District, Waterbury Center, Swanton, Derby, Glover and West Glover, and Saint Johnsbury Center. During his pastorate at Saint Johnsbury Center, he purchased a home at that place, where he resided at the time of his death. He was stationed at West Burke in 1882, and East Lyndon and Kirby in 1883. At the Conference of 1884 he asked for and received a supernumerary relation with an appointment at North Danville, which was his last work as pastor. He continued to preach occasionally as opportunity offered up to the time of his last illness, which was of only a week's duration. He was given a superannuated relation in 1886. It will be seen that he was a member of the conference nearly forty years, and held an effective relation for thirty-six years. During these forty years no question touching his moral character or doctrinal soundness was ever raised. It was his constant endeavor to do solid work, and almost invariably he left his charges in better condition than he found them. Conservative in spirit, sound in judgment, safe as a counselor, true as a friend, and just as an opponent; his advice was often sought by his brethren in matters of importance. In January, 1851, Brother Dickinson was united in marriage with Melicent Ruth, the only daughter of Rev. David Todd, for many years a member of the New England and Vermont Conferences.

Oscar William Barrows was born in Sandown, N. H., Nov. 27, 1847. He entered the work of the ministry in the Vermont Conference at Bethel, Gilead, in 1874, taking thither his young bride, Emma F. Webster, of Haverhill. Overwork on the appointment resulted in nervous prostration, and he was compelled to lay aside, only supplying occasionally the pulpit at Kingston, N. H. After three years of absence he returned to the conference and served as pastor at Guildhall, Sheffield and Wheelock, South Royalton, Hartland, and North Hartland. On all these appointments the influence of his faithful ministry and consecrated life abides. His last field of labor was Grand Isle and South Hero. There the workman fell in the midst of a heart broken people. Brother Barrows was ordained deacon at Bellows Falls by Bishop Haven in 1875, elder at Chelsea by Bishop Hurst in 1886, and passed to the church triumphant, Aug. 1, 1887.

Delaware Conference.

Charles Wing was born on the eastern shore of Maryland about the year 1815, and died Oct. 8, 1887. He joined the Delaware Conference in 1865, and filled the following appointments with credit to himself and Conference: Ezion, Wilmington, Cambridge, Wycomico, Chestertown, Old Chester, Newtown, Princess Anne, Middletown, Smyrna, and Crumpton. In 1884, his health failing, he took a superannuated relation and moved to Chestertown; and from there to Trappe, thence to Oxford, where, after suffering patiently and long, he died in great peace.

John H. Holland was born in Anne Arundel County, Md., April 12, 1828. At an early age he was converted to God and joined Sharp Street Methodist Episcopal Church, Baltimore, Md., where he then lived and worked at his trade as carpenter. About this time he was married to Miss Sarah E., daughter of the Rev. Thomas Watkins. In July, 1853, he joined the Delaware Conference. His first appointment was Denton, Md., where he had quite a conflict with the African Methodist Episcopal Church. His own Church being locked against him, he stood on the door-step and preached the Gospel of Christ. He was then appointed to Millington, and served that circuit two years, then to Centerville, Milford, Vienna Circuit, Easton, Dover, and presiding elder of Salisbury District. After serving the district four years he was appointed to Crisfield, Somerset County, Md., staying three years. He was then appointed to Quantico, where he stayed one year. The circuit was divided and Nanticoke Charge was established, to which he was appointed in May, 1887, by Bishop J. F. Hurst, at the session of the Conference at Chestertown; but being taken sick at Conference he did not reach his work, but grew worse until, on the fourteenth of November of the same year, he was translated, we trust, to the land of the blest. Brother Holland was a man of industry and enterprise, a faithful Christian, a wise and discreet judiciary officer, a good gospel preacher, an energetic pastor, who proved a blessing to the Church.

William J. Jackson was born Sept. 3. 1859, and died April 15, 1888, aged twenty-eight years. Just before the soul left for glory he called the family to the bed-side and said, "Good-bye, I am almost home. O! Jesus, meet me at the shore." Brother Jackson was admitted in the Delaware Conference on trial in 1885. He served two years on Dover Circuit, and was assigned to Quantico Circuit last May. He stood firm at his post for Jesus until his Lord retired him from duty to prepare to enter the grand review in glory.

North Indiana Conference.

Humphrey Jacob Meck was born in Carlisle, Pa., Sept. 10, 1822, and died in the city of Logansport, Ind., Nov. 20, 1887, in his sixty-sixth year. He married Miss Elizabeth Elliott, March 28, 1844, who survives him. Brother Meck was soundly converted in his twentieth year, while attending a camp-meeting at Green Village, and at once united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. About the year 1854 he removed to Indiana and began business in Indianapolis as a merchant tailor. Here he was very active in Christian labors and preached often as a local preacher. He organized the Methodist Episcopal Church in Mapleton. In 1885 he closed up his business and was received on trial in the North Indiana Conference, of which he was a member for almost thirty-three years. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Simpson, and elder by Bishop Morris. He filled the following appointments: Goshen, Lanesville, Williamsburg, Hagerstown, Winchester, Wabash, Kendallville, Knightstown, Goshen District, Wayne Street Station, Fort Wayne, Fort Wayne District, Kokomo, Union City, Bluffton, Noblesville, Market Street Station, and Logansport, where he ended his course in triumph. Although Brother Meck was not naturally rugged, he never had any special sickness. He never missed a Sabbath from illness until his final sickness, nor did he ever take a vacation or miss a prayer-meeting. He was always present at the roll-call of his Conference, and at the final benediction. For the last six months of life he gradually declined in health. About the last of September he was taken ill with what proved to be stricture of the bowels, and suffered severely for several weeks. He did not murmur in his severe sufferings. Whenever he was questioned about himself his testimony was clear, giving no uncertain sound. He said he never felt so resigned to the divine will, being willing to go or to stay. Brother Meck was a very successful minister. He remained in his charges till full term, or was called to a more important post. He never appeared to be troubled about his appointments. He went cheerfully where he was sent. He was stationed in some of the most important and heavy charges of his Conference.

The churches prospered under his care and grew in spirituality and power. He excelled as a revivalist. In every charge he had blessed revivals, some of which were the most glorious in the history of the Conference. Wherever he went he won a host of friends. His affable manners, pleasant way, and active habits gained him the universal love and respect of every community. He never hesitated to preach the whole gospel, and had no toleration for sin. As a man he was kind-hearted, ever true and blameless in life and conversation. As a citizen he was public spirited and an uncompromising advocate of reform.

ELI R. SMALL was born in Mechanicsburg, Henry County, Ind., Sept. 8, 1853, and died in his father's house in Markleville, Ind., Feb. 26, 1888, in his thirty-fifth year. He was an excellent student, displaying all the qualities of a hard worker, a strong thinker, a close reasoner, and a brilliant intellect. Brother Small was converted in December, 1876, and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. Soon after his conversion he was drawn to the work of the pulpit. After a time he was for awhile somewhat diverted from this object and thought of becoming a lawyer. But the summer after he graduated, for weeks he had a severe conflict, but just as the school year began at Drew he yielded to the will of God and was enrolled among the students at Drew. Here he pursued the theological course with great credit. At the conclusion of his course at Drew he returned to Indiana and was received into the North Indiana Conference. He was appointed to Dunlin, where he labored one year with great acceptability and success. He was then sent to Centerville, where he labored two years. Here he did excellent work. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Harris. Last year, although he was in failing health, he was appointed to the Wheatland Street Station, in the city of Logansport. He filled his pulpit a few Sundays and then was obliged to resign the charge and return to his father's house. His disease baffled the skill of all the physicians. His decline was gradual but steady for nearly eighteen months. During all this decline he was very patient and hopeful. He was always in a blessed frame of mind, resting calmly in the hands of God, and submissive to the divine will. Two days before the last he received a wonderful blessing. He called the family and spoke at length, giving a hallowed exhortation for faith, patience, and earnestness in God's service. Brother Small was greatly beloved in his charges, and his ministrations were highly appreciated. He was a fine scholar, a great reader, a thorough student, a close and eloquent preacher. All the interests of the Church prospered under his care. If his life had been prolonged he would have been one of our most prominent men.

New Hampshire Conference.

PHILANDER WALLINGFORD was born at Marlborough, N. H., June 6, 1812, and died in Claremont, N. H., Aug. 6, 1887, aged sixty-five years. He was converted at Chelsea, Vt., Sept. 11, 1831; was baptized at Claremont by Rev. Elihu Scott, and was there received into the Church. He was licensed to preach at Brookfield, Mass., Sept. 20, 1842, and was received into the New England Conference at Boston, June 28, 1843. He was ordained deacon, June 29, 1845, at Lowell, Mass., by Bishop E. S. Janes, and elder, April 28, 1850, at Boston, Mass., by Bishop T. A. Morris. He located from the New England Conference in 1846, and was re-admitted to the New England Conference in 1850. He located from the New England Conference again in 1856, and was re-admitted to the New Hampshire Conference, April 25, 1881, and given a superannuated relation, which he sustained until his death. He was married at Newmarket, N. H., Jan. 1, 1838, to Caroline M. Treadwell, who, in feeble health, survives him. His appointments were: Brookfield, Mass., Natick, Mass., Barre, Mass.; located in 1846, and supplied at Rochester, N. H., in 1847; supplied at Rye, N. H., 1849; re-admitted to the New England Conference in 1850, and preached at the following places: Winchendon, Mass., North Brookfield, Mass., Shelburne Falls, Holyoke; located in 1856, and supplied Walpole, Cornish, Hartland, Vt.; Goshen, South Newmarket, and Weathersfield-Bow Congregational Church. Brother Wallingford was a good man, interested in all the work of the church, and was active in doing what he could to help the cause along. In the matter of benevolence, especially the missionary cause, he led the church where he was so long a member. He was faithful and true, a man of good thoughts and strong convictions, which he fearlessly declared.

JAMES G. SMITH was born at Mount Vernon, N. H., Dec. 22, 1805. He was converted at Claremont, N. H., among the Baptists, in his sixteenth year. Three years later he was received into the Methodist Church at Claremont by Rev. Wilbur Fisk, afterward president of Wesleyan University. He was licensed to preach at Salem, N. H., April 8, 1826, and joined Conference on trial at Lisbon, N. H., the same year. He was ordained both as deacon and elder by Bishop Hedding. In 1828 he married at Royalton, Vt., Miss Polly Leavitt, who died at Plymouth, N. H., Nov. 26, 1879. Brother Smith was effective about twenty years. During that time he received the following appointments: Deering, N. H.; Barnard, Vt.; Weston, N. H.; Warner, N. H.; Pembroke, N. H.; Poplin, Amoskeag, Amoskeag and Nashua, N. H.; Rochester, N. H.; Salisbury, Mass.; Portsmouth, N. H.; Gilmanton, N. H.; Hartland, Vt.; Lebanon, N. H.; Landaff, N. H.; Lancaster, N. H.; and Plymouth, N. H. Since that date he has been superannuated, and has lived at Plymouth, N. H. Brother Smith was one of the heroic men of his day. He traveled on large circuits and received meager remuneration. But on every charge he had revivals. He will be greatly missed from among us.

East Maine Conference.

NELSON WHITNEY was born in Thorndike, Maine, Jan. 22, 1811. He was united in marriage to Miss Dorothy Dwelly in 1840. We have no data relating to his conversion, but learn that he was licensed to preach, Sept. 21, 1850, and at once began work as a Methodist minister. The following spring he was received upon probation in the East Maine Conference and appointed to Friendship. In 1852 his appointment was Lincoln. In 1853 he was admitted to full connection, ordained deacon by Bishop Janes and returned to Lincoln. In 1854 he was appointed to Houlton, and at the close of his pastorate there he was ordained elder by Bishop Simpson. His later appointments were as follows: Calais, East Machias, Machias, Ellsworth, Sebec, Sangerville, Newport, Unity, Harmony, Fort Fairfield, Springfield, Upper Stillwater, and Eastport. His cherished companion died at Eastport, Maine, Dec. 20, 1876. At this date he exclaimed in sorrow, "O, what agony of spirit has rent my inmost soul! All my earthly prospects are forever gone. O, how sad a life will the remainder of mine be! I cannot dwell upon it." Near unto this period of time, and at his own request, he was granted a location and removed to Indianapolis, Iowa. A few years after this he visited our Conference and was re-admitted to its membership, receiving a superannuated relation. Life's evening was passed with his sons in Iowa, where loving attentions were rendered to him. He died in great peace, July 1, 1887. His last hours were characterized by intense pain, but revealed the comforting assurance that he was trusting in Jesus. The older members of our Conference well remember Brother Whitney as a faithful and efficient laborer in the Master's vineyard. He loved Zion when her friends were few. He was a man of positive convictions and gave clear and strong statements of belief and opinion. True moral reforms received his hearty commendation and support.

Benjamin F. Stinson, a holy man, successful preacher, and member of East Maine Conference, passed suddenly away to his reward, Nov. 19, 1887. Brother Stinson was born on Deer Island, Me., Jan. 18, 1812. He began to exhort soon after conversion and received a license to preach, since which time he has been "in labors more abundant." He was ordained elder by Bishop Ames and joined the East Maine Conference on trial in 1859, since which time he has received the following appointments: Tremont, Deer Island, Franklin, Columbia, Tremont again, Harrington, supernumerary, Deer Isle, supernumery again, Tremont again, supernumerary, and in 1887 he was made a superannuate. Brother Stinson was an excellent preacher, clear in doctrines, fearless in application, and convincing in logic. He could not fail to benefit and instruct any society. He was especially beloved in the homes of his people, where his genial conversation and personal appeals produced lasting fruit. He lived in daily consciousness of a heart all consecrated and in which the Holy Spirit had taken up its abode. When told that the Conference had reluctantly superannuated him, he shed a silent tear and bowed submissively to its decision, while the conviction slowly fastened upon him that he should soon depart. He preached unto the last with energy and zeal. Two weeks before death he met his last audience and spoke to them as one from the spirit land. The impressions of that hour will not soon be forgotten. In his dying hour he was peaceful and resigned.

Washington Conference.

Andrew Edmondson died in great peace at his residence, Baths, Rockbridge County, Va., Dec. 1, 1887. He was born at the same place in the year 1814, and therefore at the time of his death was seventy-three years old. He was admitted on trial into the Washington Annual Conference, March, 7, 1866. His appointments have been successively as follows: Rockingham, Tazewell, Wytheville, Marion, Washington County, Va.; Mercer, Union Grove, Caliston, Woodlawn, Brownsburg, Richmond, and Leesville. He was ordained deacon, March 1, 1868, by Bishop E. R. Ames, and ordained elder by Bishop E. S. Janes, March 13, 1870. At the twenty-third session of the Conference held at Charleston, W. Va., his health having so far given way as to unfit him for effective labor, he was placed on the superannuated list, which relation he sustained until death. Brother Edmondson was in a marked sense a useful man. It was his delight day and night to devote his time "in the cultivation of Immanuel's land." His last illness was short. When the message came it found him full of peace and joy. On Sunday, Nov. 27, 1887, the Sabbath previous to his death, he preached with great power, both morning and evening. He was taken sick, November 29, and died the following Thursday, December 1. His last words were: "while the outward man perishes, the inward man is renewed day by day." His funeral was held at his residence, on Friday, December 2, at 3 P.M.

Robert E. J. Warner was born in the city of Baltimore, where he died, May 30, 1887, aged forty-eight years. He was licensed to preach by the Quarterly Conference of John Wesley Methodist Episcopal Church, and was received on trial in 1870. He served the following appointments: Richmond, Va.; Liberty, Northern Neck, Charlestown, W. Va.; Westminster, Md., Williamsport, Md., and Waugh Chapel, Baltimore. Our dear brother had just entered upon the work of the year when he was suddenly prostrated with bilious malaria, which closed his earthly career. He was greatly beloved by all who knew him as a Christian gentleman, a faithful and fearless expounder of the Gospel, eminently successful in winning souls to Christ and in the administration of the pastoral office

Wyoming Conference.

Joseph T. Burrall was born in Cornwall, England, March 21, 1849, and died in Scranton, Pa., Aug. 22, 1887. In 1873 Brother Burrall was admitted on trial in the Wyoming Conference and appointed to the Lehman Circuit. From this time on for ten successive years, with the exception of one year in Europe for his health, he served the following charges: Mountain Top, Union, Oregon, Bethany, and Tioga. As a man Brother Burrall was noted for great simplicity of character. If he had ambition it was to excel in those solid virtues which make the noblest manhood. As a Christian he exemplified the beauty of holiness, and especially amid the severe ordeal of his last afflictions the transfiguration glory seemed to cover him. To be like Christ and to walk with him were his holiest aspirations. As a pastor he was faithful, visiting from house to house, and gathering in the lost by the fervency of his private appeals. As a preacher he excelled in the clearness of his thought and the beauty of his diction. His sermons were models of strength and their delivering was with unction and power. He said to the writer a few weeks before the end, "I never expect to do full work again, but I should like to be able to help the brethren a little in their work." Among his last utterances to his pastor was, "Behold the lamb of God that taketh away the sins of the world," and not long afterward "he was not, for God took him." He leaves a wife and four bright and interesting children to the tender sympathy and care of the Church.

R. C. Kenyon was born in Browne County, N. Y., Aug. 13, 1831, and died at Evans, Colorado, Feb. 11, 1888, being nearly fifty-seven years of age. He was converted when about eighteen years old. He joined the Oneida Conference in the year 1854, during effective work for some nine or ten years, when by reason of ill health he was compelled to take a superannuated relation. At the General Conference of 1868, in the adjustment of Conference boundaries and the consequent fixing of the Conference membership of the superannuates living outside the "old Oneida," Brother Kenyon became a member of the Wyoming Conference. During these years of his residence in the West, he served much of the time as supply on charges requiring light work and the small amount received for support has been supplemented by an annual contribution from the Conference Claimants' funds of his Conference. Brother Kenyon was a good man indeed. He was an earnest, conscientious, and consistent minister of the Lord Jesus.

William Graves Queal was born in Worcester, Otsego County, N. Y., Dec. 14, 1822, and fell asleep in Jesus, Feb. 26, 1888, in Pueblo, Colorado, aged sixty-five years. He early felt called to preach the Gospel, and in the year 1846 was received in the old Oneida Conference. During a ministry of more than forty years he served eighteen different charges. He returned to three of these for a second term: namely, Bainbridge, Sherburne, and Milford. In the spring of 1885 he took a supernumerary relation to the Conference and went to live at Bethlehem, Pa. In 1886 he moved to Norwich, where he was residing at the time of his death. Upon the different charges where he labored his memory is as ointment poured forth. On July 3, 1850, he was united in marriage to Miss Lorinda L. Booth of Bainbridge, N. Y. His religious experience was a rare one. It could be said of him as of Barnabas that he was a "good man and full of the Holy Ghost and of faith."

His heart was singularly tender. His gentle sympathetic nature endeared him to all who knew him. In all his business matters he was honest and true. His word was as good as his bond. His life was a remarkably pure one. He came to the grave without spot or stain upon his fair name or character. While he was modest and unassuming, yet he never shrank from duty nor did he lack the courage of his convictions. He possessed a most excellent judgment. Hence his counsel was often sought. His strength of purpose, his purity of life, and his maturity of judgment distinguished him as a rare man in the Church of Christ. It is not surprising that he was honored by his brethren with an election in 1872 as a delegate, and in 1880 as a reserve delegate to the General Conference. Perhaps he never appeared to better advantage than on the Conference floor. His keen perception enabled him to readily see the point in every discussion and to easily find a way out of every difficulty. He was a student, as his sermons, essays, and other writings show. Brother Queal was a Methodist. He thoroughly understood, and most heartily accepted, the doctrine and polity of the Methodist Episcopal Church. He believed in it and labored for its promotion. His death came suddenly and unexpected. He was taken ill in the cars on his way home from California and stopped off at Pueblo, Colorado, on Friday night, and died Sunday morning. His last word was "hallelujah."

Saint Louis Conference.

Charles Elmore Evans was born in Westchester, Ohio, June 22, 1855. While living at Frankfort, in the eleventh year of his age, he was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church. He graduated from the Garrett Biblical Institute in 1883. Immediately he entered the Saint Louis Conference and was appointed to Greenfield Circuit. In 1884 he was sent to Mannville, and in 1886 to Nashville. In March, 1887, he was appointed to Hume and Foster. He entered upon his work promptly and with much hope and promise of success. Early in the Conference year his health became seriously affected, and yet he tenaciously continued his work. During the warm season he sought a change and relief at Conley Springs, not very distant from his field of labor. Here he apparently improved, but on July 29, from an unexpected hemorrhage of the lung, he died in peace. His passion to save souls in preaching Christ was strong in death. In his last moments he pleaded with a young man who happened to be present to become a Christian, and then waited intently until both consent and promise were fully given. Brother Evans was a man of good education, of decided integrity, of great sincerity, intense devotion, careful in conversation, faultless in life, and faithful in all things.

David Kivett was born in Westfield, Ind., Jan. 20, 1860, and died in Austin, Texas, Feb. 29, 1888. In 1872 he joined the Methodist Episcopal Church in Danville, Ind., was licensed to preach in 1880, and in 1881 he was appointed junior preacher on the Antioch Charge by the presiding elder. At the close of the Conference year, in the spring of 1882, he made application and was received on trial in the North Indiana Conference and was appointed to South Whitney, which charge he served two years. While on this work he married Miss Lucinda Duffy, May 15, 1883. He was received into full connection in 1884, ordained deacon, and appointed to Silver Lake. During the following winter his health declined, pulmonary symptoms becoming manifest. At the Conference of 1885 he desired a transfer to a milder climate which was given him by Bishop Walden to the Saint Louis Conference, and he was stationed at Pleasant Hill. He was serving this charge for the third year with great acceptability when his lung difficulties became alarming and he gave up his charge and went to the southern coast in hope of relief and restoration. He rallied for a time and was hopeful of physical restoration. As hope grew, he determined to accept a charge in Austin, Texas, which had been offered him by the presiding elder of the district. He was to have taken charge on March 1, but he was so eager to preach that, contrary to the advice of the presiding elder, he preached twice to delighted audiences on the last Sabbath of February. They were his last sermons. Complete prostration resulted on Monday evening and Wednesday he passed away.

Lexington Conference.

Marshall William Taylor was born in Lexington, Ky., July 1, 1847. His parents had both been slaves, but subsequent to his birth were set free. His desire for letters was inherited from his mother, who was a woman of strong intellectual powers, though uncultured. He was converted in childhood and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1863; in 1869 he was licensed to preach. He married Miss Kate Heston, with whom he lived devotedly and happily to the last. He spent one year in missionary work in Arkansas, and in 1872 entered the Lexington Conference. He was our lay representative to the General Conference of 1872. He was Annual Conference Secretary for five consecutive years. He received appointments and served as pastor the following charges: Litchfield Circuit, Ky.; Coke Chapel Circuit, Louisville, Ky.; Coke Capel, Indianapolis, Ind.; Union Methodist Episcopal Church, Cincinnati, O. In the interval of the Conference sessions of 1878-79, he was appointed presiding elder of the Ohio District in which capacity he served four years and seven months, and was re-appointed presiding elder of the Louisville District in 1883. Central Tennessee College, Nashville, Tenn., honored him in 1877 by conferring on him the degree of D.D. He was senior ministerial delegate to the General Conference of 1884, at which session he was elected editor of the South-western Christian Advocate, which honorable position he held until summoned up higher to a greater sphere of usefulness. Brother Taylor was an eloquent preacher, perfectly loyal to the Church of his choice, and an able vindicator of her doctrine. He was a great sufferer with a fibrous growth in the throat, which was the cause of his death. He was a zealous, earnest Christian, and never at any time during his affliction did he doubt his acceptance with the Lord. It is reported of him that when the final hour came he was sitting in a chair, not able to speak; he arose and stood erect, raising his hand, and pointing it heavenward, in which attitude he remained for a few moments and then resumed his chair, and fell asleep in Jesus. He died away from his family in Louisville, Ky., Sunday, Sept. 11, 1887.

Alexander Adams was born in 1861 in the State of Kentucky, and died March 6, 1888, at Orangeburg, Ky., his last appointment. Trusting fully in the Lord he fell asleep in Jesus. He entered the Lexington Conference in 1883, and was ordained deacon in 1885, and in 1887 was ordained elder. He served faithfully the following charges: Bewleyville, Princeton, Leithfield, and Orangeburg, all in Kentucky. He was faithful to his ministerial calling to the very last.

Maine Conference.

Charles Willard Morse was born in Sutton, Mass., Dec. 27, 1805, and died in Evanston, Ill., March 30, 1888. In early life he was converted and joined the Congregational Church. Feeling that he was called of God to the Christian ministry, he commenced his preparation for the work, intending to take a full collegiate and theological course of study. Interrupted in his studies by feeble health, he was compelled to abandon his chosen profession. He came to Maine in 1829 and entered the Maine Wesleyan Seminary to review his classical studies, intending to pursue a theological course at Bangor Seminary. While at Kent's Hill he attended a campmeeting and received a wonderful baptism of full salvation, which shaped his whole future life. Being in sympathy with Methodist doctrines and experience, he was drawn toward the Methodist ministry. In 1830 he joined the Maine Conference on probation, and was appointed to Durham Circuit. His subsequent appointments were: Hollis, Fryeburg, Rumford, Wilton, Mercer, Kent's Hill, Bath, Augusta, Winthrop, Portland, Elm Street, Brunswick, Bowdoinham, Hallowell, Biddeford, South Berwick, Richmond, Gardiner, Bethel, and Brunswick again. On account of feeble health, in 1836 he took a supernumerary relation, but he continued in the pastoral charge at Wilton. He held this relation also for two years at Brunswick. In 1849 he was compelled to take a superannuated relation. His health subsequently improving, he resumed effective work and labored till 1875, when he again received a superannuated relation, which he retained till his death. He always received his appointments as from the Lord, and went cheerfully to his work, regarding it a privilege to labor in the Master's vineyard and saying that the hardest appointments were for him good enough. In 1832 he married Miss Hannah D. Russell, a woman of rare excellence who was a great help in his itinerant work. In 1861 Brother Morse married for his second wife Mrs. Rebecca T. Cobb of Portland. In 1840 he served as secretary of the Conference, and in 1844 was a delegate to the General Conference.

John Allen was born in Farmington, Me., March 7, 1795, and died at East Livermore, Aug. 31, 1887, aged ninety-two years. In 1835 he was ordained deacon, received on trial in Maine Conference, and appointed to Rumford Circuit. He afterward served the following charges. Livermore, Monmouth, Phillips, Solon, Industry, Exeter, Strong, Wilton, Androscoggin Mission, Readfield, Fayette, and New Portland. In 1852 he retired to the local ranks. Two years after he was re-admitted and served for two years as tract agent in the East Maine Conference. His subsequent appointments were Fairfield and New Sharon. Again he located, in 1860; was re-admitted as a supernumerary in 1864, and served as a chaplain in the Christian Commission. In 1876 he was placed on the superannuated list, where he continued till his death. He was chaplain in the legislature of Maine two sessions. He was successful in his work as a minister of the Gospel. As a preacher he was always interesting and original. His recitations of Scripture were strikingly impressive and natural. They seemed like new inspirations, and charmed alike the cultivated and the rude auditors by the wonderful elocution not taught in the schools.

Alvra Hatch, for fifty-one years a member of the Maine Methodist Conference, closed his earthly career in Saco, Me., Tuesday morning, Sept. 6, 1887, aged seventy-seven years. He was born in Alfred, July 4, 1810. After his conversion he availed himself of the advantages of the Maine Wesleyan Seminary at Kent's Hill, feeling the call of God upon him for the Christian ministry. In 1833 he was received on trial in the Maine Conference, receiving the deacon's orders at the hands of Bishop Hedding in 1838, and was ordained elder in 1840 by Bishop Soule. Brother Hatch did effective service as pastor for about fifty years, serving faithfully and acceptably charges extending over a large portion of the states. His appointments were as follows: Calais, Columbia, Lubec, Machias, Aroostook, Howland, Monroe, West Prospect, Dixmont, Camden, Eliot, York, Wilton, Livermore, Norway, Lovell, South Paris, Durham, Richmond, Fayette, Solon, Fairfield, Kittery, Scarborough, Fryeburg, South Paris, again; Rumford, North Auburn, Naples, West Newfield, superannuated; Bowery Beach, Oak Ridge, and Biddeford. At the Conference held at Bridgton in 1886 he was advanced to the ranks of superannuates on account of failing health. He soon secured for himself and family a home in the city of Saco, where he spent the last year of his life, highly respected and greatly beloved by all who knew him. Brother Hatch was a faithful, efficient minister, and did a vast amount of service during his extended ministry. He was a very positive man; he had strong convictions on all doctrinal and moral subjects, and was fearless in his utterances. He was an ardent abolitionist, and a fearless advocate of temperance in all its phases. His end was peace. On Aug. 7, 1838, Brother Hatch was married, in Searsmont, to Miss Abigail Marriner.

Nathan Andrews was born in Paris, Me., July 30, 1813, and died in Paris, Jan. 23, 1888. At the age of twenty years he was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church. In April, 1834, he married Miss Nancy Cummings. In 1856 he joined the Maine Conference on probation and was stationed at Rumford. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Scott at the Conference held at Farmington in April, 1858. At the Conference held in Gorham in 1860 he was ordained elder by Bishop Baker. His appointments were the following: Rumford, Harpswell, Livermore, Sidney, Newry, West Baldwin, Lovell, Leeds, Sidney, again; Hanover, New Vineyard, Gilead, Naples, West Newfield, and Harpswell. Brother Andrews was an earnest, conscientious Christian; affectionate and loving in his family; courteous and affable in his intercourse with others; true and constant in his friendships; deeply pious in his Christian life. To three of his appointments he was returned for the second term of service. He enjoyed blessed revival seasons at Rumford, Sidney, North Augusta, Harpswell, and on other charges. At Leeds, his last Conference appointment, his health failed, and at the next Conference, in 1877, he superannuated. This relation to the Conference he held till his death.

Baltimore Conference.

Tillottson A. Morgan in the spring of 1836 was a young man of twenty, and was received on trial in the Baltimore Conference. His death occurred April 25, 1887. Thus his ministry embraced a little upward of half a century. For nearly the whole of this time he wrought in the effective ranks, giving such proof of his ministry as showed him to be a workman that needed not to be ashamed. His first appointment was Westmoreland. The other successive links in the chain of his Conference assignments were Frederick Circuit, Lexington, Lewisburg Circuit; Foundry and Asbury, in Washington, D. C.; Covington, East Rockingham, Patapsco, City Station in Baltimore, West River, Severn, Summerfield, Rockville, South Baltimore, Summerfield, Severn, Baltimore Circuit, Hereford; Jefferson Street, Baltimore; Ellicott City, Wesley Chapel, Annapolis; Twelfth Street, Washington, D. C.; Rockville, Mount Washington. In the prominent feature of his ministerial function—the calling sinners to repentance and the leading them to Christ—Brother Morgan achieved remarkable success. From the beginning to the close of his ministry a consuming zeal for the salvation of men characterized him. A pastoral term with him that had not been marked with special displays of the awakening and saving energies of the Holy Spirit would have been regarded by him as a comparative failure. Whatever the character of the reports upon other matters with which he came to Conference from the field of his labors, the item in them in which he was most interested told of the battles in which the slain of the Lord had been many—the captives taken for Christ a goodly multitude. In stating the grounds of his pre-eminent success in winning souls for the Saviour, one of his life-long and intimate friends, a most honored member of this body—Brother C. A. Reid—thus writes: "His whole moral nature was so permeated with the truths of the Gospel that it was to him as an immediate revelation from God. He never stopped to argue about its truths or precepts. To him it was always, 'Thus saith the Lord,' and men must believe, accept, and be saved, or, failing to believe, must perish. He was desperately in earnest in all his presentations of the truth; always pressing his hearers to present acceptance. He was therefore marvelously honored in the work of bringing souls to Jesus. In the great day of eternity many hundreds will rise up to call him blessed, and to be stars in the crown of his rejoicing forever." The feature in Brother Morgan's character and life which, to the brethren who knew him well, will rise most conspicuously to thought as they recall him was his goodness. To observe him in public and in private, in his distinctive work as a minister and in the home and social sphere, was to "mark the perfect man" and to "behold the upright." Brother Morgan's last appointment was Mount Washington. Here his health became a matter of solicitude to his family and to himself. It was soon apparent that his active ministry must end with this charge. At the close of his second year with this devoted people he was compelled to retire from the effective ranks, but he was returned to them as supernumerary. It was his happy lot, under these circumstances, to have his son appointed preacher in charge of the same station.

J. S. M. Haslup was born in Baltimore Dec. 26, 1848. In the spring of 1869 he entered Baltimore Conference, and, passing brilliantly through the post-graduate course, he was ordained deacon by Bishop Janes in 1871, and two years later was elevated to the office of elder by Bishop Foster. Brother Haslup inherited a very frail constitution, and was never robust, yet for quite a time he was seldom disabled. Indeed, in the first fourteen years of his ministry he missed but one Sunday's labor on account of ill health. In the spring of 1883 he was sent to Harper's Ferry, a hard field for one no stronger than he, but the year he spent there was one of rich spiritual blessing. Extra toil wrought its result upon his frail physique, and in the spring of 1884, when he was appointed to Appold, Baltimore, he entered upon his pastorate in failing health. The people of the charge received him kindly; they appreciated his worth, and after a little while granted him two months' vacation. He returned to them in an improved condition, and entered upon his work with delight, but after a few months his old pulmonary trouble, aggravated by the bitter November winds, returned, and he was never again well. Faithful and loving as husband and father, he committed wife and three little children to God's care and protection. The day before his death he said, "I am almost too weak and stupid even to pray. I can only look up and say, 'Lord, I love thee; Lord, I trust thee.'" The end came quietly. In the early morning of May 20, as the honey-bees delved in the dewy clover-blossoms, the tired body was at rest, and the pure spirit was with the Lord. It is not necessary to utter another word. His character is known by what is revealed here. He was a clear, scholarly expounder of God's truth. He traveled the hardest fields in the Conference almost without exception. He sanctified his toil by uncomplaining zeal and faith. He fell at the early age of thirty-nine years.

Armenius Summerfield Hank, born in Harrisonburg, Va., July 20, 1831. He graduated at Dickinson College with the class of 1850, was authorized to exercise his gifts as a local preacher, Strawbridge Station, Nov. 27, 1851; admitted to the Baltimore Conference at Cumberland, 1852; ordained deacon, 1854, in the Light Street Church, Baltimore, by Bishop Ames; ordained elder, 1856, in the Light Street Church, by Bishop Janes. He was a teacher. Eleven years were given to this work. In his twenty-fifth year he was elected Principal of the Cassville Seminary, Pa., a first-class school for young men. Two years later he became Principal of the Morgantown Female Seminary. In 1858 he married a pupil of the Wesleyan Female Institute, Staunton, Va., Miss Mary E. Vandiver. In the fall of 1864 Brother Hank became an instructor in a large boarding-school conducted at Catonsville, Md. His work in the pastorate covered a period of twenty years, as follows: Patapsco, West Harford, South Branch, Rockingham, Woodville, Patapsco again, South River, North Baltimore, Strawbridge, Hagerstown, Exeter, Govanstown, and Martinsburg. In May, 1871, by the death of Rev. S. V. Blake, the pastorate of North Baltimore became vacant, and Brother Hank consented to assume the duties of the position. His term extended through nearly full three years, during which time Appold Chapel was built. Dr. J. H. Dashiell succeeded him at Hagerstown, with this testimony: "His standing was high, in fidelity, goodness, and prudence. He left a beautiful impression of devotion to his work. No family is more cherished than his by the people of Hagerstown of all denominations." He excelled as a pastor. The Rev Job A. Price bears witness "that he was specially attentive to the sick and poor. His purse, as well as his lips, was open to bless those in need. His property, as well as his person, was consecrated to the Lord." As a preacher he was clear, practical, unctuous. He gave the marrow of Gospel truth, writing out carefully his entire sermon. His treatment of a subject was textual, and so thoroughly did he work the text that no other would fit the sermon. He was taken suddenly ill, Monday afternoon, Aug. 16, 1886, with an attack of vertigo, brought on by nervous exhaustion. In the morning he had selected a text for the following Sabbath: "The lot is cast into the lap, but the whole disposing thereof is of the Lord." The text was the sermon; Brother Hank was its illustrative quantity. For nine months and three weeks there were appointed unto him days of feebleness and "wearisome nights." At times he improved only to suffer a more violent relapse. These attacks of vertigo would render him momentarily unconscious. The end came suddenly. Preparations were being made to take him to Clifton Springs, Monday, June 6, 1887. At 7 A. M. he breakfasted as usual; at 10.30 A. M., suddenly and sweetly, he fell asleep in Jesus.

Charles McElfresh was born in the vicinity of Hyattstown, Frederick Co., Md., in 1819. In 1843 he began his life-work, traveling that year under the presiding-elder, and, at the age of twenty-four, he was in 1844 admitted on trial in the Baltimore Conference. Nine years thereafter, having fully demonstrated his ability to maintain his chosen calling acceptably and well, he was married to Miss Mary L. Turner, a faithful helpmeet. He continued in the work, serving his pastorates with zeal and acceptability until 1858, when his health failed him, and he retired to his old home, on the paternal farm, and, engaging in the simple employments of rural life, spent thus the ensuing eight years. Robust health returned, and he exchanged the plow for his loved employment, and in 1865 re-entered the active ministry, never more to relinquish it until he should yield his spirit to the God who gave it. As to his ministerial qualifications his brothers of maturer years know they were never discounted. He was every-where recognized as a superior sermonizer, rightly dividing the word of truth, and his discourses were fragrant with the sweet perfume of personal holiness. These qualifications, coupled with his painstaking and systematic pastoral work, and his rare good judgment, seemed to separate him for the arduous and peculiar work of the Seaman's Union Bethel, and fourteen years ago he was unanimously elected to the post of chaplain there, and was so appointed, becoming thus the successor of the saintly Francis M'Cartney, and of that fiery old warrior Henry Slicer. These last fourteen years were very busy, very successful ones. In the chaplaincy his duty called him aboard the vessels lying in the harbor, and to the bedside of poor Jack in the Marine Hospital. And it was here that his genial social spirit, his ready tact, made him a cosmopolitan. He could deftly preach Jesus to the Lutheran from Norway or Bremen, and to the Roman Catholic from Sardinia or Italy, without exciting the prejudice of either. And many were the shining trophies our brother won in this lowly and difficult service. It was at Waverly, July 19, 1887, under the cool shade of the virgin forest trees, that kindly tempered the fervent heat of our torrid July, that our brother exchanged the cross for the crown.

James Brads died on the morning of Dec. 18, 1887. The record of Brother Brads's active labors in the itineracy covers a period of nearly forty years. That record, it is true, reveals the circumstance of two brief seasons in which the condition of his health compelled obedience to the command of Christ to "rest awhile." But as soon as his recovery was sufficiently assured to warrant his resumption of effective work, he was back again in the old relation. In 1871, however, his final retirement from the pastorate was made imperative, and he stepped aside from the effective ranks to take his place with those revered members of the Conference who, having spent their strength in the active work of the ministry, must needs leave it to younger hands while they cheer on the workers, and "pray for the peace of Jerusalem." His pulpit work, for which he always made most careful preparation, was uniformly acceptable and profitable. His manner, too, was invariably earnest and devout, never marked by the faintest approach to trifling with either subject or hearers. While the logical and practical were elements that may be said to have chiefly distinguished his discourses, they were not without passages that showed his mind to have been, to a good degree, poetic and imaginative. Some of his discourses were of an unusually high order, and had his manner been equal to his thought he would have ranked among the best preachers of the Conference. That he was appointed to some of the more prominent stations—such as York and Danville—in the days when stations were not as common as now may be held as conclusive evidence of pulpit ability, as well as of other qualifications of a successful ministry. But it was in the capacity of a teacher and pastor that he made himself peculiarly felt in the fields of his ministerial toil. To build up believers in the faith, "warning every man, and teaching every man in all wisdom, that he might present every man perfect in Christ Jesus," was a function of his work to which he gave particular and diligent heed, and for which he displayed special aptitude. In his intercourse with the people, to whom, in their homes, he carried the word of life, counseling, exhorting, comforting, as the exigencies of the cases demanded, his power to strengthen and cheer made him greatly esteemed and loved. At the Conference session in March Brother Brads was present. It was then the symptoms of the disease that had long been preying upon him, and of which he died, began to be of an alarming nature. The summer succeeding he spent at Ocean Grove, hoping to find in its sea-air some relief. The "outward man," however, continued to weaken, though the "inward" was wondrously "renewed." Again and again, at the meetings for the relation of Christian experience, he would tell of such "fellowship with the Father and with his Son" as produced a profound impression upon the minds of all who heard him. He was daily illustrating the apostolic paradox—"as dying, and, behold, we live." From Ocean Grove he went to reside with a daughter in Orange, N. J. It was evident, now, that the time of his departure was at hand. The ripening for heaven here proceeded rapidly. He was so transparent in the outshining of the grace that was in him that in the few months of his residence in Orange he won the unaffected love and esteem of all who met him. His last hours were wonderful for clearness of intellect and spiritual illumination. While battling with death, suffering without a sigh of complaint, parting tenderly with his dear ones, whom he loved to the end, he passed to his reward on high. It is a privilege to know such a man, so gentle, so patient, so serene, and yet so heroic. It is an honor to stand in the presence of one dying whose death is precious in the sight of the Lord.

New England Conference.

Lorenzo R. Thayer was born in Winchester, N. H., Dec. 2, 1814. He joined the New England Conference the year of his graduation, 1841, and commenced his pastoral work in Millbury. He preached in succession in the charges of Grafton, Holliston, Southbridge, Ipswich, Common St., Lynn; Chicopee, Meridian St., East Boston; Malden, Bromfield St., Boston; Worthen St., Lowell; Central Church, Lowell; Cambridgeport, and East Boston. He was presiding elder of Boston District for two terms, at different periods, and also of Springfield and Lynn Districts. He was stationed for a third term in Meridian St., East Boston, and finally in Newtonville, where he made for himself and family a pleasant, permanent home. He was honored from 1857 to 1869 with a membership in the Board of Overseers of Harvard College, and his excellent judgment was recognized by his associates. His own alma mater worthily bestowed upon him the degree of Doctor in Sacred Science in 1863, and he was thrice honored by his brethren with their voluntary suffrages sending him to sessions of the General Conference. No man of a clearer head, a cooler judgment, one truer to his convictions or braver in their utterances, more loyal to the Church of his choice—her doctrines and her Discipline—sat in these great councils of the denomination. In the prime of his ministry his success in our largest charges, like Common St., Lynn, Bromfield Street, Meridian St., Malden, and Cambridgeport, was of a high order. He was never a sensational preacher; his address was not his attraction, but his thoughts were fresh, clear, and rich. He was devout and earnest in the presentation of truth. He made rare references to his own religious experience, but his life bore witness to the sincerity and depth of his piety. Almost to the very last hours of his life he showed little abatement of physical or mental vigor. His presence even now seems with us while we speak of him, so lately was he in our midst, and leading our thoughts with his counsels. How vividly his loving and discriminating portraiture of our venerable and lamented Dr. Jefferson Hascall, delivered in the Boston Preachers' Meeting, comes to our minds now that we have to recover the memories of his own life rather than be able to enjoy his presence! Perhaps if he could have chosen the mode of his departure he would have asked for the very form in which it was vouchsafed. Neither himself nor his family had any intimation of the approaching event. The chariot of Israel, with the heavenly horsemen, descended to his side as he sat in his home. It was but a step to enter in; and "he was not, for God took him."

Willard Smith was born in Walpole, Mass., Dec. 24, 1813, and died at his residence in Newtonville, Jan. 8, 1888. He joined the New England Conference in 1839, and was first stationed at Lunenburg. He entered upon the work with great earnestness. In fact, in his early ministry he went so far beyond his strength that he suffered from ill health all his after life. His Conference studies, pulpit preparation, and pastoral work were a great tax on his strength. In addition to these his soul was not satisfied unless there was a large revival in each of his appointments. He did not spare himself in the least, and often grieved as if his heart would break because he could not do more for his Master. From Lunenburg he went to Leominster; then to Southbridge and Charlton, Hubbardston, Templeton and South Royalston, Saxonville, Newburyport, Marblehead, Medford, Neponset, Millbury, Newburyport, Purchase Street. From overwork his brain had been giving him a great deal of trouble, so that he was obliged to give up the active ministry. This was the disappointment of his life. So great was it, though he afterward prospered in business, he longed to be in the pulpit preaching the Lord Jesus. The last sixteen years of his life were passed at Newtonville, where he was very active in the Methodist Church. The pastors during that period found in him a ready helper, and one always ready to lighten the minister's labors. Brother Smith's ministry was blessed with revivals and prosperity. His Christian life has been a blessing to those who knew him best. In his testimonies the last six months of his life he frequently expressed his desire to go home. He was so tired and weak in body that his last sickness, of only a week, proved the summons he was expecting to call him "home at last."

Kansas Conference.

P. P. Ingalls was born at Westerville, Ohio, Feb. 1, 1823, and died at White City, Kan., May 17, 1887. He received his education at Otterbein University in his native place, and began to preach when but eighteen years of age. In 1855 he was transferred from the Ohio Conference to the Iowa Conference, and held a number of important charges there until the breaking out of the war, in which he participated as chaplain of the Third Iowa Cavalry. From 1866 to 1868 he was pastor of Fifth Street Methodist Episcopal Church, Des Moines; then three years at Toledo, Ohio, three years at Fifth Street, Des Moines, three years at Kansas City, Mo., three years at Iowa City. In 1880 he withdrew from the regular work, and published a paper in Des Moines, doing occasional ministerial work. In 1883 he supplied for a while in the Minnesota Conference, and in 1884 was appointed to Manhattan, Kansas. During the year he was stricken with paralysis, and was unable to resume pastoral work until 1887, when he was appointed to White City. On May 17 a second stroke of paralysis ended his life. Brother Ingalls was noted for the strength of his sermons, for the zeal of his opinions, for his breadth of thought, and for his warmth of heart. He filled some of the best charges in the gift of the Church. His sudden death found him ready.

A. H. Walter was born at Wooster, Ohio, Aug. 4. 1832, and died at Washington, Kan., Sept. 1, 1887. He preached for a short time in North Ohio Conference, and removed to Wisconsin in 1850. His work in Wisconsin Conference was as follows: Lancaster, Potosi, Schullsburg, Lancaster a second term, Prairie du Chien District, Madison District. During his first term at Lancaster he married Elizabeth Balmy of that place. In 1863 he accepted a commission as chaplain of the Twentieth Wisconsin Infantry, with which he served until the close of the war. In this service he bore himself as a true minister and a brave man, and was so esteemed by his comrades. His next appointment was Green Bay; then he was secretary of the Seaman's Friend Society four years; he went to Watertown charge in 1872. On account of the failing health of his wife, he removed to Kansas during the year, and supplied Circleville till Conference, when he was appointed to Fort Scott. His next appointment was Emporia, but during the year Bishop Simpson placed him in charge of Wichita District. At the end of three years he was appointed to Baldwin City, and in 1872 to Washington. In 1884 he took a supernumerary relation. A fatal disease had marked him for its victim. On May 25, 1885, he preached the memorial sermon. As the pastor, J. H. Green, was assisting him from the carriage to the home of his daughter he said: "My work is over. I have preached my last sermon." His prediction was verified. There followed more than two years of great pain and feebleness, and then, having "served well his day and generation, he fell asleep." Brother Walter was a man greatly beloved, an honor to the Church, a Christian gentleman, a true man. As a student he was careful and scholarly, as a minister he was faithful and prudent in administration, earnest and effective in his pulpit efforts. He aimed to do substantial work rather than to secure temporary applause.

Central Pennsylvania Conference.

Joseph A. Ross was born at McVeytown, Mifflin County, Pa., July 4, 1816. He joined the Baltimore Conference at the session held in Baltimore City, March 13, 1839, and was stationed as follows: Clearfield, Danville Circuit, Luzerne, Berwick, Luzerne again, Lycoming, Jersey Shore Circuit, Luzerne again, Calvert, North Baltimore, Sunbury, Bloomsburg, Northumberland, Lewiston, York, Carlisle, Chaplain U. S. Army, York Springs, Hanover and New Oxford, Carlisle Circuit, New Cumberland, Schellsburg, Tuscarora, Port Royal, Petersburg, Freedom, Concord, Lycoming, superannuated, Freedom supernumerary. In 1844 he was united in marriage with Miss Mary Harvey. Though on the roll of the supernumeraries, Brother Ross did not cease from his labors. Though by no means in vigorous health, he had on the Sabbath before his death traveled some twenty miles and preached three times, and during the same week drove over the country, visiting the sick, and attended one funeral. He was unusually bright and cheerful for several days prior to his death, profuse in his affections and attentions to all. On Sunday, February 5, his last on earth, he seemed in his usual health. About six o'clock on the evening of that day, he went to his room, changed all his clothing, wrote a note, addressed it to W. J. Short, and placed it on a stand within reach of his bed. In this note he stated that he felt very unwell, was experiencing a swelling about the heart and felt that he would die; requesting him not to say any thing to his wife, as in her delicate condition he desired not to alarm her; that if not better on the following day, his son, N. Sargent Ross, should be sent for. In about an hour after he had retired he called his wife and requested her to have their daughter write for Sargent, but not to alarm him. In a few minutes he was in a gentle sleep, breathing softly and regularly; his wife, whose anxiety had been aroused by his last request, watching by his side until about twelve o'clock, when a slight interruption in his breathing arrested her attention; but he looked so pleasant and peaceful she concluded not to disturb him. She then fell into a light sleep until about two o'clock, Monday morning, February 6, when touching his hand she found it icy cold. He was dead. Not a muscle had changed since she saw him last in sleep; no indication of the slightest struggle visible; his right hand folded on his breast, clasping a handkerchief; a smile on his face; his eyes gently closed. Brother Ross's power of persuasion was great. His sermons were not distinguished so much for depth of thought, or strength of reasoning, as for their pungency and power as a proclamation of gospel truth. There was a child-like simplicity in his spirit, with a vein of innocent mirthfulness, that made most agreeable his companionship.

William McKean Meminger died Jan. 5, 1888. As a man he was quiet, modest, and extremely retiring. Devout in manner, those who knew him least thought him austere. Those who knew him well always recognized sweetness of spirit and gentle cheerfulness as predominant traits. High-toned in his manhood, true manliness characterized all his intercourse with others. Gentlemanly and courteous, his was a life of unsullied honor and honorable dealings with his fellow-men. His soul was charity itself. He was trusting, patient, forbearing. A brother's work and reputation were dear to him. He shrank from self-assertion. He stepped between no other man and desired good. As a minister of Christ, his life was a perfect consecration. The perfect love that casteth out all fear was long known and realized by him. This best equipment of the minister of the Church was his. He was full of faith and the Holy Spirit. Possessing rare mental endowments, a great reader, a close student, and a thorough theologian, his preaching was direct and logical. Brother Meminger was born in Liberty Valley, Perry County, Pa., March 16, 1822. When sixteen years of age he was brought into the consciousness of his adoption into the family of God. In 1845 he was recommended for admission on trial to the Baltimore Annual Conference and was duly received therein. He was ordained a deacon by Bishop Hamlin, March 14, 1847, and an elder by Bishop Morris, March 11, 1849. On May 29, 1849, he was married to Miss Rebecca Watts, a daughter of the Rev. James Watts, of the Baltimore Conference. During his ministry, first in the Baltimore Conference, then in the East Baltimore, and last in the Central Pennsylvania, Brother Meminger was assigned to charges in Virginia, Maryland, and Pennsylvania. The records of these different conferences give the following order of his appointments: Shippensburg, Newport, York Springs, Carlisle Circuit, Monroe, Lewisburg Circuit, Christiansburg, Shirleysburg, Woodbury, Frostburg, Middletown, Liberty, Westminster, West Harford, Espy and Light Street, Williamsburg, Milesburg, Warrior's Mark, Logan Valley, Manor Hill, Cassville, and Newton Hamilton. At the Conference of 1885 he asked and received a supernumerary relation, and soon removed to Tyrone, where he resided until called to the place prepared for him by his Lord.

Henry G. Dill was born in Gettysburg, July 18, 1808, and died in Lewisburg, May 30, 1887. Brother Dill not only lived long but lived well. He was no idler. He was always the diligent man. Active in youth and busy in old age, working with head and hands and heart. Converted at the age of nineteen, he was thenceforth true in conduct and spirit to his profession. When called of God to the work of the ministry he promptly responded, and was ever after the faithful embassador of the Lord Jesus. He was received on trial in the old Baltimore Conference in 1833, was ordained deacon in 1835 by Bishop Emory, and elder in 1837 by Bishop Waugh. From 1833 to 1871 Brother Dill was appointed to the following charges: Prince George, Harford, Great Falls, Sunbury, Lewistown Circuit, Frederick Circuit, Williamsburg, Huntingdon, Bellefonte, Milton Circuit, Williamsport, Berwick, Frederick Circuit again, Liberty, Berwick again, Gettysburg, Muncy, Espy and Light Street, Northumberland, White Haven, and Catawissa. After having been in the active work for thirty-eight years, in 1871 he was superannuated, and sustained that relation to the close of his devoted and useful life. During the past seventeen years he has been a resident of Lewisburg, honored by the community and loved by all who knew him. In 1829 Brother Dill was united in marriage with Miss Sarah A. Gilbert of Gettysburg, who proved a most worthy helpmeet in all his itinerant life. Brother Dill was emphatically a good man and a good preacher; a man full of faith and of the Holy Ghost. Souls were converted under his ministry and charges grew stronger under his administration. He was an aggressive man, methodical in habit, practical in preaching, pure in life, and exceedingly conscientious in act. Sometimes the work was hard. The drafts on his self-denial severe; but he kept right on through sunshine and storm, until the infirmities of advanced age rendered it impossible for him to do the full work of a traveling Methodist preacher, and then, when obliged to join the ranks of the retired ones, he continued to preach and care for souls with remarkable tenacity and success. Brother Dill gave good heed to the apostolic injunction "study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth." As a preacher he was plain, logical, and practical. His message, "the truth as it is in Jesus." In dress and movement, in face and form, he was winning. His voice was sweet, clear, strong, enduring; suited alike for the vast assemblage of the old time camp ground, and the little company of the "church in the house." He was a faithful pastor, and "watched for souls as one who must give account." Everywhere the consistent Christian, and always the complete gentleman.

Frederick E. Crever was born in Carlisle, Pa., April 9, 1824, and died near Shrewsbury, York County, on Wednesday, Aug. 17, 1887, in the sixty-fourth year of his age. He entered the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1853, and continued in the sacred office for thirty-four years. Here his character, as a man of God and as a man of thought, was most fully revealed. It was no ordinary privilege to sit under his ministry. There were times when Frederick Crever was seraphic; when his soul was bathed in unearthly light; when he seemed more a child of heaven than of earth; when images of grace and beauty leaped into his thought and pressed into expression. He was not a conspicuous figure on the Conference floor. Not realizing in himself any aptitude for debate, he resigned this duty to others. His fields of labor were such as came to him in the unsolicited exercise of the appointing power. They were not always such as could have been desired; but there was no one of them that was not abundantly blest by his labor and his life. His memory is cherished by thousands as a sacred treasure. For about ten years prior to his death he was compelled to desist from the regular active work of the ministry. This was largely caused by inherited heart trouble, with which he had long been afflicted. For a number of years he was constrained to view death as imminent. During these years he and his family resided in their own rural home near Shrewsbury. Here, in the cultivation of paternal acres, he toiled, frequently, beyond his strength. He and his family annually attended the camp-meeting at Summit Grove. Here, probably a week before his death, he attended his last religious service. He had been, for some time, subject to a sudden faintness, for which he could not account. On Aug. 17 he was, during the morning, more than usually active. At noon he dined, after which he attempted some needed repairs of the floor of a well. He was accompanied by his son, a lad of some fourteen years, and was at the moment using a saw, when suddenly he paused, partly raised himself from his bent posture, placed his hands together and fell to the earth. Help was immediately at hand, but life was extinct. Absent from the body, he was present with the Lord. Thus, in a moment, disappeared from our ranks one of the purest spirits we have known, leaving to mourn their irreparable loss his most estimable wife and his two surviving children—a daughter and a son.

Thomas Magee Griffith died Dec. 25, 1887, in the thirty-ninth year of his age. He was born in Howard County, Md., April 14, 1849. His origin was thoroughly Methodistic. His father, the Rev. Richard Griffith, for many years a most laborious and useful local preacher, literally stepped out of the pulpit into glory, dying suddenly within a few hours after he had preached his last sermon. His mother was the sister of the Rev. George Israel, for many years a member of the Baltimore Conference. During his first year in Dickinson College and under the presidency of the late Dr. Dashiel, occurred the decisive incident in his life, his conversion to God, a change the radical character of which none could doubt. Many are the testimonies to his high character and standing as a Christian and student. He entered the Central Pennsylvania Conference in 1874, and was appointed as junior preacher to Gettysburg Circuit. On Jan. 26, 1875, he was united in marriage with Miss Belle Myers. In 1875 he was appointed to Cove Circuit, Fulton County, Pa., a hard, unpromising field, to which he went uncomplainingly, laboring unremittingly through the year. His subsequent appointments were as follows: Mercersburg, Liverpool and New Buffalo, York Springs, New Bloomfield, and Cassville. Here the toil and the weariness of earth were exchanged for the repose and blessedness of heaven. Many were the beautiful traits in our brother's character. He was genial as a companion, in conversation intelligent and interesting, kind and hospitable in his home. His was a guileless spirit, unobtrusive, unselfish, the brightness of which no suspicions or jealousies ever sullied or obscured. The pulpit was his throne. His preaching was earnest, argumentative, cogent, possessing characteristics peculiarly attractive to the cultured and thoughtful mind. Neither was it wanting in popular elements. It was not powerless on the masses, but often "in the demonstration of the spirit and of power." He was pre-eminently a preacher.

Louisiana Conference.

Nicholas Burton was born in the year 1829, in the State of Virginia, and came to the State of Louisiana when a young man. He was converted in his youth. Soon after conversion he began to preach, and was ordained deacon in the African Methodist Episcopal Church. Some years later he joined the Methodist Episcopal Church at Lake Providence, and Rev. P. Landry had him appointed pastor of our Church at that place. He received three episcopal appointments; was ordained elder by Bishop Bowman. At the time of death he was a supernumerary. He built St. Peter's Chapel at Lake Providence. He died as he lived, a devout Christian.

Little Rock Conference.

W. S. Lankford was born in Martinsville, Ind., in 1835. He began preaching in 1862 at LaFayette, Ind. His appointments were as follows: LaFayette, Bloomington, Ill.; Indianapolis, Ind.; Detroit, Mich.; Evansville, Ind.; Chicago, Ill; Terre Haute, Ind.; Pittsburg, Pa.; Baltimore, Md., Richmond, Ind.; Rockville, Ind.; Springfield, O.; Covington, Ky.; Cincinnati, O.; Little Rock, Ark.; and Van Buren, Ark. The greater part of his ministry was spent in the African Methodist Episcopal Church, but a few years ago he joined our Church, and at the time of his death was a superannuated member of the Little Rock Conference. He was a very great sufferer for the last year and a half of his life, and died in the full triumph of faith at Port Gibson, Miss., July 7, 1887.

J. D. Johnson was born in Chambers County, Ala., April 24, 1860; was converted at the age of twelve years. He was licensed to preach in 1879; came to Arkansas in the spring of 1882 and entered the Little Rock Conference, at the same time entering as a student in Philander Smith College. He continued his relation to the college to the time of his death, at the same time serving as pastor in the charges adjacent to the city. He was married to Irene F. Lacy, Jan. 19, 1887, and died March 6. He was a young man of very great promise, faithful and earnest in his work. He died well.

J. G. Thompson was born and raised in South Carolina, was converted early in life, and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church. Twenty years of his life were spent in missionary work in Africa. He returned and joined the itinerant ranks of the home field, first in Florida one year, then two or three years in Tennessee, and was finally transferred to the Little Rock Conference in the spring of 1879, serving Wesley Chapel, Little Rock, two years; Van Buren, one year; at the close of which he was granted a superannuate relation. He was made effective in 1885, and his appointments since were as follows: Monticello, Lonoke, and Rock Mission. He died in September, 1887, at the age of seventy-seven years. He greatly loved the church of his choice, and labored faithfully and zealously for the promotion of her interests. He died strong in the faith, and in the full hope of a rich inheritance.

South Carolina Conference.

Alonzo Webster, D.D., was born at Weston, Vt., Jan. 27, 1818, and fell asleep in Jesus, Aug. 1, 1887. In June, 1837, he was received into the Conference and appointed in full charge of a circuit, and has remained in the active discharge of the arduous duties of a Methodist minister without interruption for over fifty years, twenty-nine of which were spent in the State of Vermont, where he commanded the best appointments in his Conference. He was for one term presiding elder of the Springfield District, and for four years he traveled within the bounds of his Conference as agent of the American Bible Society. He was once chaplain of the Vermont Senate, and for two years just previous to the war was chaplain of the State Prison at Windsor. During the late war he became chaplain of the Sixteenth and Sixth Regiments of Vermont, and just before the close of the war received a commission in the regular army of the United States, and was stationed at the post hospital at Montpelier. In 1865 he was sent by Bishop Baker to South Carolina to organize the Methodist Episcopal Church among our people, where he continued to live and labor, accomplishing a great and enduring work in the religious and educational elevation of the people. He was the founder and first president of Claflin University. Twenty-one years of his ministry were spent in the presiding elder's office, and he was at the time of his death presiding over the Charleston District of the South Carolina Conference. He was a member of six general Conferences, and was editor and proprietor of the Charleston Advocate, the Southeastern Advocate, and the Methodist Messenger, which last paper he was publishing at Orangeburg at the time of his death. He was a ready and accomplished writer, a forcible and eloquent public speaker, and a man of great executive ability. He died in great peace and triumph, and was buried at Brattleborough, where he filled his first appointment as a preacher fifty years ago.

New York East Conference.

Thomas Gilbert Osborne was born at Riverhead, L. I., Oct. 15, 1820. Intending to enter the legal profession, he studied law for three years. But he had been converted during a revival at Riverhead about the time of his graduation, and a voice he could not silence bade him, "Go, preach the Gospel." He therefore abandoned the law, and offered himself as a candidate to the New York Conference. He was accepted, and, from the start, was very popular and useful. The first six years of his ministry were spent in his native county, at Southampton, Bridgehampton, and Patchogue. The high standing of his family must have excited great expectations in these places, where they were so well known; but the young preacher did not disappoint them. As his health was somewhat impaired, he took a supernumerary relation in 1850, but resumed work in 1851, and spent six years in Connecticut, at Birmingham, Bridgeport, and Waterbury. The Lord gave him revivals, and he is still lovingly remembered by the people of those churches. In 1857 he was stationed at Twenty-seventh Street, New York. This church shared largely in the great revival that swept over the land, more than six hundred souls being converted at its altar. With tireless energy he conducted the meeting every night for six months. One of the converts says: "He was like a king on his throne. He seemed never to rest, and his stirring, heartfelt appeals to the unconverted brought hundreds to the throne of grace. With marvelous skill he marshaled the forces of the church, laboring night after night, and spending the day going from house to house." Allen Street, then in her glory, was his next charge. Then Summerfield, Brooklyn, for one year. The next two years he was pastor of St. John Street, New Haven. In 1864 he was appointed presiding elder of the Bridgeport District, but his health was poor, and after one year on the district he felt obliged to rest. Two years later he took work again, and at the request of the church in his native town was sent to Riverhead. At the close of his term there he was returned again to the presiding eldership of the Bridgeport District, and served three years, when, in 1872, he was transferred to the Long Island South District. This year he was elected a delegate to the General Conference which met in Brooklyn. On account of his health he requested a station, and was placed at Port Chester for the next two years. In 1875–76 he held a supernumerary relation. Then he went back again to serve the Church in Riverhead, where he had been born, converted, licensed to preach, and had previously served a full term in the pastorate, and one year as presiding elder. Surely he was not without honor in his own country and among his own people. His ministry, which had begun in his native county, was to terminate in his native town; for at the close of his pastorate, in 1880, he retired from active service on account of the serious vocal trouble which had before disabled him, and spent the remainder of his life in Norwalk, Conn., where he had a quiet and beautiful home. This is the record of a godly man, who knew how to make the most of his insufficient physical strength, and purchased to himself a good degree in the ministry of Christ.

Daniel Curry was born on a farm at Peekskill seventy-eight years ago; graduated from Wesleyan University when twenty-eight years old; six years are next spent in Georgia in the fierce slavery storms that tore the Church asunder in 1844; four years in the old New York Conference; forty in the New York East; in the pastorate twenty-three years; in college work four years; editor of The Christian Advocate twelve years; of the National Repository four years, of the Methodist Review about three years. He was presiding elder for a short time when elected to the Advocate. He was a member of eight General Conferences, and was never more conspicuous or effective than in the first and last of those Conferences —the first in 1848, when he made a masterly speech in repudiation of the Plan of Separation, in which he showed the mind of the constitutional lawyer and an intense hatred of injustice. He was a young lion then. In 1884 his white plume waved in conspicuous leadership of the great assembly. He was an old lion then. A pre-eminent attraction and merit of Daniel Curry was his manhood. He was a man who stood for something. Very just was the tribute of the title of Dr. Buckley's eulogy in The Christian Advocate, "A Powerful Personality Withdrawn." There was no taint of ambiguity in him. His opinions were convictions. The self-assertion of the strong mind blended with the sincerity of the devout mind, and, whether right or wrong, he was there to give his opinion and take his share of the responsibility. On almost all questions he had thought his way through to conclusions. Question him, he had an opinion and reasons for it. Attack him, and you met resistance, offensive and defensive. Inquiry, or the search after knowledge, had a fascination for him, and, having found truth, he did not betray the trust. Like the diamond, there were many sides to his nature, but all were luminous. When he fell his work was done. He had left his stamp upon the Church and could be spared. The test of the power of great men is that death can put no bar to their influence. When God takes them the Church can do without them. The last few weeks of his life were passed at Ocean Grove. While there he was visited by Dr. Buckley on a Sabbath day, which proved to be his last Sabbath on earth. I am sure it will be a satisfaction to hear his own words, and, as it were, to hear him speak again. A part of the conversation was as follows: "Doctor, you have rarely been ill; what, in your opinion, is the cause of your attack?" "The final causes are seventy-seven years and sedentary habits" "Do you think you can rally?" "I have known for some months that my condition was precarious, but I am not much concerned about it." (The latter clause with great emphasis.) "Every man in the New York East Conference wishes you to come up as usual next spring." "I had marked out in my mind that I might live on till eighty-five years of age, but when a man has lived and worked till nearly seventy-eight what is left is of not much consequence. About the future there are two things: first, I have perfect confidence in the general truth of Christianity (although I expect my conceptions to be changed when I get over this), and the second is, I know that Christ has taken my case in hand. Why, then, should I be concerned about any thing else?" "But, doctor, we don't give up the hope of seeing you out again." Here, turning his face from the speaker to Dr. Stokes, he said with reverence, great emphasis, and almost in full voice, "The will of the Lord be done."

Thomas John Watt was born in Tyrone County, Ireland, Feb. 4, 1854, and ascended to his home in heaven from the parsonage at Great Neck, Long Island, N. Y., Aug. 9, 1887. He came to this country in the spring of 1873, and taught about a year in Stanwich, Conn. On March 23, 1881, he was married to Miss Annie Allen, of Whitestone, L. I. Brother Watt was a careful and diligent student. His reading was varied and extensive. He was conscientious in his preparation for pulpit work. His sermons, addressed directly to the people, were scholarly, clear, often profound, always evangelical, and evidently designed to build up Christian character and lead the unconverted to Christ. He was faithful and wise as pastor and administrator. Whole-souled and genial, he was a favorite with old and young. His friends best knew how strong, warm, and constant was his friendship. His was the mental poise, candor, and manly courage characteristic of his sturdy Scotch-Irish ancestry. Toward the spring of 1887 hard work began to tell on a not very vigorous physical constitution. He suffered for several weeks from nervous prostration, but so far recovered that through the kindness of his church and the liberality of one of its members, Joseph S. Spinney, he was enabled to take a trip to Europe. From this trip he returned so greatly improved in health that he hopefully resumed his labors, only to realize in a short time, however, the encroachments of disease. He found himself unable to administer the Lord's Supper on the first Sunday in August, and after a severe mental struggle wrote his resignation, saying, as he showed it to his wife, "You don't know how hard it was for me to write that." He expected to leave for the Sanitarium on the following Wednesday, but on the night of Tuesday the Master called him to that land where "the inhabitant shall no more say, I am sick."

Albert Schuyler Graves was born in Salisbury, Addison County, Vt., Jan. 17, 1824, and died in a moment, by failure of the heart, at his pastoral charge, Stratford, Fairfield County, Conn., Sept. 14, 1887, aged sixty-three years. While a senior in college, in 1846, he was licensed to preach at Durham, under Rev. Laban Clark, D.D., presiding elder, and after graduation preached as a "supply" at West Troy, N. Y., until he entered the old Oneida Conference in 1847. In this Conference he soon took a leading rank, and labored twenty-two years; namely, thirteen years in pastorates, several of them among the most prominent in the Conference, four years as presiding elder of Courtland District, and five years as principal of Cazenovia Seminary, one of the most important schools of its grade in America, succeeding the Rev. E. G. Andrews in that position. During this period he was also five years Secretary of his Conference, and was a delegate to the General Conferences of 1864 and 1868. In April, 1870, he was transferred to the New York East Conference, of which he was a member until his death. Here he was a pastor in several prominent charges, visited Europe, was four years presiding elder on Brooklyn District, from 1876 to 1880, and in 1880 a delegate to the General Conference with Drs. Curry, Woodruff, and Weed, all now gone with him to the General Conference of the white-robed "elders" above. As an associate and brother minister he was affable and charitable, always a welcome companion and helpful friend. Of a tall and somewhat spare figure, he was dignified without stiffness, cheerful without levity, earnest without irascibility, and firm without fierceness; an urbane gentleman, who commanded respect among strangers, and retained it among acquaintances. As a husband, father, and hospitable host, at home, Brother Graves was a model, and made all around him happier for his presence. In the forty-first year of his useful ministry he was suddenly struck down in his parsonage, and without one parting word to earth was called into the presence of the Master—a ripe but unfrosted life, gathered into the frostless world of eternal harvest.

Charles W. Powell died of heart disease, in Southampton, N. Y., Feb. 27, 1888, in the fifty-fifth year of his age and the thirtieth of his ministry. He had just returned from the bedside of one of his afflicted parishioners, where he had offered prayer and spoken words of comfort—words which he knew so well how to utter—and was standing at the door of the church looking up at the men employed on the new parsonage which he had projected, and in which, with his faithful wife and young daughter, he fondly hoped soon to reside, when the tired and overworked heart ceased its throbbing, and he went to inhabit one of the many mansions not made with hands, there to await the coming of the dear ones he so ardently loved, and the flock for whose welfare he had so carefully planned and earnestly labored. He was born in Burlington, N. J., April 30, 1833. In 1859 he was received on trial in the New York East Conference, and gave himself up more fully to the work which he so much loved, and which he so earnestly and faithfully prosecuted till called to his reward. He was ordained to the office of deacon by Bishop Ames, at Stamford, Conn., in 1861, and to the office of elder in 1863 by Bishop Baker, in the South Third Street Methodist Episcopal Church, Brooklyn. Since his reception on trial his appointments have been as follows: Middlebury, Wolcottville, Cornwall and Ellsworth, Trumbull and Nicholls' Farms, Milford, Hamden, West Granby, Bloomfield, Yalesville, High Ridge and Hunting Ridge, Flatlands, East New York, Bay Shore, Flatbush and Sheepshead Bay, Northport, and Southampton, where his earthly labors were concluded and he went to receive the faithful shepherd's happy greeting. He was twice married. First, to Miss Cornelia Ellis, of Burlington, N. J., who died in 1868; and in 1869 to Miss Priscilla C. Lees, of Middlebury, Conn., who now survives him. He seems to have had some premonitions of his approaching end. When he heard of the death of Brother Graves he said to his beloved wife, "Well, in all probability I shall go in that way." Soon after this, while walking in a heavy gale of wind to fill an appointment a few miles from the village in which he lived, he experienced a very painful sensation in the region of the heart. It continued during the rest of the journey, and for nearly half an hour after his arrival at the place of meeting. He preached, however, as he said he had a message for the people and must deliver it. This trouble continued to affect him at intervals, but he kept cheerfully on with his work, and up to the moment of his departure he had far-reaching plans for the benefit of the Church and community. About fifteen years ago he consecrated himself more fully to the Lord and the work which he had given him to do, and from that time until his death his walk was close with God. His whole manner, tone, and spirit, proclaimed him a man of God. Being a diligent student of the word of God and much in secret prayer, of excellent business tact, wise, patient, and self-sacrificing, a man of strong faith, of a loving heart and ready utterance, he was an interesting preacher and pre-eminently successful as a pastor. The people believed in him and loved him. He was very susceptible to spiritual influences, and sensitive to the gentlest approaches of the divine.

Hart F. Pease fell asleep Wednesday, March 28, 1888, in East Norwalk, aged seventy-six, and his wife March 30, aged seventy-two. The funeral services were held in the Methodist Episcopal Church, South Norwalk, April 2. Their two forms being encoffined before the altar was a sight as impressive as unusual. On Tuesday, April 3, the fifty-second anniversary of their wedded life, they were laid side by side in the chamber of death, their children and grandchildren standing around it. So, "they came to their grave in a full age, like as a shock of corn cometh in his season," lovely and pleasant in their lives, and in their death they were not divided. Brother Pease was born Dec. 27, 1811, in Ashfield, Franklin County, Mass. At the age of nineteen, in a Methodist meeting, he was deeply convicted and clearly and assuredly converted. He soon felt such a constraint of soul that he must preach the Gospel that he immediately considered the need of obtaining a fitting education. He entered Wilbraham Academy, where he was licensed to exhort, June 3, 1832, by Rev. Orange Scott; was licensed to preach, in Cheshire, June 23, 1833, by Rev. Stephen Martindale, presiding elder. He was then a student in the Wesleyan University. By the urgent request and pleading of the presiding elder, that the field was inviting and the laborers few, he suffered himself to be thrust into the active ministry, and was received on trial in the New York Conference, May, 1834, and appointed to Fair Haven. On April 3, 1836, he was married to Miss Louisa L. Ives, of Meriden. Brother Pease was ordained deacon June 26, 1836, in New York city, by Bishop Hedding, and elder in New York city May 20, 1838, by Bishop J. O. Andrew. During the fifty-four years of his ministry he occupied eighteen pastorates. In 1862 he was made supernumerary that he might remain a third year at Bethel, to complete a church building. Was presiding elder on the Long Island North District three years, from 1864–66; on the New York District from 1867–70 and then returned to the Long Island North District for one year, 1871, thus completing two full terms of the eldership. He was a delegate to the General Conference in 1868, which met at Chicago. In 1873 he took a supernumerary relation, which was continued for four years, and in 1879 he became superannuated. During these latter years he was always ready and delighted to preach where there was an opening and a need, sometimes doing full and efficient work. The societies among whom they lived found that they came to be one of themselves, and the pastor was comforted and helped by such sympathetic and appreciative hearers, and on whose judgment and experience he could draw for advice. Brother Pease was tall, of fair countenance, invariably neat in attire, and always the gentleman. Whenever the Conference sat where formalities of refinement prevailed, and those unacquainted with Methodism extended their hospitality, he was one that was sure to be a guest. And if the pulpit of other denominations was to be filled he was usually invited or assigned. In all of his appointments he showed himself equal to the responsibilities, and proved that he was the right man in the right place. He was a man of sound judgment, and a counselor whose advice was often sought. His own sense of right and duty was unchangeable by fear or interest, as was seen in his choice of the Methodist ministry, and in times of controversy on great public questions, when he wrestled with giants. In debate he was self-possessed, clear, logical, and often put his arguments with sarcasm so hitting and true as to cause both a smile and conviction. His home was rich with excellences; his children were trained to obedience, mutual affection, and the pleasant and useful converse that was enlivened with wit and humor. In the last year of his life he, with his companion, more than ever before, walked in the land of Beulah. Together they came down to the river, have crossed over, and ceased to be seen of us; but "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead."

Philadelphia Conference.

Sylvester N. Chew was born in Gloucester County, N. J., Dec. 1, 1836, and died in Camden, N. J., on Sunday afternoon, April 3, 1887, in the fifty-first year of his age. He was converted Feb. 26, 1855, and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, on the Glassborough Charge, March 5. He was admitted on trial at the session of the Conference held in the Green Street Church, Philadelphia, in March, 1859, and stationed at Birdsborough; he was ordained in due course, deacon in 1861, and elder in 1863, in both instances by Bishop Simpson. He was married Feb. 18, 1863, to Miss Phebe M. Hitchner, of Bridgeton, N. J. Of a bright, cheerful disposition, blessed and happy in his home, he was every ready with his sympathy and counsel to minister to those who needed a wise friend and true brother. Attachments have been thus formed that were to him as refreshing showers in a thirsty land, bringing gladness and comfort, amid the toil and trial, along the pathway of life. The first great sorrow of his ministry came to his home during his pastorate at Hancock Street Church, Philadelphia, in the protracted illness and death of Flossie, the first-born. The shock of this bereavement, together with the sadness of the associations thus gathered about the home, caused him to ask for a change of appointment, at the end of the second year, though his relations had been pleasant and the charge prosperous. The following year, in the prosecution of his work at South Easton, he built a chapel at Odenwelder, on the opposite bank of the Lehigh River, and in the personal exertion in the building operations he met with the first arrest of his usual good health. At the ensuing session of the Conference, in the spring of 1871, he was appointed to the charge of Ebenezer, Reading, where he remained three years, closing a prosperous term in 1874, when he was appointed to Nazareth, Philadelphia. Here he remained three years, and in the midst of the memories of the glories of "Old Nazareth" he formed associations that were very precious to the close of his life. He was then appointed, in 1877, to West Chester, and after three years, to Pottsville, in 1880, and to Pine Grove, in 1882. With the assurance that his eldest child had been translated to an eternal blessedness, in what seemed the opening of a beautiful life, he yet decided to ask for a change to other scenes, and was appointed in 1883 to Twentieth Street, Philadelphia. Remaining here two years, he was stationed in 1885 at Paul Street, Frankford; here, amid the most pleasant surroundings, his health failed, and in 1886, he asked for and was granted a supernumerary relation. Though suffering intensely at times, he had great peace and comfort in a constant fellowship with, and abiding in, the Lord Jesus. He repeatedly gave expression to his confidence and assurance of the nearness of his heavenly home. With his hands in those of his stricken wife, and Pauline, his only remaining child, he fell asleep on the afternoon of Sabbath, April 3, 1887, to awaken in the blessed Sabbath that knows no end, in the everlasting life of the glorified saints.

Joseph Budd Dobbins was born in Philadelphia, Pa., on the 20th of April, 1818. In the spring of 1842 he was admitted on trial in the New Jersey Conference. He was ordained to the office of deacon in the Church of God on the 21st of April, 1844, by Bishop Waugh; and to the office of elder, on the 26th of April, 1846, by Bishop Hedding. Forty-six years of unceasing service he gave to the work of the itineranecy—thirty-three in the New Jersey Conference and thirteen in the Philadelphia Conference. In each Conference he filled prominent positions, and every-where he made a good record, both for the Church and for himself. While in the New Jersey Conference he twice represented his brethren in the General Conference, and twice bore the responsibility of the presiding eldership. Brother Dobbins cultivated a deep sense of his personal responsibility to God. He felt that to mislead, or to fail to lead in the right way, those whom God had committed to his charge could not but be most disastrous. The weight rested heavily upon his soul, and incited him to close circumspection and great carefulness. He was very methodical in his work. As a rule, he gave the forenoon to uninterrupted study, the afternoon to pastoral visitation, the evening to such church service as required his presence. In the pulpit he was serious and reverent, and spoke the word of God with boldness, using great plainness of speech. In visiting among his people, he bore with him the conscious thought that he was their pastor; that he must avoid every thing unseemly in spirit and in utterance; that he must assist them in their spiritual life, by counsel, sympathy, and prayer. To the suffering, the bereaved, the perplexed, the penitent, his coming was always a pleasure. He was especially interested in the children and the young people of his charge, and they soon regarded him with deep affection. He was specially wise and successful in conducting prayer-meetings. He had a good voice, was fond of singing, had a familiar acquaintance with the Hymnal and tact in selecting suitable hymns and tunes for the occasion, and he used all these advantages in the interest of the meeting. Some of the prominent characterists of Brother Dobbins were a clear head, a large heart, a firm will, a definite aim, high courage, spiritual power, fidelity, and earnestness. Such a man could not but be felt in every community in which he moved. On the 3d of May, 1847, he was united in marriage to Miss Amelia Hall, daughter of Judge Andrew Simpson, of Monmouth County, N. J. This excellent lady continued a light in his household and in the church until the 28th of September, 1873, when she died, exulting in hope of the Gospel. On the 23d of September, 1875, he was married to Miss Rebecca, daughter of Abram and Rebecca Evans Bruner, of Columbia, Pa. She was well fitted to take place as the wife of an itinerant preacher. Her pure influence, blended with that of her husband, made them a blessing in every church that they filled. In social intercourse, Dr. Dobbins was courteous, dignified, and respected. But it was in the home that the beauty and excellency of his character shone with greatest luster. He loved his home, and his presence diffused a sweet and satisfying happiness through it. We sympathize with the sorrowing wife and children in their great bereavement. The last pastoral charge of Dr. Dobbins was the Twentieth Street Methodist Episcopal Church, Philadelphia. It was a fitting place in which to close his life-work. During the first and second years of his ministry among them an almost continuous revival had prevailed. In each of these years he received about one hundred additions to the membership of his church. The outlook was bright and hopeful. His return for the third year was ardently desired by his people as well as by himself. Their wishes were gratified. Rarely has it been the privilege of a pastor to be welcomed back to his charge with such manifested cordiality, warmth, and enthusiasm as was accorded to him. But his work was well-nigh done. A few weeks and all was over. On the 21st of April, 1887, he visited Ocean Grove, N. J. On the next day he started on his return to his family. Arriving at the depot a few moments before the coming of the expected train, he sat down on a chair. Suddenly his head inclined forward, then a few respirations, and his heart ceased its pulsations—"He was not, for God took him."

Silas Benson Best was born Feb. 28, 1836. He was graduated at Dickinson College in the year 1858, and almost immediately entered the work of the ministry, by accepting an appointment at Montgomery Square, until the session of the Conference, when, in the spring of 1859, he was received on trial. His subsequent appointments were Falls of Schuylkill, Birdsborough Circuit, Schuylkill Haven, Cressona, Roxborough, Catasauqua, Halifax, Fortieth Street, Philadelphia; Coatesville, Strasburg, Bird-in-Hand, Mount Carmel in Philadelphia, and New Hope in Bucks County. In the second year of his ministry he was called to fill a vacancy caused by the sickness of Dr. J. R. Anderson at Reading and afterward a similar vacancy at Ebenezer, Manayunk, caused by the death of the same minister. On Sept. 8, 1868, he was united in marriage to Miss Libbie Mast. At his last appointment, on account of the continued illness of his wife and his own failing health, he was compelled to retire from his loved employ, and removed to Coatesville, and afterward to a farm near Morgantown, where he spent his closing years in quietness and rest, with occasional work as strength permitted. The day before his death he was apparently in unusually good health. He had written to his presiding elder asking for work, and arrangements had been made for him to take an appointment in his immediate neighborhood, where he had often preached to the delight and profit of his hearers. On the morning of March 2, 1888, he was stricken with apoplexy, and suddenly removed to his heavenly home. Brother Best had those sterling qualities of mind and heart that endeared him to his people wherever he labored. He won their confidence and retained it. He devoted himself to their good, and they loved him for his work's sake. He was faithful, conscientious, kind, free from guile, affectionate, yet fearless in declaring "all the counsel of God." While in the pulpit his countenance wore an air of serious responsibility, which changed to a glow of holy rapture as he unfolded the rich truths of the Gospel. His sermons were eminently religious, searching the souls of the unsaved, comforting and inspiring the children of God. His exhortations were earnest and powerful. Prayer was to him not only a duty but a delight. He loved to linger at a throne of grace. The will of the Master was the supreme law of his life. Conformity to the divine image was the aspiration of his soul. Consecration to the work of soul-saving was the overmastering passion of his nature. Character and spiritual culture were with him ever more desirable than any earthly attainments. Usefulness was nobler than positions and honors. He endeavored to wear the white shield of a stainless life, holding up a high and heavenly standard of piety. Farewell, dear brother, till we hail thee among the elect of the Lord, on the shores of the better country!

New York Conference.

Lucius Henry King was born at Great Barrington, Mass., April 18, 1822, and died at his home in New York city, Friday evening, Nov. 18, 1887. It was a matter of deep and painful regret to him that his educational advantages had been so circumscribed. Collegiate training was beyond his reach, and he turned eagerly to the best that offered—an academic course, which he diligently pursued at the Delaware Literary Institute, then under the presidency of Rev. Silas Fitch. In the spring of 1844 he was admitted on trial in the New York Conference and appointed to Prattsville Circuit. In 1845 he was appointed to the Delaware Mission, but was changed by Bishop Janes to Seventh Street, New York city, to take the place of Rev. Gad N. Smith, deceased. In 1846–47 he was in the Mariner's Church, Cherry Street, New York. December 3, 1846, he was married to Miss Amanda M. Waters, of Franklin, a young lady of culture and high social position, who for forty-one years with unostentatious bravery shared the toils, privations, and responsibilities incident to the life of an itinerant minister. In the spring of 1851, at the request of the Rev. Samuel D. Ferguson, he was appointed to Charlotte Circuit. The two literary institutions in that valley were then in a very prosperous condition, and many hundreds of young people attended Brother King's ministry. With professors and students he was unboundedly popular. The most interesting features of his work on this circuit were the gracious revivals which prevailed. Conversions occurred under the ordinary means of grace and revivals "broke out" where no extra religious services had been held. At one time it seemed as if the whole valley was in a blaze of religious fervor. Brother King had been a member of the Conference only seven years when he was sent to this charge, and yet it may be doubted if in all his subsequent ministry he did grander work or more lasting in results than was accomplished in this rural appointment. His later fields of labor, except the four years of his presiding eldership, were along the Hudson River and in New York city. He filled the following appointments, in the order named: Washington Street, Poughkeepsie; Duane Street, New York; Saugerties, Yonkers, Hedding Church, Poughkeepsie; Forty-third Street, New York; Yonkers, Eighteenth Street, New York; Tarrytown, Forty-third Street, Free Tabernacle, New York; Saint John's, Newburg; First Church, Yonkers; presiding elder, Prattsville District; Central Church, Yonkers; Forty-fourth Street, New York. In all the above churches his labors were blessed, and in most of them extensive revivals prevailed and large accessions were made to the membership. Of his pulpit efforts much might be said. His commanding presence, strong personality, compass and flexibility of voice, naturalness of manner and intonation, all were elements of strength in his public speaking. While the "common people heard him gladly," men and women of cultivated minds delighted in his ministry. His searching appeals to the heart and conscience, his peculiar manner of putting the truth, his pertinent and telling illustrations, often moved his hearers with wonderful power. In 1871 he received the degree of D.D. from the Iowa Wesleyan University. As a platform speaker Dr. King achieved an enviable reputation. His keen sense of humor and his natural oratory brought frequent demands for his services. For forty-three years he was an honored member of the New York Conference. He was ever cordial toward the younger members, thoughtful and sympathizing toward those who had "borne the heat and burden of the day," and laboring with untiring energy to aid those of limited financial resources, whether preachers, widows, or orphans. Three times he was elected a delegate to the General Conference and five times a reserve delegate. For more than a quarter of a century he took an active part in the great questions which agitated the Church and nation. The closing scene in our brother's life was solemnly beautiful. When informed that he could not recover, and that the end was near, he called for his private papers and with trembling hands assorted them, and with perfect composure gave to his family the necessary instructions. When asked, "If the Lord should call you home now would it all be right?" he replied, "Yes, I settled that long ago." To an old and esteemed friend he said, pointing upward, "We shall meet up yonder." He requested those present to sing, "Nearer, my God, to thee." At the close he exclaimed, "Precious Jesus! Precious Jesus! We cast our crowns at his feet!" These were his last words. He turned an affectionate glance upon the tearful faces of the loved ones to be left, and then gently closed his eyes as if the weary spirit were pleading, "Let me go, for the day breaketh."

Milo Couchman was born in the town of Broome, Schoharie County, N. Y., April, 1822, and died in the town of Warwick, Orange County, N. Y., March 21, 1888, aged sixty-five years. In the spring of 1847 the subject of this memoir was licensed to preach, and traveled two years under the presiding elder. In 1849 he joined the New York Conference on trial, and traveled thirty-nine years more, making forty-one years of faithful work in the ministry. He died while out collecting money for missions and the worn-out preachers. He was seen to fall from his sleigh by a boy, who informed a family near by, who came to his rescue. He gasped only once after they came to him, and was dead. He traveled the following circuits: Jefferson, Colchester, Walton, Middletown, Lexington, West Newburg and Galeville, West Newburg, Liberty, Rochester, Bloomingburg, West Hurley, Napanock, Phillipsport, Dormansville, Davenport, Kiskatom and Asbury, Durham, Glasco, Galesville and Mount Valley, Edenville and New Milford, where his labors terminated with the Conference year. Brother Couchman was married twice; both of his wives preceded him to the better land. He was by nature a sweet-spirited man, with an affectionate and winning way. He was very much beloved by the people on the charges he served, and was very successful in winning souls for Christ.

Clark Fuller died on Friday, Dec. 30, 1887, in an ancient farm-house situated in a lonely neighborhood about three miles from Golden's Bridge, Westchester County, N. Y., aged eighty years. It is fifty-five years since he joined the itinerant ranks; for twenty-six years he was a superannuated member of this Conference. For years he had lived in comparative obscurity. But God, who knows all his faithful servants, is not willing that any of them shall remain unhonored. Clark Fuller was born Feb. 8, 1807, in the same place and in the same house in which he died. In the year 1833 he was received on trial in the New York Conference. According to our Conference Minutes, from the time when Clark Fuller was received on trial, for nearly thirty years, his record is an unbroken one of faithful service with the exception of two years, when he was obliged to rest. That was the heroic age of Methodist preachers. There were but few stations; the circuits were large and laborious; parsonages were poor and unfurnished; salaries were small. Suffering, hardship, and even want were no rare features then of our ministry. The history of his pastorship is as follows: Lee and Lenox, Hudson and Print Works, New Canaan, Stratford, Canajoharie, Galway and Charlton, Greenwich, Greenfield, Pittstown, and Guilderland. At this point ill-health compelled him to pause a while in his career of usefulness. For two years he was superannuated. But he loved the work and felt the call. In 1854 he was made effective and stationed at Bedford, at Amenia and Cortland, and at Copake. In 1860 he was compelled to take a supernumerary relation; in 1861 this was changed to superannuated, in which relation he continued to the time of his death. As a preacher Brother Fuller undoubtedly compared favorably with most of the best of his day; and there were some giants in those days. He was not a graduate of any of the schools, but he studied by the way; he did not study for the ministry, but in the ministry. His journals show that he was systematic and diligent, both in study and pastoral work, as well as abounding in faith and prayer. Brother Fuller was a thorough Methodist. He was positive in his character, strong in his convictions of truth, and fixed in his religious opinions. From the itinerant ministry he retired to the old farm where he was born. A new discipline lay now before him. No longer permitted to do, he was henceforth to endure, and to suffer his Master's will until he should be relieved. Here he was loved and esteemed and was useful. For him the proverb is not true that "a prophet is not without honor save in his own country." His townsmen valued him not only personally, but as a minister of Jesus Christ. He preached whenever he had opportunity and his health permitted. Especially was he in request on funeral occasions, his tender, pathetic spirit making him a son of consolation. Like his Master, he was perfected through suffering. Gradually infirmities increased upon him; but in patience "he endured all things as seeing him who is invisible."

Troy Conference.

Reuben Wescott was born in Plymouth, Mass., March 26, 1802. In his nineteenth year he was converted, and shortly afterward united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. The year following he was married to her who is now patiently looking forward to joining him in that blessed world "in sight of which," to use her husband's words, "she has lived since she was sixteen years old." In the month of November, 1828, he received license to preach. The following spring he was received on trial in the New York Conference. Brother Wescott was one of the original members of the Troy Conference. He continued in the effective work until the year 1862, when, in consequence of impaired health, he took a superannuated relation. The remainder of his life he resided in the village of Stillwater, in which place and in the surrounding country he was respected and loved by all who knew him. During his effective ministry Brother Wescott was appointed to the following fields of labor: Pittsford, Bridgeport, Monkton, Granville, Warren Circuit, Salisbury, Williamstown, Easton, Petersburg, New Lebanon, Castleton, Bennington, Redford, Hampton, Whitehall, Fort Ann, Pawlet, Stillwater Village, Broadalbin, and Castleton, second time. As a preacher he was instructive. His ministry was as faithful as it was edifying. He aimed "to bring all such as were committed to his charge unto that agreement in the faith and knowledge of God, and to that ripeness and perfectness of age in Christ, that there be no place left for error in religion, or for viciousness in life." On the 30th of September, 1887, in the eighty-sixth year of his age, this blessed man of God received his release, and passed into that world of which, not suffering, but unmixed and ever-during reward is the glorious distinction.

Lorenzo D. Sherwood was born in Stanford, Dutchess County, N. Y., April 23, 1810, and died in Albany, June 16, 1887. In 1837 Brother Sherwood was ordained deacon by Bishop Hedding, and employed as a supply under Presiding Elder Buel Goodsell, on Adams Circuit, Mass. In June, 1838, he was admitted on trial in Troy Conference, and appointed to Petersburg Circuit. Laboring here for two years, he was ordained elder by Bishop Roberts, and his appointments from that time were as follows: Pittstown Circuit, Hoosick Circuit, Arlington, Vt.; Ticonderoga, Middletown and Wells, Vt.; Luzerne, Hartford, and Charlton. This brings the record down to 1855. During the war he was postmaster in East Glenville. In 1865 he moved to Jonesville and served the Halfmoon Circuit two years. In 1869 he went to Green Island; the church was at that time without a pastor, and he ministered to them for a year. There his wife died, March 18, 1883. In April, 1885, he removed to Albany, and made his home with his son until his own end came. His final illness was brief, and he suffered at the last comparatively little. He died as he had lived, full of peace and hope, leaving on earth a blessed memory and works that follow him, while he has joined the fellowship of those disciples and soldiers of Jesus Christ who, having endured hardness and been faithful unto the end, have received their crown and are forever with the Lord.

JACOB LEONARD was born in Easton, Bristol County, Mass., June 16, 1803, and died in Albany, N. Y., March 1, 1888. He joined the New York Conference in 1827, and was ordained by Bishop Roberts in 1829. When the Troy Conference was organized, in 1832, he fell into it, and was a member of it during its entire history. He supplied Whitehall in 1826, the year before he entered Conference. His appointments since have been: Peru, Bakersfield, Grand Isle, Vt.; High Gate, Chazy, Nassau, West Troy, State Street, Albany; Pawlet, Vt.; Weybridge, Clintonville, Greenwich, Cohoes, Kinderhook, Arbor Hill, Albany, Ballston. From 1854 to 1857 he held a supernumerary relation. In 1858 his relation was made effective and he was stationed as follows: Johnsonville, Greenfield, Rock City, Broadalbin, Stillwater, Quaker Springs, and Guilderland. In 1869 he took a supernumerary relation, and a few years later was placed on the superannuated list. This is a long record—the story of a ministerial life of sixty-one years! And in those years he did faithful and solid work. In many of the appointments he had large revivals, and all of them were built up and strengthened by his wise and prudent ministrations. During the years since his superannuation he has preached as strength and opportunity permitted, and always to the edification and comfort of the hearers. He shared largely in the joys and sorrows of life. He was twice married. His first wife, Lucy Cook, to whom he was married in 1826, died in 1850. His second wife, Hannah C. Sutton, survives him. Brother Leonard was a man of more than average ability. As a preacher he was correct in exegesis, sound in doctrine, and impressive in presentation. As a pastor he was genial, judicious, and sympathetic. He was conservative in spirit, sound in judgment, safe in counsel, and true in friendship. He seldom spoke on the Conference floor, but when he did his utterances commanded the attention and respect of his brethren. During all these years no question touching his moral character or doctrinal soundness was ever raised. The Sabbath before he died, and while unconscious of his immediate surroundings, he seemed to think himself in a religious service. A little later, as a loved daughter sat near and tried vainly to get some token of recognition, he said distinctly, and as if in answer to the unuttered prayer of her heart for some word of comfort, "I know that my Redeemer lives." A little before his departure he slowly and solemnly said, "God, my almighty Friend." Soon he was not, for God had taken him.

JOHN D. WHITE was borne in Topsham, Vt., Oct. 23, 1814, and died in Kalamazoo, Mich., June 24, 1887. "Scarcely two years of joyous Christian life had passed," writes Mr. White, in a memorandum found after his death, "when the Holy Spirit called me to the work of the Christian ministry, deeply impressing on my mind the line of duty which had been divinely marked out for me." Immediately upon his call to preach he was brought into conflict with temptation which threatened for a time to turn him aside from the work to which he had been called. Having received license to exhort he commenced holding religious services in the neighborhood of his home, and soon obtained complete victory over the tempter. At the second session of the Troy Annual Conference, Aug. 27, 1834, he was admitted on trial. He received deacon's and elder's orders in due course, and gave full proof of his ministry in the success which attended his labors in the various fields to which he was assigned. He continued in the effective work for thirty-six consecutive years. His health becoming somewhat impaired, he took a supernumerary relation at the Conference in 1870, and two years later was returned superannuated, which relation he held the remaining years of his life. Brother White was an able preacher and an untiring pastor, and was greatly beloved by all to whom he was called to minister. Many extensive revivals occurred under his labors, and the churches he served were edified and strengthened. Upon his retirement from active work in the Conference he went with his family to Michigan. His first home was in the village of Comstock. Some three years previous to his death he removed to Kalamazoo, continuing to give a great deal of service as a minister, preaching here and there, as health and strength would permit. During his last illness he was sweetly resigned to the will of God, and he triumphed gloriously in his death.

DESEVIGNIA STARKS passed peacefully to his reward from his home in Poultney, Vt., Oct. 12, 1887. December 14, 1808, he was born in the town of Austerlitz, Columbia County, N. Y. At the session of the New York Conference in 1831 he was admitted on trial. In 1832 he was appointed to Barrington Circuit. In the spring of 1833 the Conference was held in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Bishop Hedding presiding. Here he was elected and ordained to deacons' orders. He was returned to Barrington Circuit. In 1834 he was appointed to Jefferson Circuit, then to Kortright Circuit, Delaware County. In 1835 he was ordained elder in Brooklyn by Bishop Hedding, and in 1837 was transferred to the Troy Conference and appointed to the following charges: New Lebanon, Sand Lake Circuit, Washington Street, West Troy; Rensselaerville, Greenwich, presiding elder of Plattsburg District, Washington Avenue, Albany; presiding elder of Saratoga District, West Troy, a second time; Lansingburgh, Pittsfield, Mass; presiding elder of Troy District, presiding elder of Poultney District, Hampton, N. Y.; North Granville, Clifton Park, Schaghticoke, and Crescent. In 1880 he superannuated, and this was the greatest trial of his life, so much did he love his work. For forty-nine times in succession had his name been read out by the Bishops of our Church, and now that he had been left out of the appointment his feelings overcame him, and he wept. He was above envy and jealousy and vanity. His heart of sympathy was his real power among men. He felt it and partook of it, for the sorrows and struggles of others became his own. He was a sheltering refuge and a trusted friend. Yet this characteristic did not blur moral distinctions. He saw the wrong and could condemn it, but yearned to win the wrong-doer. No wonder he was loved, trusted, and honored. No wonder his name was as ointment poured forth. But he has gone—gone to make the heavens stronger; for the Master said: "Him that overcometh will I make a pillar in the temple of my God."

ANDREW HEATH died at his home in Castleton, Vt., on Saturday, April 14, 1888. Brother Heath had been a member of the Troy Conference since 1853, and served some of our most important churches with great credit to himself and to the edification and comfort of the people to whom he ministered.

MYRON WHITE was born at Greenfield, Saratoga County, N. Y., Jan. 13, 1815, and died at Keeseville, Clinton County, June 2, 1887. He was ordained a deacon by Bishop Hamline at Poultney in 1844. During the two following years he was in charge of Esperance. At the Conference at Keeseville, in 1846, he was ordained an elder by Bishop Janes. His subsequent appointments were: Fonda, Chazy, Clintonville, Arbor Hill, Albany; Cohoes, Tomhannock, Saint Albans, Vt.; Middlebury, Vt.; Burlington District, which was then in the Vermont Conference; 1863, transferred to Troy Conference, and stationed at Whitehall, Chaplain of the One Hundred and Twenty-third Regiment, New York State Volunteers, Williamstown, Mass.; Saranac, Schuyler Falls, Crown Point, Chazy, second time; Champlain, Grovenor's Corners, Sloansville, Guilderland, Frey's Bush, and Huntersland. Of his period of faithful services as our army chaplain he ever after bore the marks in severe bodily infirmities, patiently and cheerfully endured, for which he was granted a pension less than a year before his decease, with arrearage covering the time since the close of the war. At the last session of Troy Conference he took a superannuated relation. He had removed to Keeseville, after his long, earnest, and faithful ministry, expecting to pass a few restful years before going to his heavenly reward. But it was God's will to take him soon. The sufferings of his last illness were borne with triumphant submission. Brother White was a thoughtful, systematic, and winning preacher, and a laborious and sympathetic pastor. In every charge his ministry was fruitful in the salvation of souls, and in many of them his devotion was rewarded with extensive revivals. He was wise in counsel and judicious in administration. Advancing years did not cool his courage or abate his energy. His heart was warm in its affection for his younger brethren in the ministry. He rejoiced in the progress he had witnessed, and believed that the Church of the future would be still better. He was twice married, his first wife being Amanda Carpenter, of Saratoga Springs. His second wife, formerly Miss Emma A. White, of Clintonville, did not long survive him, though she was in her usual health at the time of his decease.

[The following obituary from the Newark Conference was received too late to appear in its proper place.]

James Henry Runyan was born at Liberty Corners, N. J., Aug. 28, 1833, and died at Bethel, Staten Island, Jan. 19, 1888. In the spring of 1856 he was admitted to the ministry in the New Jersey Conference, and appointed to Montague, N. J. His subsequent appointments were: Delaware, Pa.; Marshall's Creek, Pa; Narrowsburgh, N. Y.; West Milford, Rome and Greenville, Stillwater and Swartswood, Branchville and Frankford Place, Cokesbury, Vienna and Janes Chapel, Succasunna, Peapack and Chester, Frenchtown, Linden Avenue, Jersey City, N. J.; Woodbridge, Bethel, and Staten Island, N. Y., where he ceased at once to work and live. On March 31, 1859, he was united in marriage to Miss Marilla Shay. Brother Runyan was ordained deacon April 4, 1858, by Bishop E. R. Ames, and ordained elder April 8, 1860, by Bishop Levi Scott. His ministry was one of extensive usefulness. Revival work was his delight; his greatest joy was in seeing sinners coming to God. He was a bold champion of the truth. He was a real man, and had no sympathy with shams; to him religion was a reality, not a mere sentiment. He was fearless in his attacks upon sin, and faltered not to attack it in high or low places. He was a good preacher, clear and practical, a faithful expounder of the word of life. His aim was to reach the heart rather than the head, yet he failed not to instruct as well as to move to tears those who sat under his ministry. As a man he was genial, always full of good cheer, having a great warm heart that made one feel at home in his presence. As a worker he had few among his brethren more successful. Bethel stands to-day as a monument of his untiring zeal. His will was indomitable; few, if any, ever made a more heroic fight for life; he stood at his post as a faithful watchman to the last, saying, "I must preach Jesus to the people." Only two weeks before his release, being unable to stand, he sat and preached. This was his last sermon, and the corruption has put on incorruption, "the mortal is clothed with immortality."

OBITUARIES.

Montana Conference.

HUGH DUNCAN, the oldest member of the Montana Conference, and the longest in the work, died at Home Park, in the Upper Ruby Valley, Madison County, Montana, on September 16, 1887, aged about sixty-five years. He was born in Scotland, and came to America in early life. He was converted to God when a young man, and immediately found his place of Christian labor among the Methodists, and organized the first society and Sunday-school in the territory. He at once became a zealous worker in the vineyard of the Lord, and soon became identified with every interest of reform, and the upbuilding of the Church in Montana. His nearly twenty-four years' residence in Montana had identified him as one of the "old timers," and with almost every possible interest of good in this new land. He labored faithfully, both in and out of season, to build up the substantial welfare of his adopted land. He joined the Rocky Mountain Conference in 1873, and since that time has been identified with our work as one of us till he ceased to be. Thus, he came into the traveling ministry with the organization of our work, becoming one of the representatives of his Church, representing her once in the General Conference, twice appointed a presiding elder, and serving with indefatigable labors on several charges; he toiled on to the last. Brother Duncan was a good preacher, somewhat eccentric in manner, interesting in intercourse, and left his impress wherever he went.

North-west Indiana Conference.

JOSEPH C. REED, D.D., was born in Butler County, Ohio, March 7, 1826, and died October 27, 1887. In the second year of his age his parents moved with him from Ohio to Indiana. He was admitted on trial in the North Indiana Conference in the fall of the same year, and appointed junior preacher to Frankfort. In the year 1851 he was appointed to Rock Creek Mission; in 1852 received into full connection in the Conference, and ordained deacon by Bishop Baker. At this time the North Indiana Conference was divided, and Brother Reed became a member of the North-west Indiana, and stationed in Michigan City. He has filled appointments at Perrysville, Delphi, Lafayette, South Bend, Indianapolis, Thorntown, Terre Haute, Attica, Daville, Rochester. He was presiding elder on Terre Haute and Greencastle Districts. He was also chaplain of the Twenty-ninth Indiana Regiment. At the Conference held in Frankfort in 1866 he asked for a superannuated relation. His ministerial life embraced a period of thirty-seven years. All these years but one were devoted to active service. In 1853 he married Miss Emma Boothrord. Brother Reed was among the prominent ministers of his Conference. He was elected delegate to the General Conference in 1868, and again in 1872. For twenty-four years he served as principal secretary of the Conference. Bishop Janes said: "Dr. Reed is the best secretary I ever met." Dr. Reed was a man of very strong mind, an effective and popular pulpit orator. He had within himself a reserved force that inspired confidence. When he preached one of his brilliant sermons his friends felt that he could do the same thing again. At the Conference held at Frankfort he asked a superannuated relation. "I have preached," he said, "as long as I can." He settled in his comfortable cottage home in Attica; here, surrounded by a people who loved him, his last days were passed.

HERMAN BEACH BALL was born in Ontario County, N. Y., May 6, 1818. He was brought to Indiana by his parents when quite young. In 1834 he went from Preble County, Ohio, to South Bend, Ind. In 1839 he was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church. In 1848 he was received on trial into the North Indiana Conference and appointed to Crown Point Circuit, and in 1849 Middleburg. In 1850 he was ordained deacon and appointed to Lockport, and 1851 Kewanna. In 1852, when the Northwest Indiana Conference was organized, he became a member thereof, was ordained elder, and appointed as follows: Rossville, New Carlisle, Union, Sumption Prairie, Bainbridge, Ladoga, Poolsville, Colfax, Yountsville, Newport, Russellville, and Zionsville, serving the last charge three years, at the close of which, owing to the illness of his wife, he asked for and obtained a supernumerary relation. In 1869 he was made effective, and appointed to Jamestown. In 1870 he again became supernumerary, but traveled the Clayton Circuit under appointment by the presiding elder. In 1871 he was made effective and appointed to Avon Circuit, then to Clearmont, Augusta, Whitestown, Morocco, and Bradford Circuit. While at Conference in 1876 he was taken sick and returned home before its adjournment. During his absence, and without his knowledge, he was placed on the superannuated list, but traveled the Zionsville Circuit under appointment by the presiding elder. In 1878 he was employed by the presiding elder, and traveled the Harveysburg Circuit. In 1879 he was again made effective and appointed to Brook. In 1880, at his own request, he was placed on the superannuated list, which relation he sustained up to the time of his death. Brother Ball was thrice married. As a man he was honorable; as a neighbor, kind and affable; as a husband and father, tender and loving; as a Christian, spiritual; as a minister, without ostentation.

ROBERT H. CALVERT was born in Canada, April 28, 1816. When eight years of age he was converted and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. In October, 1840, he was received on trial in the Indiana Conference, where (including Conferences formed out of it) he filled the following circuits: Newtown, Crawfordsville, Wabash Mission, Danville, Augusta, Knightstown, and Anderson. He then located and spent two years in Canada; in 1849 was readmitted and appointed to New Castle, then to Monticello, Rochester, and Dayton. He then took a superannuated relation for two years. In 1854, Fulton, Rensselaer, Mexico, Maxinkuckee, Medaryville, Fultain, Bradford, Burnitsville, Morocco, Carbon, and Harveysburg. During the late war he served as chaplain of the One Hundred and Eighteenth Indiana Regiment of Volunteers. Brother Calvert's death was caused by cancer of the stomach. He died in the village of Mexico, in Miama County, Ind., March 20, 1888, in the triumph of that faith he had so long preached to others.

Erie Conference.

JOHN ROBINSON was born in Ohio County, Va., June 29, 1806, and died in West New Brighton, Staten Island, N. Y., March, 1888. He was converted and united with the Church in his eighteenth year. In 1829 he was licensed to preach and employed on the Harrisonville Circuit, being received on trial by the Pittsburg Conference in 1830. In 1832 was ordained deacon, and elder in 1834. He became a member of the Erie Conference at its organization, and retained his connection with it while he lived. His reputation as a Christian minister was without blemish, and for fifty-seven years the representation of his character and work at our annual sessions has been prefaced with the statement, "Nothing against Brother Robinson." For thirty-nine of those years he was counted in the ranks of "effective men," laboring acceptably, and with great usefulness, either as pastor or presiding elder. He served as pastor on twenty-six different charges. At times, without neglecting the field assigned him, he did considerable and very effective evangelistic work in other places for which no adequate provision had been made. He did not lecture, or read elaborate, finely written essays, but simply preached. He evidently studied the Bible, the hymn-book, and our standard works on theology to good purpose, and in doctrine was eminently Wesleyan. His sermons, which were unique, and characteristic of the man, were carefully prepared, and the positions taken usually sustained by numerous passages of Scripture, for which chapter and verse were given. Brother Robinson married young, and was ever happy in his domestic relations—a most devoted husband, a loving father who tenderly cared for those of his own household, and in turn was greatly honored and loved by them all. The excellent wife who for fifty-six years shared all his joys and sorrows, and was an efficient helper in his work, entered the promised rest a little over a year before him.

Robert Beatty was born February 16, 1816, near Cooperstown, where his boyhood was passed amid the scenes of farm life. His conversion, in the twentieth year of his age, occurred at a camp-meeting. Two years subsequent to his conversion he united with the Methodist Episcopal Church in Cooperstown, where he was honored with the office of steward for eleven years. He was received on trial in the Erie Conference at its session in Jamestown, N. Y., in 1852. His effective service extended through a period of twenty-one years; he was a supernumerary eleven years, and took a superannuated relation in 1884. Brother Beatty was regarded by those who knew him well as an able minister of the Gospel. Though not a brilliant preacher, he was scholarly, he was clear, he was persuasive, he was pathetic, and sometimes he was well-nigh overpowering. During the twenty years of his effective service he built three churches, organized ten societies, and received nine hundred and eighty-nine on probation—an average of nearly fifty for each year. He served the following charges: New Lebanon, Brady's Bend, New Bethlehem, Curllsvile, Shippenville, Hendersonville, Petroleum Center, Pine Grove, and Pine Grove and Harrisville, East Brook and Shenango, Sunville, and a second term at New Lebanon. Brother Beatty lived to witness the accomplishment of one of the great desires of his later years, the dedication of a commodious and really beautiful house of worship in the village where he spent more than half his life. Toward its erection he literally gave all. His last illness was protracted and painful. He endured all with unmurmuring submission. He met death, and conquered. His end was triumphant. He died May 26, 1888. Our translated brother will long be remembered by those who enjoyed his labors and were the fruit of his ministry, for his many virtues and his valuable services rendered to society and to the Church of his choice.

J. L. Holmes joined the Pittsburg Conference in 1832, and in 1836, when the Erie Conference was formed, became a member of it. Methodism had been planted in Meadville only seven years, and this year the Meadville District was formed. He was said to have been a young man of much promise. He was effective twenty-one years, then took a superannuate relation and went out of the bounds of the Conference to the West. He died in Zumbrota, Minn., February 17, 1887. His sermons showed that he was a student of theology.

Z. W. Shadduck was born in Wesleyville, Erie County, Pa., February 17, 1831. From his earliest recollection he felt himself a sinner, and, as he was wont to testify, "in need of conversion." At the age of eighteen he was brought to Christ. His conversion was distinct, powerful, joyous, and, as he with radiant contenance every-where declared, "was never doubted." A week of earnest seeking, of agonizing prayer, brought him into the full light and experience of salvation. His consecration was complete from the first. The joy of his new life was unbounded. He was received on trial by the Erie Conference at its session in Ravenna, O., in 1857. He was a devoted, earnest, enthusiastic, self-sacrificing minister of the Lord Jesus. His labors were crowned with a large measure of success. He served the following charges: Sunville, New Wilmington, Waterford, Albion, Moravia, Tidioute, Pine Grove, Dayton, Leon, Wesleyville, Greene, Eureka, Greenfield, Grant, Plummer, Rouseville, and Reno. At the last session of the Conference he was appointed to the Fagundus charge. Though in extreme weakness, suffering from nervous prostration, he went to his work one Sunday, but was compelled by his fast-failing strength to relinquish his field and the work dearer to him than life itself. He was married to Miss Lizzie De Long, of Forestville, N. Y., in 1860. After a term of thirty years in the ministry of the Lord Jesus, serving with the heroism of a true disciple, having "endured as seeing Him who is invisible," "he fell on sleep, and was gathered to his fathers" at Reno, Pa., January 27, 1888.

Hiram V. Talbot was born at Edmeston, N. Y., June 30, 1834, and died at Odessa, Texas, February 20, 1888. He was converted and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church in his native place at the age of eighteen years. He was received into the Oneida Conference, in which he served in the following pastorates: Schnevus, Morris, Middlefield, and Fly Creek. After being transferred to Wyoming Conference, he served East Worcester, Kingston, Oxford, and Marathon. Taking a supernumerary relation for a time, he served Columbus, Ridgeway, and Sharrett. During his pastorate in the last named charge he was transferred to the Erie Conference, in 1879, subsequently serving Belleview and Punxsutawney charges. After completing his labors on the last named place in September, 1886, he was granted a superannuated relation on account of fast-failing health, and immediately moved to Odessa, Texas. Here, in November, the same year, he was stricken with paralysis, which made him a complete invalid till the day of his death. He was married, June 20, 1854, to Miss Rosina Colegrove. He was a zealous supporter of the Union cause during the dreadful war of the rebellion, and chaplain of the One Hundred and Fifty-second Regiment, New York Volunteers, which he largely helped to raise. He served from October 24, 1862, until February 11, 1865, with credit and honor. Brother Talbot was naturally kind of heart, and hopeful in disposition. His piety was of that cheerful, pleasant type which often brings comfort to the sorrowing, and inspires the despondent with hope and courage. His sermons were pleasing, faithful, and effective presentations of the Gospel of Christ, resulting in the edification of the Church, and in the conversion of sinners on all the charges he served. Almost every charge he served showed substantial results of his zeal and faithfulness. His was the life of toil and self-sacrifice which marks the faithful, successful, itinerant minister, and prepares for the Master's "Well done" at its close. A worker has gone, but his work remains.

California Conference.

JAMES O. RAYNOR was born in England in 1823; died at San Mateo, June 18, 1888. These two facts begin and end the earthly history of all alike, the greatest, the humblest; between these two dates are crowded all interests that concern the individual for time and eternity. In 1844, when the tide of emigration was flowing toward Oregon, he joined a company composed largely of the members of the charge he had been serving, and they journeyed toward the land of the setting sun. There as a missionary he labored, planting the banner of the cross on these outposts of civilization, while the sturdy settler laid the foundation of the empire on which we are building to-day. Brother Raynor preached the first gospel sermon in the city of Portland, Ore., to a handful of people gathered in a cooper-shop extemporized as a church by this first Christian congregation—a fact fit to be placed beside that other historic fact, that Methodism began its history on this continent in an old rigging-loft in the city of New York. In his pioneer work in the Oregon Conference he found a noble colleague in Rev. J. H. Wilbur, and these two heroic men traversed the mountains and valleys of that almost unexplored region known as the State of Oregon and Washington Territory. But to the privations of the early itinerant, such as exhausting travel, incessant labor, meager support, loss of home associations, was added actual peril in the Indian disturbances which broke out in Oregon in 1854. All honor to these hero-fathers of our Church, who are, one by one, dropping from our ranks. They mark the heroic period in our history, and their courage, faith, and fortitude have made possible the magnificent achievements we see around us to-day. In 1864 Brother Raynor was appointed chaplain in the United States Army, and stationed at Steilacoom, W. T. He had now the opportunity for study and meditation his natural tastes so earnestly desired. He studied hard, reading history, science, theology, and general literature, that he might furnish mental and spiritual food for the soldiers in their isolation and loneliness on the frontier. He was a father to them in counsel, a brother in sympathy in the hours of suffering and sorrow, and a genial companion to officers and privates alike in those social amenities that make up our intercourse with each other. He labored for forty-four years in the work of the Christian ministry, always cheerful, hopeful, faithful, honored of man and blessed of God. He was honorably retired from active service on account of age, and spent the last year and a half of his life at San Mateo. But in his retirement he did not cease from labor, but filled a vacant pulpit in the town where he resided until stricken with paralysis, from the effects of which he died. He was buried at the Presidio, San Francisco, with military honors, and as a friend remarked, "We left him covered with the flowers he loved so well, surrounded by the graves of those he had loved, and watched over by those who had been under his ministrations at other posts."

WARREN NIMS was born in Fort Ann, Washington County, N. Y., September 6, 1820, and was converted at the age of fifteen years. In the ministry he served first for five years as a local preacher. He was admitted into the California Conference in the year 1858, and appointed that year to the Folsom Circuit, under the eldership of Adam Bland. He remained a member of the California Conference until the formation of the Nevada Conference, in which hard field he was among the first to battle for Methodism. His genial face was never missed from that body, and from his seat by the bishop's side, as its honored secretary, for twenty-four years. Brother Nims was eminently a church extension preacher, loving that branch of the work, and laboring to that end with undaunted courage and unflagging zeal. Opening up new fields, building parsonages, houses of worship, and paying off old debts seemed to be his peculiar work, and it was well done in every particular. Often with his own hands would the shingles be placed upon the roof, or the paint put upon the building. Brother Nims's last act was to raise money for the Church Extension Society. But with all he did in this line of work he never lagged in preaching. He always delighted in telling the story of Jesus and his love. Near the close he expressed himself as wanting but a narrow margin of time between the end of his work and eternal rest. In his own words, he "did not want to be dead while living." Brother Nims enjoyed a rich and precious religious experience, his face showing to the beholder the faith of his heart, his holy zeal, and his undying sympathy for fallen and suffering humanity. In the summer of 1881 he was injured in the face; the wound afterward developed into a cancerous growth, from which during the last year he suffered much, at times intensely. He died August 20, 1888, aged sixty-seven years. His end was peace.

ELMER MILES STUART was born in Machias, Maine, June 4, 1843; came to California in 1863; began preaching in 1870; was admitted to the California Conference in 1872; was united in marriage with Miss Ella Ray, of Jackson, in 1873; died in Saint Helena, April 15, 1888. President Beard, of Napa College, preached the funeral sermon from the words of Jesus: "What I do thou knowest not now; but thou shalt know hereafter." What appropriate words! We must wait for the future to unfold the mysteries of the present. God's intentions are deep and mysterious to men. His purposes and plans are not in the realm of human reason; man must wait if he would know; till then faith must illumine the darkness and grief feed on the text. The following note was written on the margin of his Testament by Brother Stuart after hearing a sermon on the alabaster box: "Don't keep the alabaster box sealed up until your friends are dead; fill their lives with sweetness; speak appropriate, cheering words, while their ears can hear, and their hearts can be thrilled by them. Open them now to cheer their lonely homes." How many pastors living in the solitude and amid the discouragements of the frontier are dying for the want of sympathy and words of cheer! I have known Brother Stuart intimately for fourteen years; eight of these years I was his presiding elder. I have seen him under the weight of great afflictions. He loved his home, and did his best to take care of his afflicted wife and little, helpless children. He loved his Church, and was loyal, conscientious, and uncomplaining. I have been with him amid the deep snows of Downieville and Bald Mountain, in the winter storms and ocean winds of Point Arena; we have traveled together in the buggy and on horseback and on foot; have slept under the same blanket, without bedstead or pillow or supper; we have tasted the joys of fellowship, of labor together. There is a luxury in sharing a blanket with a man who has an honest pulse; there is spiritual health in real companionship. Brother Stuart was a good student, a good preacher, yet he spent his life in our frontier work. He was never in any man's way; nobody wanted his appointment, coveted his rubber coat or snow-shoes. Hence he nearly always stayed three years, and his last year always seemed the best.

Cincinnati Conference.

STEPHEN F. CONREY was born in Butler County, O., August 28, 1815, and died at his residence in Urbana, O., July 4, 1888, at the age of seventy-two years. A prayer-meeting maintained by the Methodists of the neighborhood, in the intervals of preaching, resulted in the summer of 1833 in a revival, in which between thirty and forty persons were converted. Of these one was the subject of this memoir, and another was his nephew, the Rev. J. F. Conrey, both of whom were received into the Church by the Rev. Burroughs Westlake. He was converted when eighteen years of age. Two years later he was licensed to preach by the quarterly conference of the same circuit, and recommended to the Ohio Annual Conference as a suitable person to be admitted on probation in that body. Having been admitted as a probationer, he immediately assumed the duties of the traveling ministry, although but twenty years of age. Two years later, in 1837, he was ordained deacon by Bishop Roberts, and in 1839 he was ordained elder by Bishop Soule. On May 22, 1839, he was united in marriage to Miss Margaret Hunsaker, who faithfully and cheerfully shared with him the privations and toils of the itinerant's life, until God called him away from her to his reward. Brother Conrey's first appointment was to the Greenville Circuit, to which he was assigned in 1835. His appointments up to 1847 were as follows; Eaton, Germantown, Wilmington, Union, Troy, Eaton, Milford, Franklinton, and Mechanicsburg. In 1847 he took a supernumerary relation on account of impaired health. In 1848–49 he was appointed to South Charleston station, and to Troy station in 1850. In 1851 he was appointed presiding elder of Maysville District, Ky., which was then within the bounds of the Ohio Conference. Here he remained four years. During this period the Kentucky Conference was organized, and as Brother Conrey was specially adapted to the work in that State by reason of his peaceful and prudent handling of the slavery question he was retained within its territory. In 1855–56 he occupied Covington station, then Newport and Brooklyn, Germantown and Augusta Circuit. The excitement which just preceded the war was now at its height, and at Brother Conrey's own request he was transferred to the Cincinnati Conference. Here he was appointed to Mechanicsburg. Then followed Middletown, Franklin, Waynesville, Union, Oldtown, Jamestown, Cedarville, and King's Creek. In 1877 he was granted a supernumerary relation, which was changed to superannuated in 1881. Brother Conrey's work in the pastorate was successful. At several of his appointments he had extensive and permanent revivals; and every-where the Church grew in numbers, unity, spirituality, and strength under his ministry. By private study after he entered the ranks of the itinerancy he acquired a fair knowledge of Latin, and some acquaintance with Greek. Possessed of a good memory, he retained even to old age whatever he once learned. As a preacher his sermons were scholarly in conception, yet practical; and while he was always effective in the pulpit, he sometimes wondrously moved his audience. Nor was his power over a congregation dependent upon any purpose of oratorical effect. Its explanation may be found in the language applied to Peter in the Acts of the Apostles: "While he yet spake . . . the Holy Ghost fell on all them which heard the word." As might be expected, therefore, he had his share of ministerial honors and responsibilities, having been for one term presiding elder, for some years secretary of the Kentucky Conference, and a delegate to the General Conference at Indianapolis in 1856. Brother Conrey was a good man, and full of the Holy Ghost and of faith. There was a saintliness in his character which impressed all who knew him.

James S. Peregrine was born in Shropshire, England, September 17, 1819, and died in Winona, Minnesota, February 24, 1888. In 1828 the family immigrated to the United States and settled in Ohio. Here James sought and found the Saviour, and became a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Soon after his conversion Brother Peregrine was licensed as a local preacher, in which office he was so useful that he felt called to abandon his successful business and settle upon a larger sphere of religious service. In 1849 he was admitted on trial into the traveling connection in the Ohio Conference and appointed to Miami Circuit, on which he labored successfully for two years. His subsequent appointments were as follows: Lockland Circuit, Salem, Amelia, Lockland, Ladies' Home Mission in Cincinnati, East Pearl Street, Cincinnati; and Ripley, from which place he was transferred to the Minnesota Conference and stationed at Jackson Street, Saint Paul; Monticello, Central Church, Winona; presiding elder of Winona District. In 1865 he took a supernumerary relation, and in 1867 was transferred to the Cincinnati Conference and stationed at Mount Washington and Goshen. In 1870, his health having failed, he became supernumerary, and returned to his home in Minnesota. In 1877 he was granted a place on the superannuated list, and retained that relation until his death. Our brother was five times married. He was a man of warm affection and ardent friendships, and was genial as a companion and colleague.

Maxwell Pierson Gaddis, for the last thirty-six years a member of the Cincinnati Conference, and for the sixteen years preceding of the Ohio—in all fifty-two years—passed peacefully to his heavenly rest Saturday, September 8, 1888, from his late residence, Oakwood, Dayton, O. Brother Gaddis was born in Pennsylvania, September 9, 1811. Had he died Sunday, instead of Saturday, he would have been exactly seventy-seven years old. He was of Irish descent. Both his parents were natives of County Down, Province of Ulster, Ireland. Early in 1817 his parents removed to Ohio. In 1824 he was converted. Soon after his conversion Brother Gaddis was strongly called to the Christian ministry. This was a usual and marked characteristic of the ministers of those early times. He thus states it: "It was not long after I had received a change of heart until I felt that I was inwardly moved by the Holy Ghost to preach the Gospel. I tried to banish this conviction from my mind every way that I could; but it was strengthened every year." In 1836 Brother Gaddis was received on trial into the Ohio Conference and appointed to White Oak Circuit. Revivals prevailed and many were converted. In 1837 he was appointed to West Chester Circuit, its eastern and western extremes being Montgomery, near Milford, and Hamilton. Here also gracious and extensive revivals followed. In 1838 he was appointed to Fulton Station, McKendree, Cincinnati. In 1839 and 1840 his work was Eastern Charge, Cincinnati, including Asbury, McKendree, and Wesley Chapel. In 1841 and 1842 he was agent of the Worthington Female Seminary and Asbury Academy, West Virginia. After this his appointments were: Greenfield, Hillsborough, Bethel Chapel, Cincinnati; Cincinnati Wesleyan College, and Morris Chapel. Here he built Saint John's Church. From 1849 to 1852 he was at Columbia Street charge, Springfield. In 1852 to 1854 he was stationed at Green Street, Piqua. In this charge Brother Gaddis was greatly successful. Three hundred and eighty were received on trial. This was the last charge filled by Brother Gaddis for ten years. He was made supernumerary. In 1864 he was made effective, and for three years he was pastor of Yellow Springs. In 1867 he was pastor of Gaddis Chapel, Sear Street, Dayton. In 1868 and 1869 he was agent of the Preachers' Relief Society. For these twenty-five years our brother was effective, all the time carrying about a feeble, sickly body, yet full of zeal and power; a marvel of energy and success. The other twenty-seven years were chiefly spent in the supernumerary relation. May 1, 1849, Brother Gaddis was united in marriage to Miss Josephine Parrott, of Dayton, Ohio. He was a deeply spiritual man. His preaching was somewhat flowery, but earnest, convincing, and persuasive, and largely emotional. He was a great soul-winner. Thousands were won to Christ under his ministry.

Michigan Conference.

James T. Robe died at his home in Kalamazoo, Mich., on the last day of January, 1887. He was born in Woodbridge, N. J., April 12, 1807. When quite young he was led to attend Methodist meetings, and was deeply convicted in his first prayer-meeting and converted in his first class-meeting. He removed to Indiana in 1830. In 1831 he was received on trial in Illinois Conference at the session held at Indianapolis. He was appointed junior preacher on Centerville Circuit. In the fall of 1833 he was appointed to Kalamazoo Mission. Here he had the honor of preaching the first sermon ever preached in what is now the city of Kalamazoo. He was next appointed to Vincennes; then to Kalamazoo Mission again; then to Marion, where he had a glorious revival; then to Paola; then to Brockville; then to Fort Wayne. In 1854 he moved to Michigan and joined the Michigan Conference. His appointments in this Conference were: Ganges, Buchanan, Summerville, Schoolcraft, and Grand Rapids. Here his health failed, and he afterward remained on the superannuated list. He was married December 26, 1837, to Miss Euphenia M. McLaughlin, of Indianapolis. When Brother Robe was in his prime he is said to have been a man of fine presence, with superior mental gifts and culture. As a preacher he was energetic and spiritual, and extensive revivals characterized his ministry.

Puget Sound Conference.

JOHN WALLACE DOBBS was born in Butler, Pa., July 5, 1830, and died in Whatcom, W. T., June 7, 1888. In the winter of 1848, just as he was entering early manhood, the resolution was formed to dedicate himself to God in the near future. As conviction deepened he resolved to do this at once. Pressed by a sense of need, he found a quiet retreat, and on the banks of a little brook he kneeled and wrestled, Jacob-like, saying, "I will not let thee go until thou bless me." After the struggle came the victory. Love unspeakable filled his soul. Running to the house, praising God, he cried out, "O, mother, God has converted my soul!" For several years he served as a faithful Methodist local preacher. In 1857 he was married to Miss Mary Anderson. Brother Dobbs was received into the Saint Louis Conference in 1874. In 1878 he was transferred to the Nebraska Conference, and in 1884 to the Puget Sound Conference, in the bounds of which he continued to labor until his health failed and he retired to his little home at Whatcom to die. Brother Dobbs was an affectionate husband and father, a faithful pastor, an earnest preacher, a devoted Christian. In his religious experience he was always fervent, happy, triumphant. Not boastful, he rejoiced in the full assurance that the blood of Christ cleanseth from all sin. He was in the true sense a moral hero. When he first entered on his work as pastor at Whatcom the town was depressed, the people were moving away, and his official members told him he must leave, they could not pay him any thing. He replied that he was there by the authority of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and there he would remain till removed by the same authority, if he starved. When traveling about to solicit help to save his Church he often slept on the wooden seats of the boats and lived on crackers and cheese that he might keep down expenses and save as much as possible for the removal of the debt. Loyalty to the Discipline and doctrines of the Church of his choice was a chief characteristic of all his pastorates. When his health so far failed that he could no longer stand he insisted on being carried into the church, where, sitting, he preached with his old time fervor. His former presiding elder visited him while on a sick-bed at Puyallup and found him suffering, but triumphant through faith. He hastened to tell the joy of his heart. Said he, "Not for a moment has a cloud intervened between me and my Saviour." Brother Dobbs was not great in the common acceptation of that term, but in the depths of his religious experience, in the heroism of his purpose, and in the consecration of his life, he was one of God's noblemen.

Nebraska Conference.

ALONZO J. WHITMORE was born in Lasalle County, Ill., February 6, 1855. Realizing that he was commanded to "go preach," he took work in the Aurora District, Rock River Conference, in 1883. He married Miss Addie Matthews, September 17, 1884. He was stationed at Antioch for two years. In September, 1886, he was appointed to the Bradshaw work in York District, Nebraska Conference, which he served very acceptably. In September, 1887, he took charge of Aurora Circuit, where, after getting nicely started in the work, and a church-building enterprise well under way, he was on the morning of January 8, 1888, called to the home of the blessed.

WILLIAM PECK, A.M., was born in Prussia, May 4, 1837. He emigrated to the United States, and in 1865 settled in Washington County, Neb. He was married to Miss Patience D. Cameron in 1866; entered the ministry in 1871, and in 1873 was ordained deacon, and two years later elder. In 1881 he was elected to the chair of mathematics and modern languages in the Nebraska Conference Seminary at York, where he remained until 1886, at which time he was elected dean of the literary department in Mallalieu University. In 1888, at the close of the winter term he resigned his position, and moved to Cheyenne County, Neb., expecting to take work in the Nebraska Conference the coming year. But on Sunday, July 1, a cyclone swept his house away, carrying him some distance. He was struck by the house, and rendered insensible. He never recovered consciousness, but died that night.

Iowa Conference.

JOHN HAYNES died in Oskaloosa, April 16, 1888. He was born in Brooke County, Va., March 31, 1832. He was converted when he was seventeen, united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, and immediately began preparation for the ministry. In 1859 he was admitted on trial in the Iowa Conference. From the first his abilities were recognized, and his appointments were among the best. In 1861 he was ordained deacon by Bishop Scott, and in 1863 elder by Bishop Ames. His appointments were: Brighton, Lebanon, Birmingham; Chatham Square, Keokuk; Asbury, Mount Pleasant; presiding elder of Keokuk District; Albia, Fairfield, Muscatine, Grinnell; Mount Pleasant District, and Oskaloosa District. No one could have been held in higher estimation by the people whom he served; he was orderly in all that he did, and was satisfied only with the best. From the moment he consecrated himself to the service of God he abandoned all selfish ends, and lived only to do good. He was thoughtful and studious; above every thing else a student of the Bible and of such works as aided him in the interpretation of the Bible and in preparation for the pulpit. His sermons were carefully prepared, were models of clear, logical, practical religious thought, delivered in a calm, unimpassioned manner, and at times with profound impressiveness and effect. In his rich and deep personal experience he had tested the doctrines of the word, was satisfied as to their genuineness, and hence could speak what he knew. His preaching was with the demonstration and power of the Holy Spirit. Brother Haynes was a wise administrator of the Discipline, a safe counselor, a sympathetic pastor, a true friend. Brother Haynes had been married twice. His first wife died many years ago; his second wife survives him.

JOHN HAYDEN, a superannuated member of the Iowa Conference, met his death suddenly July 10, 1888, near the village of Krum, Jefferson County, Iowa, by being run over by a railroad train. He was born in Hamilton County, Ohio, December 16, 1812. He was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church in April, 1831, in New Haven, Ohio. On April 24, 1834, he married Miss Sarah McCotter. In 1840 he was recommended for admission into the Rock River Conference. A year later he was received into the Rock River Conference, and was appointed to Crawfordsville Circuit, where he traveled two years. His next charge was Marion Circuit, where he remained two years; thence he was sent to Cedar Circuit, and remained two years; next to Fairfield for two years, and thence to Ottumwa, where he stayed two years. He was then appointed to the Fort Des Moines District, and did faithful work for four years. After this he was sent to take charge of the Janesville District, Upper Iowa Conference, but after traveling there two years he took a superannuated relation, which he held until 1859, when he was made effective by the Iowa Conference, and appointed to Brookville Circuit, remaining two years. In 1861 to 1862 he was sent to Winchester; 1863 to Farmington, and 1864 to 1865 to New London Circuit. At the close of this latter pastorate he became superannuated again, and held this honorable relation until his death. During the twenty-two years of his superannuated relation to the Conference he made no claim upon the Conference funds. The wife of his youth was a faithful companion for fifty-four years, and survives him. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. D. C. Smith, July 11, and the remains were buried in the Libertyville cemetery.

Robert A. Allison had his birth-place in St. John's, New Brunswick. He was converted and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church when he was twenty years of age. His gifts and graces indicated his call to the ministry, and he was licensed a local preacher soon after joining the Church. He came to Iowa in 1884, and was admitted on trial at the Conference session at Mount Pleasant in that year. He had served the charges of Rose Hill, and Kellogg, and Lynville; at the latter place for two years very acceptably. His health gave way early last spring, being attacked with inflammatory rheumatism that was so severe that blood poisoning gradually ensued and caused very painful bodily affliction, and was finally the cause of his death, September 4, 1888. He was married to Miss Alice Vanvaulkenberg, of Lawyersville, N. Y., August 23, 1883. Brother Allison bore up under his great sufferings with manly, Christian fortitude. He is held in affectionate remembrance by all on Lynville charge. His death, though painful, was both peaceful and joyous.

Allen W. Johnson was born in Brown County, Ohio, May 18, 1819; converted and joined the Church in Westpoint, Iowa, in 1839; licensed to preach and admitted on trial into the Rock River Conference in 1843; ordained deacon by Bishop T. A. Morris in 1845, and elder by Bishop Beverly Waugh in 1847. His appointments were as follows: Junior preacher on Birmingham Circuit, Eddyville Mission, Lynn Grove, Cedar Rapids Mission, Bear Creek Mission, Bloomfield, Centerville Mission, Locust Grove, Knoxville, Albia, Chariton Mission, Hartford, Adel, Attica, Bellaire, Farmington, Bentonsport, Bloomfield Circuit, Troy, Chillicothe, and was granted a supernumerary relation in 1867. In 1870 he was made effective and sent to Beacon. In 1871 his relation was again changed to supernumerary. In 1872 he was granted a superannuated relation, which was continued to 1887. In his Christian and ministerial life and labors he demonstrated to all the power of God's grace; in his death he illustrated the saying of Wesley, "Our people die well."

Central Ohio Conference.

Charles B. Brandebury was born in Shippensburg, Pa., September 7, 1813, and died in Delaware, O., December 13, 1887. In 1838 he joined the Michigan Conference, which then included the northern part of Ohio. His first appointment was to Dalton Circuit. When the North Ohio Conference was organized in 1840 Brother Brandebury fell into that body, and continued here for twenty-four years. In 1864 he was transferred to the Central Ohio Conference, where he has held his membership for the last twenty-four years. In 1858 he removed his family to Delaware. His period of effective service continued for about twenty-five years, during which time he labored faithfully and successfully in seventeen different pastoral fields. As a preacher, he was sober, earnest, and evangelical, doctrinal perhaps more than hortatory; and his sermons were directed chiefly to the edifying and establishing of the Church. Such preaching, if not the most successful in promoting revivals and multiplying conversions, nevertheless leaves permanent results in the faith of the believers. About the year 1862 the failure of his health brought his pastoral life to a close. He was able to preach but little; but his zeal for the work of his life led him, so far as he was able, to engage in other forms of Christian work. For some years after his removal to Delaware he held an appointment as agent of the American Bible Society. When his strength no longer sufficed for this work, he gracefully and unmurmuringly relinquished all active forms of ministerial labor. Happily, by a kind providence, he was able to live comfortably and cheerfully. In 1842 he was married to Martha Hamilton, of Waynesborough, Pa., a most estimable woman, who, though long an invalid, still survives him. With such a family around him, his last years were years of great domestic and personal happiness and satisfaction. His health, never rugged, received nearly a year ago a sudden shock, which, while it left him paralyzed and helpless, did not render him insensible or incapable of communicating with his friends.

David Gray, one of the oldest superannuated ministers of the Central Ohio Conference, died suddenly of neuralgia of the heart at his home in Findlay, O., October 24, 1887. He was born near Dover, Del., March 24, 1800. He was converted and joined the Methodist Church at the age of eighteen; married at the age of twenty, and some years later moved with his family to Ohio, where he was licensed to preach, joining the old Ohio Conference. Soon after, by the division of the Conference, his lot was cast in the North Ohio Conference, where he labored for many years. He was stationed two terms at Ashland, one at Wooster, Bucyrus, Norwalk, Millersburg, Canal Dover, Findlay, and a number of charges, and served one term as presiding elder on the Toledo District. He was one of the founders of our Church in Findlay, where he resided after his superannuation. He was an "Israelite indeed, in whom there was no guile." His public life was a pattern of faithfulness, his personal religious character a monument of simple yet sublime faith, spiritual wisdom, and Christ-like charity. His old age was remarkably sweet, rational, and peaceful. He walked with God. He literally and truly "fell asleep in Jesus," and his memory is indeed blessed.

East Tennessee Conference.

Charles K. Mayes was born a slave March 4, 1812, in Bath County, Virginia. He was converted, and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church in his twenty-second year. From the time of his conversion he felt that God had called him to the work of the Christian ministry, but he fought against his convictions of duty until he was twenty-seven years of age. He entered the ministry in 1839. While a slave his master would give him Saturday and Sunday, which he devoted entirely to the service of the Lord. At the reorganization of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the South he joined the Holston Conference, and was appointed presiding elder for three terms. He filled the following appointments at different times: Mossy Creek, New Market, Dandridge, Chucky Valley, Saint Paul, Warrensburg, Russellville, Tazewell, Rutledge, and Morristown, and after a service of nearly fifty years he was called to his reward on the 18th day of July, 1888, in the seventy-seventh year of his age. Brother Mayes had but few educational advantages, yet few ministers have been more abundant in good works, or more successful in bringing souls to Christ. He was a man of superior native ability, a diligent student of the Bible, and a clear thinker. As a preacher he was forcible and eloquent, often reaching the sublimest heights of true eloquence. As a man he was highly respected and loved. His labors every-where were crowned with success. The elements of success in the character of Brother Mayes were, first, a deep religious experience; second, an unswerving faith in the Holy Scriptures and the doctrines of the Church. He believed what he preached, and out of rich experience he testified of God's power not only to forgive sin, but to cleanse from all unrighteousness. Third, he had unflinching courage, sin he boldly assailed; and while the penitent found in him a sympathizing friend, the incorrigible were made to stand aface with an angry God and a future retribution.

Central Tennessee Conference.

David Linsey McCaleb was born in Putnam County, Tenn., in 1837. Converted in 1869, he united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, and soon after was licensed to preach. Early in his ministry he organized the Falling Water charge, and for some years supplied that charge as pastor, with eminent credit both to himself and the Church which he loved. In 1882 he was admitted on trial into the Central Tennessee Conference, and for five years did faithful and efficient work as pastor of Short Mountain, Laurel Hill, and Dowelltown charges, greatly strengthening and building up the Church in those charges. At the last session of our Conference, held at Dickson, though suffering great physical affliction, Brother McCaleb was present to answer at roll-call, and was returned by Bishop Andrews for a second year at Dowelltown. But "man proposes and God disposes," and so in one short week after the adjournment of Conference, on the 31st day of October, 1887, surrounded by his devoted family and friends, he heard the sweet voice of our great loving Father, saying, "It is enough; come up higher;" and the spirit of the great-hearted, brave, and self-sacrificing McCaleb triumphantly ascended to the mansions on high.

Southern Illinois Conference.

Josiah Gibson was born October 6, 1817, near Manchester, Va. When nineteen years old Brother Gibson was converted. In 1842 he was licensed to preach, and in 1843 admitted on trial in the Pittsburg Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church. In 1845 he was ordained deacon by Bishop Hamline, and in 1847 elder by Bishop Janes. In the Pittsburg Conference he served the following appointments: Florence, Brownsville, Flushing, Greensborough, Wellsville, Johnstown, McKeesport, and Beaver. In 1854 he was transferred to the Rock River Conference and appointed to Joliet. In 1856 he was placed as presiding elder of Joliet District. From 1860 to 1864 he was in charge of Mount Morris District. In 1864 he became pastor at Elgin, and the next year on account of poor health took the superannuate relation. In 1870 with restored health he resumed his place in the active ranks, being then transferred to the Southern Illinois Conference. He served the Upper Alton Charge, Edwardsville, Bunker Hill, Brighton, Greenville, and Effingham. At the age of sixty-three he retired from the active work of the ministry, but until the close of life was a zealous laborer in the Master's work. Brother Gibson married Miss Elvera A. Ebbert, of Brownsville, Pa., December 31, 1845. After a week's illness from typhoid fever, Brother Gibson, on June 14, 1888, ceased at once to work and live. He was a great student of God's word, having read the New Testament one hundred and seventeen times and the Old Testament forty-nine times in the original languages. He was a tender, loving husband and father, a minister of great usefulness, fidelity, and power, both as preacher and pastor; a true friend, a noble Christian man. All who knew him loved and honored him.

Wisconsin Conference.

William Morse died at his home in Charles City, Iowa, August 30, 1888. He was born in Booneville, N. Y., April 19, 1808; was converted in 1830; was married in 1831. He was stricken with paralysis, and his life gradually waned until it went out. He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church for nearly sixty years, and a minister about fifty-five years. As a minister he was very successful. He labored in the following charges in Black River Conference: North Manlius, Collosse, Clay, Lysander, and Rose Valley. In 1858 he went west and settled in Ripon, Wis. The pastor having died he was called to fill the vacancy thus made. He joined the Conference, and was reappointed and stayed his full constitutional term. He served, besides, Dartford, Markesan, Alto, Princeton, and Green Lake. In 1872 he removed to Kearney, Neb., spent several years in that new country, organized the present Methodist Episcopal Church in that city, and established other churches throughout the country. In 1881 he removed to Charles City, where he lived a comparatively retired life. With emphasis it may be said of him, "Behold an Israelite indeed, in whom is no guile."

Jesse Halstead was born April 20, 1796, in Bedford, N. Y. He was gathered to his fathers from Rockford, Ill., August 24, 1888. His brother Henry became a popular and successful pastor in the Oneida Conference. Bishop Peck acknowledged him as spiritual father. In 1831 Brother Halstead served as junior preacher on Lebanon Circuit with William Rounds and Lyman Beach. Among the fruits of the great revival under the labors of these men was Luke Hitchcock, afterward so long a western Book Agent. It was said that one of these preachers felled the timber, the other rolled the logs together, and Jesse Halstead set them on fire. After laboring as supply till 1837, he was admitted on trial by the Troy Conference and transferred to the Illinois Conference. He was stationed in 1838 at Crete Mission; in 1839 Deansburg Mission, Milwaukee District; in 1840 Fond du Lac, where in 1839 he had preached the first sermon ever preached in the county. He also served Monroe, Hazel Green, Prairie du Chien and Lancaster, and other places. He was ordained local deacon by Bishop Hedding in 1835, and elder by Bishop Waugh in 1841, at the first meeting of Rock River Conference, held on a camp-ground near Mount Morris. He was one of the original members of the Wisconsin Conference, organized in 1848. He continued in the active work till 1861, except three years of feeble health spent east. Since his superannuation in 1861 he has resided in Rockford, Ill. September 7, 1841, he was married to Miss Louisa Malloroy, who still survives him. He was a man of wonderful revival power, and multitudes acknowledged him their spiritual father. His stern integrity, his child-like simplicity, his heroic devotion, his mighty faith gave him favor and power with God and men.

William Montgomery Anderson was born March 24, 1823, at Howland, O., and died April 28, 1888, at Seneca, Kan. In a protracted meeting held by the United Brethren at Howland, he was converted January 16, 1846. He was received as a member in the Methodist Episcopal Church by Rev. Ira Norris. He was married April 30, 1846, to Miss Hester A. Near, who died in Christian hope September 20, 1879. He served the church as steward, leader, exhorter, and local preacher, and was received on trial in the Wisconsin Conference in 1857, and in full connection in 1859. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Baker, and elder by Bishop Clark, September 9, 1865. His fields of labor were Princeton and Marcellon as a supply; by regular appointment, Saxeville, Hemlock, Green Lake, Markesan, Plover, Badger, Weyauwega, Wausau, Chilton, Almond, and Ogdensburg. In 1870 Brother Anderson removed to Roney, Hickory County, Mo., and from thence, after a few years, to the place of his decease. During his ministry he saw many souls converted. His voice was strong, his imagination active; his sermons were plain and forcible. Oftentimes appointed to preach the Gospel on the frontier, he found ample use for the health and strength with which he was endowed. In the years of his superannuation he was constant in attendance at the means of grace, rejoicing in the prosperity of Zion. When the last messenger called him he was ready.

Delos Hale was born March 27, 1820, in New Lisbon, N. Y., and died September 1, 1888, in Atkinson, Neb. On December 6, 1839, he was united in marriage to Miss Delight Warner. Our brother was converted in 1835. He came to Wisconsin, and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church at Concord. In 1854 he was licensed to preach, and the same year was received on trial in the Wisconsin Conference. He was ordained deacon in 1856 by Bishop Simpson, and in 1858 was ordained elder by Bishop Morris. He served the following charges by regular appointment: Oak Creek, West Bend, Heart Prairie, Wauwatosa, and Sylvania. It was on this last charge that a most remarkable revival crowned his labors. His burning zeal and unsparing efforts proved too much for his strength, and he was compelled to retire from the active work of the ministry. Yet his zeal for the Master did not allow him to remain inactive, so he labored from time to time as his strength permitted. He supplied Northport, Winneconne, and Poysippi. A few years ago he moved to Nebraska, and when the summons of death came it found him ready, and he passed peacefully and triumphantly from labor to reward.

George Samuel Hubbs was born in Spencerport, N. Y., February 1, 1843, and died at Lake Mills, Wis., October 12, 1887. In January, 1863, he married Miss Harriet E. Boone of Beloit. He was engaged in teaching up to April, 1865, when Rev. J. H. Jenne, presiding elder, sent him to Stoughton to fill out that year. He joined the Wisconsin Conference on trial at its next session. Not being present at the Conference of 1867, he was received into full connection at the Conference of 1868, at Racine, Bishop Ames presiding. He was ordained elder at the Conference of 1870, in Janesville, by Bishop Clark. His appointments were: Stoughton, McFarland, Watertown, Lake Mills, Beloit, Clinton, Appleton, Marinette, and Watertown again. He took a superannuated relation in 1883, but continued to preach occasionally, and spent several months in lecturing on temperance. He went to New Mexico for his health in the winter of 1885. Ten days after he reached New Mexico he was appointed pastor of our Church in Santa Fé, and continued in charge of that Church until the next November, when he was obliged to leave the work on account of his failing health. The next spring he returned with his family to Wisconsin. Brother Hubbs was genial and courteous, a man of giant mind, and wonderful memory. One said of him that "his memory was like an apothecary's shop, every thing was labeled and put away to be used when needed." Brother Hubbs was an able preacher; he kept himself up and abreast with all the important questions of the day. He said to Brother Thomas Walker not long before he died, "Tell my brethren to preach the word; to be faithful in pastoral visiting; it is not a question whether we love pastoral work or study best, but a question of the salvation of souls."

George Fellows, M.D., was born on the 21st of May, 1830, in Depeyster, N. Y., and died on the 31st of January, 1888, in Waukesha, Wis. While in his minority he came with his parents to this State, and when a little more than twenty years old he was brought to God. At the Conference of 1852 he was received on trial in Wisconsin Conference and appointed to Wauwatosa Circuit as junior preacher. The next year he sustained the same relation on Grafton Circuit. His subsequent appointments until 1859 were Hartford, Oconomowoc, Beaver Dam, and Kenosha. In 1859 our Conference held two sessions, one commencing April 20, the other October 13. At the latter Brother Fellows located to attend the Biblical Institute at Evanston, where he was graduated in 1862, when he was readmitted and stationed at Asbury Church, Milwaukee. Toward the close of his term in this charge, he received a communication from Rev. E. Yocum, presiding elder on Madison District in West Wisconsin Conference, asking him to come by transfer to that Conference, with a view of serving the Church at Madison the following year. He signified his willingness to do so, but as some complications had arisen over the arrangement Brother Fellows again located and was put in charge there by the presiding elder. By the almost unanimous request of the official board he was in like manner appointed there another year. He was again readmitted to Wisconsin Conference in 1866, and was appointed successively to Oconomowoc, Waukesha, Menosha, Cotton Street Church, Fond du Lac; Agent of the American Bible Society; Waupaca District; Ripon, Sun Prairie, and Oshkosh, Second Church. From 1882 to 1886, inclusive, his name appears in the list of supernumeraries, and in 1887 in that of superannuates. He was married to Miss Emeline E. Gurnee on the 15th of August, 1854. His death was very sudden and unexpected, being stricken down while engaged in conversation with his wife on the eve of a journey. He had a thirst for knowledge, and readily grasped ideas. He loved the itinerancy, and indeed all the institutions of our Church, and sought to do all the work of a Methodist preacher. Owing, perhaps, to an unusual promptness of manner, he was sometimes misunderstood by those who did not know him intimately.

George William Wells was born in Birmingham, England, April 4, 1834. He was trained in a Methodist home, and converted at the age of twenty. He came to America in 1855, and soon after united with the Primitive Methodist Church. Shortly after the war he united with the Wisconsin Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and served the following charges: Ederton and Albion, two years; three years at Emerald Grove, during which time he built a church at Richmond, then connected with the charge; Sun Prairie, three years, where he raised four thousand dollars, and saved the church building from being sold for debt; Whitewater, three years, where he raised eight thousand dollars, and freed that church from indebtedness; First Church, Janesville, where he raised eight hundred dollars. He was then appointed to First Church, Oshkosh, at a very critical period of its history. After great effort on the charge, throughout the Conference, and beyond its boundaries, to raise money, there still remained a debt of fourteen thousand dollars, and a membership scattered and discouraged. By his affable manner, good judgment, and skill in management he reduced the debt six thousand, and nearly doubled the membership during his three years of service. He was then appointed presiding elder, which office he held until death, a period of almost four years. As a preacher he was able. There was in his sermons an unction, a smoothness and readiness of utterance which moved and sometimes melted an audience, giving him large success in soul-winning. As a pastor he was unusually strong; his genial manner, his good humor, his kindness and willingness to help won all hearts. This was true of him not only as pastor, but as presiding elder. He won the hearts of the preachers as he had won the hearts of the people, by his self-sacrificing devotion to the interests of the Church. His ministry of thirty years was marked by success from the beginning to the close of life. He died in his home at Oshkosh, after nine weeks of great suffering, August 23, 1888.

Upper Iowa Conference.

HENRY PILBEAM was born February 22, 1815, in Sussex, England, and departed this life November 7, 1887. He united with the Oneida Conference in the autumn of 1839. In 1854 he asked for and was granted a certificate of location, in order that he might be the better able to minister to and care for his parents, who were suffering from sickness and the infirmities of age. In the fall of 1860 he was received on his certificate of location into Upper Iowa Conference, of which he remained an esteemed member until the chariot of the Lord carried him to our Father's house above. He served several charges in this then new country, doing hard work for the Master until his health failed, when he took a superannuate relation, which he sustained at the time of his death. In 1864 Brother Pilbeam was appointed to the West Irving Circuit. The circuit was composed of West Irving, Patterson's School House, Buckeye, Dayton, and Belle Plaine. He organized the first Methodist Episcopal society in Belle Plaine, and the Sabbath-school in his own house. His last illness was painful in the extreme, yet not a murmur escaped his lips. When asked by her who now is so sorely bereft, "Is it well?" he replied, "O, yes, yes, yes." He said, "Tell the brethren I have great peace." Thus lived and passed away a loyal and affectionate husband, a loving father, a faithful minister, and a model Christian.

JAMES A. WILSON was born June 21, 1835, in Decatur County, Ind., and died at his home in Chadron, Neb., April 28, 1888. He was converted in early life, and entered the itinerancy in the Iowa Conference in the year 1859. He was ordained deacon in 1861 by Bishop Scott, and elder in 1863 by Bishop Ames. He was transferred to the Des Moines Conference, and remained there five years; then in 1880 he was transferred to the Upper Iowa Conference, and at the same time asked for a location, but supplied in the meantime a charge at Fontanelle, Iowa, for two years. In the autumn of 1882 he removed to Mount Vernon, Iowa, for the purpose of educating his children. He preached as opportunity offered, and was readmitted to the Upper Iowa Conference in 1883, and appointed to De Witt. Soon after he was taken sick, and was unable to fill out the year on his appointment. In November, 1884, he moved with his family to Bordeaux, Neb., hoping thereby to improve failing health. He remained there a short time, and soon after went upon a claim near Chadron, Neb. At Chadron he was appointed justice of the peace and police judge, which office he held until near the time of his death. His death followed a brief but painful illness, in which he was gloriously supported by that grace which he had so long and faithfully preached to others.

Holston Conference.

LEMUEL BOGART was born in Carter County, Tenn., April 29, 1808, and departed this life, in great peace, at his home in Sevier County, Tenn., May 3, 1888. His parents were Methodists. He was converted on the 17th day of July, 1858, and was licensed to preach. He was ordained deacon May 23, 1866, and elder October 20, 1870. For fifteen years he filled good charges in the active itinerancy. He was a most systematic and successful preacher. He continued effective until failing health compelled him to retire upon the superannuated list. He was severely afflicted for several years previous to his death, but was always patient and resigned. His most estimable wife preceded him to the heavenly glory about two years.

WILLIAM T. JONES was born in North Carolina, February 27, 1857. He joined the Holston Conference in 1883, and was appointed to the Decatur Circuit, where he served the Church two years with great acceptability. During the first two years of Brother Jones's ministry in the traveling connection the Lord was with him, and many precious souls were born into the kingdom of God. He left that charge with great honor. He was sent the following year to the Hamilton Circuit, and remained there two years, during which time he greatly endeared himself to the people, and was deservedly popular. While Brother Jones was on this work a number of prominent citizens were converted, and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church. At the Conference of 1886 he was appointed to Rockwood, where he finished his work. He was abundant in labors in this new field, which resulted in great and permanent good to the Church, town, and community. He was a hard student, earnestly endeavoring to keep pace with the times. Brother Jones was a strong preacher. Perhaps there are few men in this Conference that excelled him in preaching, and none in piety. He preached his last sermon on the first Sunday in July, and was taken sick with fever that afternoon. At eleven o'clock, on July 28, the heroic Jones went "sweeping through the gates, washed in the blood of the Lamb." Glory to God, our preachers die well!

West Wisconsin Conference.

W. B. HASELTINE was born in Middleton, Vt., May 22, 1816, married to Sarah Woodruff, January 8, 1835. She departed this life in 1857, and in 1858 he married Miss Pamelia Holt. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Hedding, May 11, 1845, and elder by Bishop Morris, May 31, 1847. He served the Church in the Troy Conference until 1855, when he removed to Wisconsin. In the fall of the same year, when the West Wisconsin Conference was organized, he became a member of it by transfer or readmission. His appointments have been: Baraboo Mission, Oxford, Oxford and Montello, Portage City, Prairie du Chien District four years, supernumerary one year, Mineral Point, Black River Falls, Avoca, Linden, Delton and Kilbourn, North Freedom, Sparta, and North Lacrosse. The remaining years were spent as a supernumerary, until his last year, when he was superannuated. At the time of his departure he was supplying the church at Mazomanie. Brother Haseltine was a man of thought. He prepared and preached his own sermons. Mighty in faith and prayer with divine strength he won for the master victories, trophies of the cross that will make the glorified man shine forever and ever.

WILLIAM H. THOMPSON was born in Tyringham, Mass., October 7, 1817. He joined the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1835, and about three years afterward was licensed to preach. He was received on trial in the Wisconsin Conference in 1850. In 1852 he was ordained deacon by Bishop Ames, and in 1854 an elder by Bishop Morris; he served the following charges in the Conference: Appleton Mission, Waupun, Madison Mission, Baraboo, Delton, and one year as agent of the Mineral Point Seminary. His health failing in 1858 he received a superannuated relation. During three years he served the Conference as secretary. About 1862 he removed to Chicago, where he resided at the time of his death. He was twice married, first in November, 1839, to Miss Sally M. Millard, and in 1847 to Miss Orilla Mann. The first Methodist Episcopal Church in Madison was finished and dedicated during his pastorate there, much of the work being done by himself, he being an excellent mechanic. While in Baraboo in 1853 he introduced a system of uniform lessons in the Sunday-school there, thus being many years in advance of the "Berean" idea. In all the charges he served up to the time of his superannuation he witnessed very gracious revivals; and in the failure of his health after only six years of effective service the Church lost a most efficient workman.

West Virginia Conference.

THOMAS P. RYAN was born in Fayette County, Va. (now West Va.), December 23, 1833, where he grew to manhood. He was converted in the thirty-second year of his age, and received license as a local preacher in 1867. Having traveled four years as a supply, Brother Ryan was admitted on trial in the West Virginia Conference, March, 1874. He was ordained elder in 1877. He traveled as an itinerant preacher in all seventeen years. He continued in the effective ranks up to the time of his tragic death. He was a man eminently noted for industry and honesty in the common affairs of life, and for his unswerving devotion to God and the Church. He was one of the purest and best of men. In his intercourse with the people in his fields of labor Brother Ryan every-where made the impression that his one aim was the glory of God and good of men. As a preacher he was intelligent, scriptural, earnest, and popular. The last two years of his ministry were spent on Charleston Circuit, where he had wonderful success. He attended the session of our Conference in Parkersburg in 1887, and was appointed by Bishop Bowman to the East Charleston Circuit, which he never reached. He reached home from Conference on the Tuesday night following the close of its session, expecting to remain with his family some days before going to his new charge; but two days later, on the night of October 13, 1887, at the hour of eleven P. M., the front door of his house was forced open by a band of unknown men, who demanded the surrender of his money. A shot was fired in the hall, the ball entering the ceiling, but doing no other damage. Almost simultaneously with this another was fired from the outside of the house; the ball passed through the wall near where Brother Ryan was standing, and striking him in the right side near the hip, passed entirely through his body. Brother Ryan fell to the floor, and when sufficiently recovered from the shock to speak, he said to his wife, "Mother, I am killed." He crawled across the floor toward where his wife stood, and was assisted up-stairs by the only boy that was at home that night. He said: "Tell my brethren of the Conference how I go."

South-east Indiana Conference.

FERNANDO CORTES HOLLIDAY was born in Essex County, N. Y., November 30, 1814. He was admitted to the Indiana Conference at its session in Centerville, October 22, 1834, and sent to Wayne Circuit, and the two following years to Connersville Circuit, Rising Sun two years Madison, Jeffersonville, Greensburg, Evansville, New Albany, and Indianapolis. In 1849 Bishop Janes transferred him to the Missouri Conference and stationed him at Ebenezer, Saint Louis. He returned the next year to the Indiana Conference, and was stationed at Saint John's, Madison, and Lawrenceburg. In 1852 he was on the Lawrenceburg District, then one year on the Connersville District, then three years on the Indianapolis District, and a full term on the Connersville District. After this he labored for two years at Asbury Chapel, Indianapolis; then two years on the Lawrenceburg District. In 1868 he was stationed at Roberts Chapel, where he remained for three years. After a year on the Greensburg District he was four years on the Indianapolis District, then four years on the Connersville district. In 1880 and 1881 he served the Connersville station, then for three years the Church at Madison. Here his faithful wife died. Dr. Holliday was three years on circuits, twenty-three years on districts, and twenty-six years on stations. He was elected to four General Conferences—those of 1856, 1860, 1868, and 1876. He was a well-informed man, and he kept fully abreast of the age. In debate he was calm, practical, and ready. When in charge no work suffered in his hands. He was faithful as a pastor, and industrious and successful as a worker in every department. He was easily first among his brethren in generalship and achievement of measures. His style of preaching was clear, practical, and forcible. He was equally at home in the log meeting-house and in the magnificent edifice. He grew old gracefully, retaining his sprightliness and vigor with remarkable tenacity. For over fifty years he labored for the Master, and never suffered his heart's best affection to wander into any other service. He was a man of one work. Bishop Ames once said, "There are two men in the Conference who never turned aside to any speculation—Enoch G. Wood and F. C. Holliday."

FRANCIS SIMEON POTTS was born on the 23d day of January, 1825, in the County of Harrison, State of Indiana. In October, 1848, he was recommended for admission to the Indiana Conference. From this point his itinerant ministry reached forward into the fortieth year, including the following charges in the order named: East Connersville, Milton, White Creek, Fulton, North Madison, Hanover, Moore's Hill, Fulton, again; Franklin, Wooster, Bellview, Acton, Southport, Franklin, again; Vienna, Seymour, Vevay, Charlestown, Utica, Edenburg, Pattison and Edwin Ray, Indianapolis, Southport, again; Greenwood, Liberty, Milton again, and Milroy. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Morris, October 13, 1850, and elder, October 10, 1852, by Bishop Osmon C. Baker. His was a character that would bear the closest scrutiny—one that from the severest trial would come forth with a clearer luster. His truth was as transparent as a sunbeam, and as straightforward. He was polite without affection, modest without diffidence, frank without rudeness, pious without pretense, true to his friends, and forgiving to any who would do him wrong. Twice he was married: first in 1859, November 16, and again in 1866, March 22. Nearly three years ago he was thrown from his carriage and almost fatally injured; but from that he had just recovered to meet a similar accident that proved fatal. This was May 12, and on May 14, 1888, about twelve o'clock M., he gently passed away.

Indiana Conference.

HENRY S. DANE was born in Stockbridge, Vt., March 8, 1805; died September 1, 1888, at Mooresville, Ind., aged eighty-three years. Like many pioneer preachers, his early life was one of hardships and toil. After his conversion, in his eighteenth year, two impressions were ever present in his mind —the want of an education, and the call to the ministry. He soon began the attainment of the one and the practice of the other. He studied his school-books at his work, and theology riding to his appointments. He was licensed to preach in 1824, and was a supply till 1831. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Emory in 1835. He entered the New Hampshire Conference in 1832 and filled the following appointments: Hartland, Springfield, Old Weston. He moved to Indiana in 1836, traveling 1,800 miles in a one-horse wagon, bringing with him his wife and one child. In the Indiana Conference he traveled the following circuits: Brookville, Belleville, Mar-tinsville, Canaan, Shelbyville, Springville, Versailles, Gosport, White Lick. He took a superannuate relation in 1858. He was a member of the Conference fifty-one years, and never missed a single session. Father Dane was one of the purest, holiest men that ever graced a Conference roll. Indiana Conference has lost its oldest member.

JOHN V. R. MILLER was born near New Salem, N. C., March 30, 1816. He was received into the Indiana Conference on trial in 1839, and appointed as follows: Noblesville, Shelbyville, Greenfield, Westfield, Franklin, Burlington, and Bedford. In 1847, being in poor health, he took a superannuated relation. In 1848 he was made effective, and appointed to Edinburg, Greensburg, and Clarksburg. In 1852 by the division of the Indiana Conference he fell into what is now South-east Indiana Conference, when he took an active part in the organization of the Conference, his appointments being Rushville, Franklin, Southport, and Aurora. In 1858 he was transferred to North Indiana Conference, and stationed at Union Chapel, now Grace Church, in Richmond. In 1860 he was made presiding elder of West Fort Wayne District, in which relation he continued three years. In 1863 he was appointed to Roberts Chapel, Indianapolis, where he continued two years. In 1865 he was appointed presiding elder of Indianapolis District, in which relation he continued four years. In 1869 he was appointed to Pearl Street (now First Methodist Church) Richmond, where he continued three years. In 1872 his appointment was Knightstown, to which he was appointed the second year. In 1874 he was made presiding elder of Logansport District. At the end of two years he was transferred to the North-west Indiana Conference, and stationed at Locust Street Church, Greencastle. This was in April, 1876. The next month, at the General Conference held in Baltimore, the Conference lines were so changed that he and his church were assigned to Indiana Conference. He remained in Greencastle two years, after which he was stationed at Corydon, Ames Church, Indianapolis; Ingle Street, Evansville; Bedford, Paoli, Orleans, Belleville, and Waverly. During the year 1886 his health gave way, and at Conference he took a superannuated relation. Brother Miller was ordained deacon by Bishop Roberts in 1841, and elder by Bishop Andrew in 1843. He was a delegate to the General Conference in 1864. He was a strong and vigorous preacher, and a diligent and faithful pastor. As a debater on questions of Church polity and ecclesiastical law he had few superiors. In 1843 he was married to Miss Elizabeth McLaughlin. On the morning of his death great joy filled his being, as though the raptures of the celestial state were already begun. His triumph was complete. He fell asleep October 12, 1887, in his seventy-second year.

ANTHONY WOODSON SHIVELY at the time of his death was a superannuated and highly respected member of the Indiana Conference. He was born in Virginia, January 21, 1816, married to Miss Caroline Marquis, April 7, 1839, converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church at Belleville, Ind., in 1848, and licensed to preach in 1849. He was admitted on trial into the Indiana Conference in 1852, ordained deacon by Bishop Ames, and elder by Bishop Waugh. His first appointment was Sullivan, where he remained one year. Subsequently he was assigned to the following fields of labor: Brazil Mission, Bowling Green, Bloomington Mission, Waverly, Nashville, one year each; Brownstown, two years; Springville, Newberry, Loogootee, one year each; Haysville, Orangeville, two years each; Newton Stewart, Troy, Plainville, Jasonville, and Switz City, one year each. Brother Shively was not a brilliant preacher, but he told "the story of Jesus and his love" with such earnestness and simplicity as to win trophies for the Lord Jesus Christ, and to convince his hearers that he was a man of God sent forth with the message of salvation to those who were ready to perish. At the close of the Conference year, 1872, he retired from the effective ranks, taking a superannuated relation, yet continuing to preach as much as he was able till the close of his earthly pilgrimage. Some time during the summer of 1883, his family removed to Nebraska, but Brother Shively remained in Indiana until after the meeting of his Conference. After Conference he hastened to his Western home at River View, Buffalo County, Neb. Here with his old-time energy he engaged in missionary work, preaching and organizing Sunday-schools. This he continued to do until the first Sabbath in December, 1887, when he preached his last sermon. On Sabbath morning he went to Sartoria, some seven miles from his home, to fill his appointment. While preaching he became very warm, and going out of doors too soon he became chilled, and was attacked with a severe headache and high fever, followed with congestion and inflammation of the stomach and bowels, from which he died on Monday of the following week. His faithful wife was with him, administering as much as possible to his comfort. Brother Shiveley was of a cheerful, sweet-spirited disposition, and his presence was a benediction to those families who were fortunate enough to entertain him.

J. W. ASBURY was born in Maysville, Mason County, Ky., January 7, 1823, and died in Petersburg, Ind., March 4, 1888. In 1850 he married Matilda M. Mahan, who continued with him until his death. He entered upon the duties of an itinerant minister in 1856 in the Indiana Conference, and served with great acceptability the following appointments: Brazil, Quincy, Graysville, Ellettsville, Erie, Martinsville, Moresville, Ames Church, Indianapolis, Rockport, Bedford, Spencer, Salem, Prairieton, Mitchell, New Lebanon, Mount Vernon, and Petersburg. He was loved and respected by all. He always spoke to the purpose, was strong in argument, and irresistible in his conclusions. He searched for the truth, and when convinced that he had found it, he had the moral courage to preach it. He always remembered the poor and visited the sick. He lived in his life what he preached. His death was very sudden and unexpected. He was conducting the funeral service over the remains of one of his aged members, and when almost through with the ceremonies he in a trembling voice said: "I can say no more." He sank back on the pulpit sofa and fell into a state of unconsciousness from which he never recovered.

JAMES FRANKLIN FISH was born in Gallatin County, Ky., February 19, 1813, and died of paralysis of the heart at Ellettsville, Ind., December 4, 1887, at six o'clock P.M. At the age of sixteen he was converted and joined the church. In 1854 he was licensed to preach, and in 1856 joined the Indiana Conference and was appointed to the following charges: Nashville, Mooresville Circuit, Jonesville, Erie, Leesville, Houston, Standford, Williamsburg, Rockport, Otwell, New Philadelphia, Mauckport, Monrovia, Quincy, Waverly, and Ellettsville. In 1878 he was superannuated and moved to Franklin, where he lived three years and supplied the following charges: Marietta, Arlington, and Rockland. He then moved into the bounds of the Indiana Conference and supplied Eminence, Farmersburg, and Clay City. At Clay City he did his last regular work in the ministry and moved to Monrovia, his home at the time of his death. Brother Fisk was a good man, full of faith and the Holy Ghost. As a preacher, he was earnest, plain, and bold. His ministry of thirty-one years in the Indiana Conference was attended with considerable revival interest; his sermons, prayers, songs, and exhortations all tended to impress one with the deep earnestness of his spirit.

Dakota Conference.

William Vivian was born April 13, 1850, in Cornwall, England. His parents were members of the Wesleyan Church, and, like all Cornish Methodists, were earnest and demonstrative in their religious convictions and experience. Brother Vivian came to the United States in the year 1874 and settled in Wisconsin. He entered Garrett Biblical Institute in 1880, and filled acceptably and admirably several charges in the vicinity of Chicago while he pursued a thorough course of theological study. After his graduation he came to Dakota and devoted himself to the work of the ministry. During the second year his health failed, and at the next session of the Conference he was stationed at Dell Rapids, in hope that the change might prove beneficial to his health, but this hope was not realized. The climate agreed with him, and hoping for complete restoration he went to San Fernando in April, 1887. For some time his health improved, and it was hoped that he might once more be permitted to engage in his work of preaching the Gospel; but as the months passed away it gradually became evident that complete recovery was impossible. On August 26, 1888, he preached his last sermon. He spoke with great earnestness and apparent ease. On Friday, August 31, he was taken with a sudden and profuse hemorrhage. Contrary to all indications, his strength rallied, the hemorrhage ceased, and for some days he seemed to be comfortable. The improvement, however, was only temporary. Friday, September 7, the release came. He was conscious to the last, and testified to the power of divine grace to support the soul in death as well as in life. Praises to the Lord were often upon his lips; and when unable to articulate distinctly the practiced ear of his wife could detect the words, oft repeated, "Our Father, which art in heaven," the beginning of the prayer he doubtless learned at his mother's knee, and thus at the close as well as at the commencement of his earthly life his thoughts were of mother, God, and heaven.

East Ohio Conference.

Samuel Lybrand Binkley was born at Tarlton, Pickaway County, O., February 17, 1836, and died at Barnesville, O., September 24, 1887. In 1859 he was received on trial into the Indiana Conference. On September 16 of this year he was married to Miss Lizzie R. Carter. He served Moorfield, Poseyville, and Patoka Circuits, and in 1861, having offered himself for missionary work, he was appointed missionary to China, and set sail November 12 for Foochow. Dr. S. L. Baldwin writes of him: "He was a most devoted, painstaking, conscientious missionary. He made good progress in the language, and began to preach it successfully." The serious illness of his wife, however, compelled his return; and in March, 1864, he left China, homeward bound. On that return Dr. Baldwin says: "I shall never forget the contrast between that home-going missionary and the out-going one of two and a half years previous. He seemed like a heart-broken man; the tears fairly rained down his cheeks. He said to me between his sobs: 'I can't bear to leave China. I haven't been able to do any thing for Jesus yet; and I had hoped to spend my life here.' Yet it was under his preaching that Ling Ching Ting was awakened, and under his careful instruction that he was led to Christ." Thus, though brief his missionary work, and though he was never permitted to go again to China, his work there has continued in increasing power. He also educated a young man, Ting Neng Chiek, at his own expense, through a course of six years, who is now a faithful preacher in the Foochow Conference. Returning to the Indiana Conference, he was pastor of Roberts Chapel, New Albany, three years, 1864–67. He served as pastor at Mount Vernon, Ind., 1867–70; Vincennes, 1870–72; Centenary Church, New Albany, 1872–74; Martinsville, Ind., 1874–76. Suffering from malaria, a change of climate was thought best, and in September, 1876, he was transferred to the East Ohio Conference, and stationed at Kingsville, where he remained two years. He then served Alliance, 1878–80, and Prospect Street Church, Cleveland, 1880, until April, 1882, when, his health failing, he resigned his charge and sought rest and restoration. September, 1883, he was appointed to Saybrook. In 1884, with restored health, he was appointed to Barnesville. Here, at the close of a three years' pastorate, where he had had unbroken health and a most successful ministry, adding to the church fully three hundred souls, he was stricken with typhoid fever, and after four weeks of extreme suffering, closed his labors on earth and entered heaven. Brother Binkley was a Gospel preacher, clear in his understanding and faithfully applying the truth as it is in Christ, and able to make it effective unto the salvation of souls. He was a man of faith, and ofttimes wonderfully effective in prayer. Nowhere was he more at home, whether in private or in public, than upon his knees, in fervent petition to a throne of grace. He was a faithful pastor, visiting the homes of rich and poor alike, and a chord of sympathy united him alike with the highest and the humblest.

David Gordon was for many years a member of the Pittsburg Conference, and afterward of the East Ohio Conference, until his death. He was born in West Liberty, Va., November 20, 1812, and died in Kimbolton, O., October 20, 1887. In 1838, having completed his studies in Allegheny College, he was admitted on trial in the Pittsburg Conference. His first appointment was Indiana Circuit, Pa., and his last Kimbolton, O., embracing forty-two years of uninterrupted ministerial service. In 1840 he was united in marriage with Jane T. Dickey, of Indiana, Pa. Her death in 1878 sadly broke his courage. After his superannuation in 1880 he was married again to Elizabeth Peregoy, a sister of the Rev. W. Peregoy, of the East Ohio Conference. He was known to his brethren in the ministry as an earnest, patient servant of the Church, who took the work allotted him, however hard it might be, and did the best he could, without complaining. As a preacher he was deliberate, thoughtful, "rightly dividing the word," a firm believer in the doctrines of the Church, and an able defender of them always. In the pastoral office he was kind and sympathetic in the presence of sorrow or weakness. Withal he was a man of deep humanities and great kindliness of spirit. The permanent value of his work no one can measure. He wrought for the church, himself its willing and unflagging servant, and grace wrought his whole life unto timely and blessed service for the Master.

Caleb Brown was born in Butler County, Pa., November 7, 1802, and died in Deerfield, O., December 17, 1887. In 1828 he was admitted to Erie Conference. He endured cheerfully the hardships of the itinerant life. He was recognized as a strong preacher, and was called to fill some of the best appointments in the Conference, such as Geneva, Painesville, Youngstown, Akron, and New Castle. In 1848 he was taken with hemorrhage of the lungs. He was unable to preach for two years. He then thought he was able to take work, and was appointed to Gustavus, but was again taken with hemorrhage of the lungs. Realizing that his active work in the ministry was at an end, he took a superannuated relation, which he sustained until his death. During forty years of superannuation he was not idle, but was busy in the Sunday-school, in the prayer-meeting, in visiting the sick, and in every good word and work. He was not disposed to criticise the changes which have taken place since he began the work of the ministry, but rejoiced in the progress the Church had made. He kept abreast with the spirit of the Church and of the times in every moral reform. He was a true and sympathizing friend of the pastor.

All ministers were always welcome in his pleasant home. As a manly, Christian gentleman, he was loved and honored by all who knew him. Though his children have all passed on before, yet he enjoyed every comfort and received every attention which loving hands could provide, and often spoke of the attention and kindness of his good wife and many friends. His close of life was full of peace and joy. He loved to talk of the consolations of religion and his hope of a future life. He leaves a wife and many friends to mourn their loss.

JOHN W. WEAVER was born July 27, 1837, and died at Mineral Point, O., February 1, 1888. In 1859 he entered the Pittsburg Conference, where he remained until by the division he became a member of the East Ohio Conference, in which he remained until his work was done. He faithfully served the following charges: Mechanicsburg, Franklin, Centerville, Elizabeth and Rostraver, Connellsville, Florence, Pigeon Creek, Warrenton, East Plainfield, Milnersville, Somerton, Wintersville, Marlborough, New Cumberland, Mechanicstown. His health failed in 1885, and the following year he was unable to take work. In 1887 he was appointed to Sparta, or Sandyville Circuit, where his health again failing he resigned his charge and moved to Mineral Point, where he died in peace. Brother Weaver needed to be known to be appreciated. He was so kind and genial in his relation to his people that they readily became attached to him as a man. The longer he remained on a charge the more highly was he appreciated. It was refreshing to come in contact with his jovial spirit. True to his ordination vows, he went cheerfully to his fields of labor. He was a man of sterling integrity, pure motives, sunny disposition, and positive convictions. He was a faithful preacher of the word, and loyal to the Church in all her doctrines and discipline. No one who knew him ever feared that Brother Weaver would bring discredit to the Church either by word or act. His sickness was protracted and severe, yet his death was a triumph. His wife was Miss Nancy Hanlin, to whom he was married March 5, 1866.

JAMES DRUMMOND was born in Manchester, England, May 19, 1804. In 1836 he received his first appointment, known then as Saint Clairsville Circuit. His subsequent appointments were: Saint Clairsville, Cambridge, McConnellsville, agent for Allegheny College, Barnesville, Martin's Ferry, South Wheeling, Moundsville, Fairmount, Morgantown, Morgantown District, Wheeling District, Chaplain in the United States Hospital, Wheeling, Saint Clairsville again, Barnesville, Cadiz, Asbury Chapel, and Agent for the American Bible Society. He was a member of the Pittsburg, West Virginia, and East Ohio Conferences. He was elected delegate to the General Conference in 1844, 1848, 1856, 1860, and 1864. In 1876 he became superannuated, and resided in Cadiz, O., from the time of his last appointment to that charge until his death. On the 10th of May, 1888, his spirit winged its flight to its eternal home.

JEREMIAH PHILLIPS was born in Saratoga, N. Y., May 3, 1799, and died in Dexter City, O., July 5, 1888. In July or August, 1830, Brother Phillips was admitted to the Pittsburg Conference on trial, and stationed at Connellsville, Pa., with thirty-three appointments, and two hundred and eighty miles to ride each round. He had appointments every day in the week, excepting one, and two on Sunday. He was ordained a deacon by Bishop Emory, and elder by Bishop Soule. In 1864 he was granted a superannuated relation, but he was in active service as a supply until his eighty-eighth birthday, when in an anniversary sermon he delivered his last public address in Dexter City, O. During his ministry he served the following charges: Connellsville, Pa.; Parkersburg, Lewis, Harrison, and Monongalia, in Va.; Waynesburg, Pa.; Kingwood, Va.; Ligonier, Kittanning, Butler, and Murraysville, in Pa.; Cambridge, Sharon, Summerfield, Brownsville, Woodsfield, Newport, Senecaville, Beallsville, Moorefield, Monroe, and Stafford, in Ohio. Of these appointments he served Harrison, Ligonier, Kittanning, Brownsville, Woodsfield, Newport, and Beallsville, each two years; Sharon three years; Stafford four years; and Summerfield five years. On May 8, 1834, he was married to Miss Arah Courtney, who shared his joys and sorrows for almost fifty years, dying October 14, 1883. Brother Phillips was a man of deep piety; he loved to talk about God and his goodness. He knew all men as friends, loved all, and was loved by all. The influence of his godly life will long be felt in the neighborhoods where he has lived. His life was a life of trust in God, and in his death all was peace.

Ohio Conference.

JOSEPH MORRIS was born near Charleston, W. Va., March 12, 1811, and died April 26, 1888. In the winter of 1832 he was powerfully and happily converted. He was admitted on trial in the Ohio Conference in 1835. His first appointment was in the mountains of West Virginia, on the head-waters of the Guyandotte and Coal Rivers. In 1836 he was appointed to Elk River Mission. The same year he was received into full connection and ordained deacon by Bishop R. Roberts. In 1862 he enlisted in the Union Army as chaplain, and continued in the service to the close of the war. In the fall of 1865 he entered the itinerant work again. In 1868 he took a supernumerary relation on account of sickness in his family. In 1872 he was made effective. In 1877 he was granted a superannuated relation. He was an effective preacher for more than forty years. In the fall of 1884 he took charge of Jerseyville Circuit, and preached with great power and acceptability to the close of the year, when his health failed, and his active work as a minister of the Gospel was ended. Brother Morris was married August 18, 1840, to Miss Lucy A. Ballard, of Belpre, O., who shared with him the toils and privations of an itinerant life for twenty-eight years. She died at Washington C. H., February 20, 1869. In 1875 he was married to Mrs. S. C. Green, of Washington County, O., who survives him. He was an earnest and successful preacher, an attractive and forcible speaker.

SAMUEL BATEMAN was born at Shepherdstown, Va., 1811. He joined the Ohio Conference in 1838. He traveled in the regular work for forty years. He was superannuated at the Conference held in the fall of 1878. From that time he lived in Piketon, where he was greatly respected and beloved as a man of genuine Christian character. He had the confidence of all classes in an unusual degree. He had several strokes of paralysis, which for the last four years rendered him, to a great degree, helpless and nearly speechless; but he retained his consciousness until the last, and gave his friends to understand that his hope was sure and his peace abiding. His preaching was strictly Wesleyan, not ornate nor highly embellished, but gave matter for thought, and the very presence of the preacher was a benediction. In every charge he served he had friends very closely attached to him, and multitudes mourn at his death. He leaves an aged companion, who for all these years fully shared his sorrows and his joys, his battles and his triumphs.

ABRAHAM CARTLICH was born in Virginia, October 21, 1807, and died in Somerset, O., January 13, 1888, aged eighty years. Here he married Lucinda Will. He joined the Ohio Conference, held at Hamilton, O., in 1842, and was sent by Bishop T. A. Morris to Piketon and Waverly as his first appointment. The following are the appointments served by Brother Cartlich: Piketon and Waverly, McArthur, Jackson, Amesville, Athens, Barlow, McArthur again, Richmondale, Johnstown, Granville, South Salem, Clarksburg, Sharonville and Waverly, Bloomingburg, Massieville, Hebron, Burlington, Hanging Rock, Wilkesville, Franklin Valley, and Centerville. Here declining health compelled him to ask for a superannuated relation. In 1854 he was married to Jane Vangundy, the daughter of Rev. John Vangundy, a Methodist preacher. Brother Cartlich was a man of great faith in God, and hence success attended him wherever he went. Many spiritual children rise up and call him blessed. Sincerity and earnestness, combined with purity of character which was maintained through life without a stain, added to his perseverance and fortitude, were the elements of his ministerial success. After a long and severe illness he died in great peace, January 13, 1888.

William Wellington Cherington, son of Clement and Catharine Cherington, died of apoplexy, December 16, 1887. He was born in Gallia County, O., November 22, 1818. He was recommended from Piketon Circuit Quarterly Conference to the Ohio Conference, and received into the Conference, Rev. Andrew Carroll preacher in charge, and Rev. John Ferree presiding elder. His appointments were: Burlington Circuit, Jackson Circuit, Patriot Circuit, Gallipolis, McArthur, Amesville, Barlow, Coolville, Athens Circuit, Frankfort, Kingston, Deer Creek, Pleasant Valley, supernumerary; Milford Center, Clintonville, Harrisburg, Darbyville, Elizabethtown, Logan Circuit, Marshfield, superannuated. He settled in Columbus and connected himself with Broad Street Charge. His itinerant life was owned of God in the salvation of many precious souls. He was thrice married.

Thomas H. Monroe was born in Loudoun County, Va., May 15, 1818, and died in Amesville, O., February 11, 1888. He married Miss Margaret Armstrong in 1841. She died September 29, 1877. At the second session of the West Virginia Conference held at Clarksburg, October 10, 1849, he was admitted on trial and filled the following appointments: Monongalia Circuit, Weston Circuit, Fairmount, Morgantown, Chapline Street, Wheeling; Guyandotte District, Parkersburg and Moundsville. He was appointed by President Lincoln Chaplain to the United States hospital at Parkersburg, which position he held for two years. He traveled the Parkersburg District four years. In 1870 he was transferred to the Ohio Conference, and filled the following appointments: Putnam, London, Logan, Marietta, Gallipolis District, New Lexington, Athens Circuit, and Bartlett. In 1884 he took a superannuated relation. In 1886 he was made a supernumerary. In 1887 he was made effective and appointed to Amesville Circuit, where he closed his life and work. In 1879, his closing year on the Gallipolis District, he married Miss Ruth A. Smithers, who survives him. Three weeks before his death, while going from the home of one of the members of the church at Sand Rock appointment, he slipped on the icy ground and broke his left leg just above the ankle. For three weeks he appeared to be doing well, and no danger was apprehended; but suddenly he was seized with a pain about the heart and lungs, and in a few moments he was dead. Brother Monroe was a good preacher, a warm friend, a genial companion, catholic in his spirit, faithful in all departments of church work, and successful in winning souls to Christ.

Daniel Tracy was born in the State of Ohio, September 25, 1821, and died November 6, 1887. He was married to Mary Keck in 1844. Brother Tracy was admitted into the Ohio Conference in 1852. His first circuit consisted of a considerable part of Jackson County, including the town of Jackson. Early in his ministerial life he was thrown from his buggy, and the injuries he received at that time compelled him to retire from the active work of the ministry. He was superannuated in 1865, but after four years of rest he was made effective and given work. He was again superannuated in 1877, on account of the failing health of his wife. In life it was said of him that he was never seen to be angry. As a minister and pastor he was eminently successful, and much treasure awaited him in the glory world. His last days were clouded in sadness on account of derangement of the brain. He died in the Athens asylum, amid all the care and comforts of that splendid institution, and yet under the gloom of an oppressed mind.

James Quinn Lakin was born near Rushville, O., May 29, 1815. In 1842 he was licensed to preach by the Quarterly Conference at Marion. In 1851, at Springfield, O., he was ordained deacon by Bishop Morris. In 1854 he joined the Ohio Conference at Portsmouth and was assigned to Darby Creek Mission as his first charge. At the last session of our Conference it was thought best that he should superannuate. This caused him much sadness. He was old, and had worked long and hard, but it had always been his desire to "cease at once to work and live." His Lord was more nearly granting his desire than he was aware of. His last sermon was preached on the night of January 1, 1888. Soon after this he became prostrated by disease from which he never recovered. He was thrice married. The following are his appointments: Darby Creek Mission, Gallipolis, Swan, Burlington, Wheelersburg, New Holland, Bloomingburg, Staunton, Mount Sterling, Coolville, Letart, Beaver, Piketon, New Albany, Ringgold, Irville, Roseville, Philo, Thurman, Cheshire, Sugar Grove, superannuated. He died July 27, 1888.

Stephen Ryland was born in Alleghany County, Md., May 24, 1814. He was received on trial in the Ohio Conference in 1854, was ordained deacon by Bishop Ames in 1856, and ordained elder by Bishop Janes in 1858. His appointments were as follows: Elizabethtown, Hebron, Athens, Amesville, Barlow, Plymouth, Fairview, Roseville, Elizabethtown, Asbury, Johnstown, California, and Alexandria. In 1877 he took a supernumerary relation, and in 1879 he was granted a superannuated relation, and spent the closing years of his life in his home in Rushville, O. Brother Ryland was in failing health for more than a year. May 28, 1841, he married Anna Stolts. She died in 1887. Brother Ryland died of paralysis, January 16, 1888. He was a man of deep piety, an earnest preacher, and possessed a spotless character.

Charles Trimble King was born in Fayette County, O., March 22, 1857, and died April 29, 1888, in Columbus, O. Graduating with the class of 1885, he was placed in charge of Corning, in the Zanesville District. In the fall of that year he was admitted on trial into the Ohio Conference at its session in Delaware, and re-appointed as pastor at Corning, which he continued to serve two years more. One year ago he was received into full connection with the Conference, and appointed to Miller Avenue Church, Columbus. He successfully organized this new society, which, under his leadership, enjoyed an almost perpetual revival, and rapidly multiplied to self-supporting strength. Brother King was one of the most faithful of pastors. Conscientious and tender of spirit, he went in and out before his people without rebuke, and was ever ready to counsel the erring and comfort the sorrowing. He was ardently loved by his parishioners, and will ever be remembered for his patient, persevering spirit and kindly Christian manners.

Oregon Conference.

William Roberts, D.D., was born in Burlington, N. J., March 28, 1812, and died at Dayton, Ore., August 22, 1888, being seventy-six years of age. He was born of the Spirit at the age of sixteen, and for five years gave himself earnestly to the work of preparing for the Christian ministry, and at the age of twenty-one was employed by a presiding elder as second junior preacher on Tuckerton Circuit, Philadelphia Conference. At the expiration of the first year he was received as a probationer in the Conference, and was appointed as junior preacher on Saint George's charge, and at the end of the second year he was admitted to membership in the Conference, and stationed at Columbia, remaining the full disciplinary term of two years. At this time of life he was united in marriage with Miss Hannah Webster, who still survives him. Upon the division of the Philadelphia and the formation of the New Jersey Conference, Brother Roberts fell into the latter and was stationed two years at Paterson, N. J.; then at Halsey Street, Newark, then at Clinton Street, in the same city, remaining the full terms in each appointment. He was next stationed two years at Jersey City, then at New Brunswick, N. J., and before the end of the year he was selected by the authorities as a suitable man to superintend the missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church on the Pacific coast—in Oregon and California. In 1846 he sailed from New York, and arrived at his point of destination in the year succeeding. His life and labors on this side the continent are more familiar with many of us. As superintendent of the mission he was also presiding elder of the district, and president at the sessions of the Mission Conferences until the coming of Bishop Ames to the coast in 1853. At this period the work was placed under episcopal supervision, and took its place in the family of regular Conferences. He was selected by Bishop Kingsley to establish a mission in Idaho, which occupied his attention for two or three years. At the Conference at Roseburg in 1885 he took a supernumerary relation without appointment, and removed to Eastern Washington Territory. Here he engaged in preaching extensively, and at the close of the year took his place again in the effective ranks, and was placed in charge of Dayton Circuit, which appointment he filled with singular acceptability until the time of his decease.

J. T. Wolfe was born in Charles County, Md., April 13, 1834, and died in Corvallis, Ore., July 24, 1888. In 1854 he moved to Oregon, and in 1859 was received on probation in the Oregon Conference. In 1861 he was discontinued at his own request. He was readmitted in 1865. He was ordained deacon in 1867, and elder in 1870. His appointments were: Cowlitz, Dayton and North Yamhill, Roseburg, The Dalles, Walla Walla, Oregon City, presiding elder of Umpqua District, Hillsborough, and Olympia. His next appointments were: Eugene City, Astoria, Albany, Siletz Indian Reservation, Dayton, Oregon City, Shedd and Halsey, and Corvallis, where, in the twenty-fifth year of his ministry, he was transferred, by the Shepherd and Bishop of our souls, to the white-robed circle of the sons of God. Brother Wolfe was well known among his brethren. All remember his countenance, so frank and open; his manner, so gentle, genial, and winning; his sermons, so thoughtful and instructive, sometimes elegant, and delivered with that earnestness of conviction which impresses the mind and captivates the hearts of men. The young were drawn to him, and held him in lasting esteem. As a preacher of the Gospel he was popular and useful. Revivals adorned his ministry, and believers were benefited by his presence. For thirteen consecutive years the Conference elected him its secretary. In this onerous office he was careful, painstaking, exact. He was reserve delegate to the General Conference of 1888. The married life of Brother Wolfe began July 25, 1860. His companion was Miss Mary F. Nelson, daughter of the late Dr. Nelson, a beloved layman of our church. Typhoid fever was the disease of which he died. He was taken sick on the 4th of July, and on the 24th he passed away. When conscious he talked of the grace of Christ and the glory of heaven, and his words were words of triumph.

Thomas L. Sails was born in Howden, Yorkshire, England, December 29, 1840. He joined the Oregon Conference in 1874. His appointments were: Rock Creek, Dayton, Dallas, Brownsville, East Portland, Hall Street, Portland; Oregon City, and McMinnville, where he died at his post in the Methodist parsonage, with cancer of the stomach, February 26, 1888. Brother Sails was very original in his preaching, and his sermons abounded with illustrations, and sparkled with wit, and were so thoroughly interwoven with the word of God that they arrested the attention of the people and many were converted under his ministry. While pastor of the East Portland Church he was led into the experience of entire sanctification, under the preaching of Dr. (now Bishop) Taylor, November 30, 1881, and he said only a few days before his death: "I had no more doubt of it than of my conversion, which was unusually clear nine years before." He preached it as a definite experience.

Detroit Conference.

James Adolphus Dunlap was born in Clay Township, Mich., January 24, 1843. Converted in 1859, in 1868 he was appointed to supply a work in the township of Marion and Bridgehampton, in which he organized a new circuit. This charge is now known as Deckerville. In 1869 he was received on trial into the Detroit Conference and appointed to Austin Circuit, remaining two years. In 1871 he was received into full connection and appointed to Harrisville; serving subsequently Standish, Unionville, Cass City, Lambertville, Deckerville, Dryden, and Mount Vernon. He then located in Downington, where he remained until death, which occurred March 12, 1888. While principal of the school at Hannibal City, Mo., Brother Dunlap was married to Miss Sue Hill of that place. Hereafter his appointments will be on heavenly errands in the Church triumphant on high.

Wesley Hagadorn was born in the State of New Hampshire, April 7, 1838, and died at Pasadena, Cal., June 9, 1888, in the fifty-first year of his age. Brother Hagadorn was received on trial in the Detroit Conference at the session of 1861, and in full connection in 1863. His first charge was Armada, and in 1862 he was appointed to North Branch. In 1863-64 he was at Hadley and Goodrich. At the Conference of 1865 he was ordained to the office of an elder, and appointed as follows: Almont, Marine City, Mount Morris, Vassar, Plymouth, Pinckney, Dansville, Farmington, and again at Vassar. At the Conference of 1882, held in this place, he was granted a superannuated relation in the hope of improving his health. The last few months of his life were spent in Southern California. It is related by those who saw him during his last days that he was even joyful amid his sufferings, and triumphant in the hour of death. Brother Hagadorn was a good man, full of faith and of the Holy Ghost; and through his labors on the several charges which he occupied many souls were converted to the Saviour, and the spiritual life of the Church greatly quickened. As a preacher he was thoughtful, methodical, carefully scriptural, and eminently practical. His manner was calm and dispassionate, and his spirit always gentle and attractive. He was a good pastor, attentive and faithful in all departments of church work. He was twice married: first in 1863, and by the first wife leaves three children. His second marriage was to Miss Mary E. Fuller, who remains with the children to mourn his departure.

George W. Lowe was born in the township of Madison, Mich., January 26, 1836, and completed his earthly pilgrimage at Morenci, in the same county,

February 16, 1888, having just entered upon the fifty-third year of his age. Brother Lowe was converted and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church at the early age of ten years; was licensed to preach in 1856; was received on probation in the Detroit Conference in 1858, and into full connection at the session held at Dexter two years later. His first appointment was Bedford, remaining but one year. In 1859 he was sent to Dundee, where he remained two years. His subsequent charges were: Port Sanilac, New Port, Unadilla, Chelsea, Saline, Addison, Manchester, Garland Street, Flint; Calumet, Fort Street, Detroit; Plymouth, and Birmingham. At the Conference session of 1886, because of impaired health, he was given a supernumerary relation, yet he supplied Dearborn Charge the larger part of the following year. One year ago he was appointed to East Tawas, to which field he went promptly, hoping to reap for the Master as on other ground and in other years. But such was not God's gracious purpose regarding his faithful servant. Only a month of service, followed by four of patient suffering, were assigned him; after which, by authority of the chief "Shepherd and Bishop of Souls," he was transferred from the militant to the triumphant Church. In August, 1857, Brother Lowe was married to Miss Elvira M. Gaston, a most congenial spirit, who, ever helpful to him while living, now mourns deeply her loss. Our lamented brother never "made God's work a sinecure," but was "in labors more abundant." His death is sincerely mourned by all who knew him, but he rests from his pious labors and his works follow him. Revivals, more or less extensive, attended his work on all the pastoral charges which he occupied, and not a few saved souls will appear as seals to his ministry "in the day of Jesus Christ." He was, moreover, a truly refined Christian gentleman. His social qualities were of a high order, and shone forth resplendently in his daily intercourse with his fellowmen, ever revealing a character as transparent and pure as the life of faith within him. His brethren in the ministry will long and greatly miss his kindly greetings, his wise counsels, and his animating powers of song at their annual Conference sessions. But for him to depart and be with Christ is far better. His last words were, "Jesus, take me."

George W. Owen was born in Salem, O., September 4, 1827, and died in the city of Detroit, April 17, 1888, in the sixty-first year of his age. In 1858, at the age of thirty, Brother Owen was received on trial in the Detroit Conference, and was sent to Forestville Circuit. His subsequent appointments were as follows: Columbus, Oakville, Medina, Dansville, Armada, Hadley, Clarkston, Leesville, Dearborn, Royal Oak, and Wyandotte. His active ministry thus comprised the period of twenty-two years. Brother Owen's religious life and character were true and genuine. He was thoroughly acquainted with the nature, evidences, and fruits of experimental Christianity. Of the exercises of penitence, prayer, and faith, of the workings of the Holy Spirit upon the human heart, he could speak in the dialect of a true evangelism. He thus had the first and most important qualification for preaching the Gospel to his fellow-men. He was a good minister of Jesus Christ. Laying no claim to high intellectual qualifications as connected with superior educational advantages, he nevertheless so wielded the truths of the Gospel as to bring sinners to Christ. His revival successes in the ministry were probably commensurate with his abilities and opportunities. Under favorable circumstances, when the occasion and the hour afforded unusual spiritual stimulus, his preaching would rise to a level of power and produce lasting results. His ministerial life and history, while not characterized by remarkable exhibitions of talent and power, may be regarded by his brethren as exemplifying the Christian virtues in consistent relations to the varied interests of the Church and humanity. During the last eight years of his life, his name being on the list of retired ministers in the Conference, he spent what health and strength were afforded him by Providence in providing for the wants of his family, without in the least neglecting his duties to the Church, very willingly giving what assistance he could to his brethren in the ministry, especially in revival services, in which he had always been efficient, thus maintaining to the last his interest in his Master's cause. His divine Master upheld and sustained him to the end, and in his last moments, perfectly conscious as the clear light of eternity streamed upon him through the shadow of death, he breathed out his life in fervent prayer to his Father in heaven to receive him into that rest that remaineth for the people of God.

Des Moines Conference.

Arthur Badley was born in Indiana, and died at his home near Wick, Iowa, November 30, 1887. Brother Badley was converted in early life. In his young manhood he gave himself to the ministry, and joined the Indiana Conference in October, 1842. After fifteen years of successful labor in his native State he was transferred to the Iowa Conference in 1857, where he filled some of the important charges with great acceptability, until the organization of the Des Moines Conference, of which he was a charter member. He was a successful worker, having won hundreds of souls to Christ. His sermons were plain and logical, full of Scripture, and very impressive. He was a model pastor, always caring for his flock, visiting from house to house. With him the ruling passion was strong in death; he died, as he lived, blessedly and graciously trusting in that grace which saves to the uttermost.

Michael Sheets died in peace and hope at his own home in Indianola, Ia., September 17, 1888; being a superannuated member of Des Moines Annual Conference. He was born in Charlestown, Va, October 11, 1818. His conversion was so clear, and marked, that he never for one moment afterward doubted it. He was received on trial in the Ohio Conference, September 2, 1846, and appointed to the Jackson Circuit as junior preacher. Some four hundred souls were converted and joined the church during the year on that circuit. The next year, 1887, he was appointed assistant preacher to Gallio Circuit. More than one hundred were converted and added to the church that year, on that circuit. At the Conference of 1848 he was ordained deacon and appointed to Wheelersburg Circuit, assistant preacher. At the Conference of 1849 Bishop Waugh appointed him to the Waverly Circuit, assistant. During this year he was united in marriage to Miss Mary Ann Thompson, of Thornton, O. At the Conference of 1850, he was ordained elder and appointed in charge of the Dunbarton Circuit. His next circuits were: Chester, Barlow, Aimsville, Deavontown, and Melrunville. At the Conference of 1858 he was granted a location at his own request. On each of the foregoing circuits his memorandum shows an average of about one hundred conversions and accessions. In 1859 he was readmitted into the traveling connection by the Iowa Conference, and appointed to the Ottumwa and Liberty Circuit. In 1860, the Iowa Conference being divided, he fell into what was first called the West Iowa, but since the Des Moines. His circuits now were: Afton, Brooklyn, Panora, Quincy and Simpson, Lewis and Audubon, New Virginia, Wheeling, Indianola, Fontanelle, Millford, Ohio, and Newburn. In 1877, at his own request, he was granted a superannuated relation. In Iowa, as in Ohio, his labors were characterized by the conversion of souls and the erection of churches. The writer knew him for twenty years, and very intimately. Though physically feeble, yet he was a man of strong mind, strong will, and strong character. His indomitable will carried him through great labors and sacrifices for the Master's cause, and great perseverance in the proper care, training, and education of his children. Under the circumstances in which he was placed all his life, few men have accomplished more. Many churches stand as a monument of his work, and many saved souls now in heaven will forever shine as stars in his crown of rejoicing. A short time before his death, and while his mind was yet perfectly sane, he said to his wife that "he was ready for his departure;" that "one time would suit him as well as another." And in this calm and peaceful trust in God he entered into and passed through the terrible agonies and sufferings of his closing scene. Like a Christian philosopher he met this last one as he had met so many of the terrible conflicts of his life.

Pittsburg Conference.

David Cross was born February 14, 1810, and died March 24, 1888. His itinerant ministry began in the Pittsburg Conference in June, 1838, and his appointments were as follows: Lewis, Harrison, Williamsport, McConnellsville, Cambridge, Norwich, Washington, Summerfield, Barnesville, Centerville, Pine Creek, Adamsville, Carmichael's, Newport and Brownsville, Beverly, Summerfield, Stafford, Salem, Lebanon. From 1856–57 he was a supernumerary, and from 1859–61 was superannuated. In 1872 he again assumed the latter relation, in which he continued until his death. His earliest circuits had from fifteen to twenty appointments, and were from two hundred to three hundred miles around. He was twice married; in 1831 to Miss Mary Mahanna, who died March 25, 1850; and in 1853, to Miss Emily Meek, who still survives. His advantages in the way of education were quite limited in early years, and in the pulpit he was an exhorter rather than a preacher. But the eloquence of earnestness made him a most successful soul-winner. Among his co-workers he ranked as a revivalist. His appeals at times were overwhelming, and in meetings the altar of prayer was often crowded with penitents. He gloried in the work of saving men. He was a rejoicing and working Christian to the last. The friends who visited him in the chamber of sickness were exhorted to love and serve God. In death, as in life, his faith brought him triumph.

Thomas C. McClure was born in Monmouth, Me., June 9, 1819, and died at California, Pa., November 4, 1887. He studied medicine and was a practicing physician at the time of his conversion, December 1847. After his conversion he continued in the practice of his profession until 1853, when he was received on trial in the Pittsburg Conference. For eighteen years he was an effective traveling preacher, during which time he served the following charges: Richmond, Hanoverton, Leesburg, Smithfield, Springfield, Independence, Beallsville, Clover Hill, Peter's Creek, and Bentleysville. While in the last charge his health, which for some time had been gradually failing, compelled him to take a superannuated relation, which continued until his death. After superannuating he removed to California, Pa., where he lived, esteemed and honored by all who knew him, until the Master's final call came. He was a noble Christian man, whose presence was as the sunshine, and whose friendship was as a benediction. He was a great sufferer, but patient and cheerful he waited, remembering that "These light afflictions, which are but for a moment, work for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory." From the hour when he was converted, until the time of his death, it was his highest ambition to lead men to Jesus, and see the extension of the kingdom of God; and while he was able to do so he devoted himself wholly to his work. Humble as a child, he walked, resting his hand in the hand of his Master, devoted and uncomplaining, willing to follow where the Master led.

Genesee Conference.

Albert Plumley was born in Bennington, N. Y., January 5, 1818, and died in Sweden, N. Y., June 28, 1888. He joined Genesee Conference on probation in 1843, and was ordained deacon by Bishop Janes, and admitted to Conference in 1845. He was ordained elder by Bishop Morris, in 1847, at Geneva. He married Miss Nancy H. Cox, in Wyoming, N. Y., August 16, 1843. His appointments were as follows: Avoca, Potter, Seneca Circuit, Bethel, Bellona, Ridge, Nunda, Victor, Honeoye Falls, Elba, West Carlton, Caryville, Somerset, Centerville and Eagle Village, Java, Gainesville, Boston and West Falls, Wales, Darien, Asbury and Wesley, Aurora, Evans and Brant, Pavilion, South Byron, Springwater, Lake Side and Ontario, West Webster, La Salle, and Sweden. He preached with unusual vigor and fervor the Sunday morning before he died, upon "Ministerial Responsibility." He was smitten with paralysis in the afternoon, and died the following Thursday, without having been fully restored to consciousness. Thus, after an unbroken service of forty-five years in the itinerant ministry, as he had expressly desired, he ceased at once to work and live. Brother Plumley's entire life was truly devoted to the work of the ministry. Without any intermission, even for a summer vacation, he was at his post. He was faithful to every detail of ministerial duty, and was conscientious in keeping the rules of the Methodist Episcopal Church without assuming to mend them; while he was a man of independent judgment on all questions of Church polity and of general interest. Brother Plumley was studious, and his studiousness grew. Instead of depending upon old preparations, he wrote carefully, and in full, new sermons. He presented one of the few exceptions where sermons are the better for being written in full, and read.

John Dennis was born in Ovid, Seneca County, N. Y., August 29, 1810, and departed this earthly life at his residence in Rochester, N. Y., August 8, 1888, aged seventy-seven years. With remarkable mental vigor and habitual energy he continued to exercise his always acceptable ministry until a brief period before his death. His last illness confined him but a few days, and his mental faculties seemed to be unimpaired while life continued. In 1833 he was employed as a supply on Bath Circuit, where he traveled on horseback, as was then the custom, one hundred miles per week, and averaged about one sermon per day. In 1834 he labored as a supply for Catharine Circuit, displaying great activity and having much success. In 1835 he was admitted on trial in the Genesee Conference, and appointed to Trumansburg Charge. The next year that charge was united with Ovid and Ulysses. On the 4th day of June, 1835, he was happily united in marriage with Miss Rebecca Hogarth, who still survives, after an affectionate and very helpful conjugal union of more than a half century. In 1837 Brother Dennis was admitted to full connection in Genesee Conference, and was ordained deacon by Bishop Hedding. Two years after this he was ordained elder by the same bishop, and appointed to Lyons Station. His next charge was Canoga. At the close of his pastorate there, he was re-appointed for a second term to Lyons, where, during his second pastorate, he was engaged in a great conflict with intemperance, and was mainly the human instrumentality in promoting a revival of religion of remarkable extent and power, resulting in a large and very valuable addition to the Church. In 1843–44 he had, as elsewhere, a successful pastorate in Waterloo, rebuilding the church edifice, freeing the society from debt, and otherwise insuring the Church prosperity. His next appointment was Swan Street, in the city of Buffalo, where his success in organizing the society, building and paying for a church edifice, gathering a Sunday-school, and increasing the membership of Church was remarkable. From Buffalo he was sent to the First Church in Rochester, and from Rochester to Geneva, where, as usual, he remained as long as the usage of the Church permitted. He was next appointed as presiding elder of the Rochester District. After the full term on the district, for one year he was in charge of Macedon and Walworth. His next appointment was to Newark Station. Then he was at Honeoye Falls, and then at Lima. The financial condition of the two literary institutions at Lima seemed to require the energetic and careful services of Brother Dennis, and for three years, by episcopal appointment, he faithfully and successfully served as the treasurer of the college and seminary at Lima. He was then for a second term presiding elder of the Rochester District. Then he had a pastorate at Frank Street in Rochester, followed by a second pastorate at Lima. Next, beginning in 1874, he had the pastorate at Brockport, followed by a full-term pastorate in Bellona, and one year in Sweden Charge. This brings his itinerancy down to 1881, when, after forty-eight years of effective service, at his own request, the Conference granted him the supernumerary relation. He had almost intuitive knowledge of men, clear perception of the real condition and the supreme needs of the Churches under his care, thorough comprehension of Church law and usage, unflinching courage to attempt whatever might be necessary within the limits of practicability, incorruptible integrity, conscientious loyalty to the Church, rich personal experience of true religion, warm and abiding attachment to the true and the good. Thus natively and splendidly endowed, he was fitted for the pastorate, for the presiding eldership, and for the special agencies with which he was intrusted. Three times he was elected a delegate to the General Conference. He was a trustee of Genesee College during the whole period of its existence. He was a trustee, also, of the Genesee Wesleyan Seminary at the time of his decease, and had been during the greater part of his ministry. In the year 1871 Genesee College conferred upon him the honorary title of Doctor of Divinity.

Minnesota Conference.

Thomas B. Killiam was born in Wilmington, Del., March 17, 1837, and died March 29, 1888. He was admitted to the Philadelphia Conference in 1860, and ordained by Bishop T. A. Morris. He was married to Miss Maria Hitch, March 8, 1866. Brother Killiam labored in the Philadelphia and Wilmington Conferences till 1880, when he removed to the North-west, preaching one year in Kilbourn, Wisconsin, and finally uniting with the Minnesota Conference. His first appointment was Lake City, where he remained three years, doing most efficient and acceptable work. He here paid off a church debt that had staggered the society and would have discouraged almost any other man. The church membership was increased; and pastor and people rejoiced in the success of the Master's cause. A pastorate at Hastings of two years of earnest work resulted in the erection of a fine church edifice at one of the appointments all paid for at dedication, and the advancement of the general interests of the church. At Plainview, his next appointment, success still followed his ministry. He was beloved by his people, and highly esteemed by the whole community. At the last session of the Minnesota Conference, he was appointed to the work at Janesville. He was a man of great activity and energy; of precision and promptness. His work was always finished up to date. He had good executive ability, and had served the Conference as assistant treasurer, and treasurer. He was thoroughly loyal to the Church, and truly devoted to his great calling. He was an excellent preacher, impressing hearers as one who was master of his subject and filled with its spirit.

John D. Rich was born in Ohio, November 19, 1817. He was received on trial in the Pittsburg Conference in 1842, and traveled the Urichsville and Densville Circuits with some others in that Conference, when from failing health he located for a term of years, during which time he was elected to the Senate of Ohio for two years. He was married to Anna Maria Denman in 1846. He was re-admitted into the Minnesota Conference at its first session, in 1856, and appointed to Chatfield. In 1858 he was appointed to Monticello; in 1860 to Hastings, where in 1861 his first wife died. In 1862 he was sent to Anoka, in 1863 to Harmony, and in 1865 to Minneapolis. In 1866 he became supernumerary, and superannuated in 1868. He married Miss Ellen F. Burdett in 1863. For the last two or three years his health failed rapidly, and as a last resort he went to Colorado, and died a few months after in peace with God and man. His remains were brought to Minneapolis and buried in Lakewood Cemetery. Brother Rich had strong convictions on moral and religious questions, which he was accustomed to state and defend with clearness and force.

Joshua M. Rogers died at his home near Ashton, Dak., May 10, 1888. He was born in Ohio, July 24, 1821. In 1849 he was admitted on trial into the North Indiana Conferance. His health having failed, he located in 1856 and removed to Minnesota, where, on recovering his health, he was re-admitted by the Minnesota Conference in 1857. In 1879 he took a supernumerary relation, and the next year removed to Dakota. There, though suffering great bodily infirmity, he rendered excellent service in organizing our work in that new territory. Five different charges recognize him as their founder. During his ministry of forty years he was appointed to twenty-five different charges—six in Indiana, sixteen in Minnesota, and three in Dakota; and great numbers were brought to Christ through his instrumentality. A more conscientious, devout, and disinterested herald of the cross one seldom sees. He was a good man, and full of the Holy Ghost and of faith, and much people was added unto the Lord.

North Ohio Conference.

John S. Broadwell was born at Seymour, near New Haven, Conn., September 9, 1832. In 1854 he was admitted on trial into the North Ohio Conference, where he remained an honored and useful member till death. He supplied the following charges: Orrville, Millersburg, Burbank, Perkins, Clyde, Elyria, Brooklyn, Lorain Street (Cleveland), Berea, Norwalk, Mansfield, Mount Vernon, and Fredericktown. Twice his health failed, and he was compelled to take a supernumerary relation. At Elyria, for three years he was unable, because of nervous prostration, to perform the duties of his ministry. At the end of his first year at Mount Vernon, he was again compelled to suspend active labors for almost two years, much of the time being confined to his home and his bed, a great sufferer, but patient always. A little more than a year ago he felt himself sufficiently recovered to undertake to supply the pulpit at Fredericktown, made vacant by the transfer of Rev. W. T. Lewis. This he did at the urgent request of the people of Fredericktown Charge. Here he endeared himself to all the people, and here, in the midst of his work, he was called to his reward, January 21, 1888. Brother Broadwell was twice married; first to Miss Catherine S. Morrow. His second wife was Mrs. Dora H. Chilcoat, to whom he was married December 15, 1887. As a man Brother Broadwell was broad, generous, and noble. As a preacher he was impassioned, eloquent, magnetic, and every-where popular. He had a rare power of drawing all men of a community unto himself. Full of tender, human sympathy, he was inclined to view all theology from the human side.

JOHN S. CUTLER was born in Columbus, O., March 5, 1826. He was received on trial in the North Ohio Conference in the fall of 1849. His first fields of labor were in the north-west territory of our Conference, now in the Central Ohio Conference. Here Brother Cutler labored faithfully and successfully at Bryan, Defiance, Kalida, Gilboa, and other places as connected with these large circuits. Later he was in charge of Marseilles, Dalton, Mount Eaton, Congress and Fredericksburg Circuits. In 1862 he took a superannuated relation from failing health. He passed eight years in this relation, and then resumed work again in 1870, and supplied Doylestown, Bolivar, Keene, Sycamore and Republic, when his work in the Conference ceased, and from 1876 to the close of his life he was given a superannuated relation. Brother Cutler led a somewhat unsettled life in his latter years. He was in Australia in 1887. In 1888 he was on the Congo River, in Africa, where he died, May 3, 1888, after a painful illness of twelve weeks.

LUKE S. JOHNSON was born in Northamptonshire, England, in 1820, and died suddenly at his home, October 27, 1887. He was received on trial in the North Ohio Conference in 1841 and appointed to Medina, to Tiffin in 1842, admitted in full in 1843, and appointed to Findlay, Keene, Newcomerstown, Florence, Amherst, Melmore, Dalton, Congress, Jeromesville, New London, Plymouth, Milan, Fairfield, Republic, Brighton, Melmore, Centerton, Jeromesville, Orange, Fairfield, supernumerary relation in 1879, and superannuated in 1886, but never became a claimant. Brother Johnson was married in 1844, at Avon, O., to Miss Sarepta R. Stickney. His ashes rest in Mount Hope Cemetery, Lansing, Mich., where reside his widow and two children. The seals to his ministry were many. He was fearless in debate or preaching, patterning after no man in thought, word, or deed. He was noted for quaint expressions that were never forgotten by the hearers. He was a man true to his convictions, to his fellows, to the word as he understood it, to his home, his country, and his God.

Illinois Conference.

SAMUEL B. IVES was born November 5, 1847, on Long Island, N. Y. In 1883 he entered the Illinois Conference. For the first three years of his ministry he was assigned to Auburn Circuit, and for the past two to Mechanicsburg Circuit. He had almost completed his second year there when he was called from labor to reward. He brought to his work marked ability as an original thinker, high literary accomplishments, and culture of no common sort. His work was crowned with great success. There was about him no cant, no stage effect, no attempt at display. His candor deceived the deceitful; his liberality astonished the liberal and shamed the stingy. His chastity and cleanness of thought and conversation helped many a young man struggling in his first conflict with vice. Intellectually strong, well cultivated, of wide mental grasp, his heart was the largest part of him; and it was a common saying among the young whose lives have been blessed by him that he had the heart of a giant. Dying upon what seemed to us the very threshold of a life of abundant labors, he yet has left a record of good deeds done on which many older ones might reflect with pleasure.

MILO BUTLER was born in Pompey, Onondaga County, N. Y., September 8, 1808. He was converted in 1831, and the same year was married to Miss Lydia A. Goodwin, daughter of Rev. Timothy Goodwin, then of the Black River Conference. In 1834 he moved to Ohio. In 1843 he was received on trial in the Erie Conference, and was appointed in succession to the following charges: Newburg, Middlebury, Chardon, Warren, and Braceville. At the close of his second year at Braceville, he was transferred to the Illinois Conference, and assigned successively to Quincy, Columbus, Griggsville, Perry, Winchester, and Urbana. In 1859 he was granted a superannuated relation, in which he remained two years. Then he was assigned to Paxton, and at the expiration of two years he was again placed on the superannuated list, on which he remained until 1868, when he was appointed to Beverly. But the work was too much for him, and at the next session of Conference he again became a superannuate, remaining such until his death. After his retirement from the regular itinerant work, he removed to Shelbina, Mo., where, while practicing as a physician, he labored in preaching and pastoral work as extensively as his strength would permit. After an illness of two weeks he died, November 12, 1887, having just entered on his eightieth year. Brother Butler was esteemed by all who knew him as a quiet, refined Christian gentleman. As a preacher he was clear, scriptural, and practical, but always tender and impressive. It was evident to all who heard him that he preached Jesus as he knew him, and because he knew him. He loved to preach; and even with failing strength and enfeebled body he loved to tell the story of a Saviour's love. The internal life shone out in all his sermons; there was no superfluity of words or gestures; he uttered in mild but earnest tones things beautiful and forcible, and success followed in conversions and revivals during all his ministry. In his home-life the affections were always bright and sweet, combined with great meekness and simplicity. He maintained in his spirit the freshness of perpetual youth, and was full of a great contentment which was like the dawn of the coming heaven.

GREENBERRY GARNER was born in Clark County, Ind., March 11, 1816, and died at Ashland, Ill., November 24, 1887. He had attended the public Thanksgiving services on that day in his usual health, and had assisted in them by making a short address. While sitting in his chair after dinner, engaged in conversation, his head suddenly dropped on the back of the chair, and he was gone. In 1847 he entered the itinerancy in the Illinois Conference, and traveled in the order named the following charges: Waterloo, Salem, Pulaski, Havana, Fancy Creek, Clinton, Mount Pleasant, Danville, Georgetown, Camargo, Sangamon, Leroy, Mount Pulaski, DeWitt, Camden, Rushville, Littleton, Labuda, New Hartford, Chandlerville, Ashland, and North Jacksonville. When superannuated he returned to Ashland, which was his residence until his death. In 1836 he married Miss Mary J. Redman, who survives him. Brother Garner was a good preacher, sound in the faith, a devout Christian, a prudent man, quiet, but warm-hearted, conscientious, and faithful. Great success attended his labors in the gospel. Many of the charges he traveled were large four weeks' circuits, in which he had the assistance of a young man as his junior, and to whom he became an instructor in the itinerant work. And taking the young men who have traveled with him, and who received from him their first lessons in the practical work of the itinerancy, and those of his converts who have entered the ministry and done good service for the Lord, but very few of the fathers in the Church will have more such stars in their crown of rejoicing.

COLIN D. JAMES was born in Randolph County, Va., January 15, 1808, and died at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. C. A. Hawk, near Bonita, Kansas, January 30, 1888. Brother James was converted at a camp-meeting near Paris, Ill., in the summer of 1827, and in 1834 was received on trial in the Illinois Conference, in which he filled in succession the following charges: Rock Island, Plattville, Apple River, Paris, Eugene, Georgetown, Shelbyville, Paris, Grafton, Sparta District, Lebanon District, Alton District, Bloomington District, Jacksonville,

East Charge, Winchester, Jacksonville Circuit, Greenfield, Island Grove, Agent for Illinois Conference Female College, Oldtown, Heyworth, Normal, Atlanta, McLean, and Shirley. In 1869–70 he was on the superannuated list; in 1871 he served as Agent for the Normal Church, and at the close of the year was again granted a superannuated relation, in which he remained until his death. His first wife was Miss Eliza A. Plasters, of Livingston, Ill., who died in 1849. In 1850 he married Miss Amanda K. Casad, of Lebanon, with whom he lived until her death in 1878. His sermons were useful rather than popular. As a Methodist preacher he was faithful and conscientious in attending to all the duties of the pastoral work, blessed often with good revivals, and leaving his charges in a better condition than he found them. A good man, a useful minister, "he rests from his labors, and his works do follow him."

John Slater was born in Hampshire County, Va., September 15, 1820, and died in peace at Oakwood, Ill., October 8, 1887. In 1839 he married Eliza A. McVicker. In 1853 he was admitted on trial in the Illinois Conference. His first appointment was New Albany Circuit, which he served one year. Then in succession he labored on Martinsville, Taylorville, and Sangamon Circuits. In 1860 he received a location, and afterward engaged in mercantile business. In 1879 he was readmitted in the Conference and filled the following charges: Raymond and Blue Mound, Oconee, and Pilot. In 1886, being unable longer to endure the hardships of the itinerancy, he was granted a superannuated relation, in which he remained until his death. Brother Slater had good ability as a preacher, was unusually gifted in prayer, and was faithful in the discharge of his ministerial duties. His daily life and conversation were in fullest accord with a perfect Christian manhood.

Franklin William Phillips was born in Montgomery County, Ky., November 5, 1827, and died in Jacksonville, Ill., January 17, 1888. He was the son of Rev. William Phillips, a noted preacher of the Kentucky Conference. Brother Phillips was married in 1853 to Miss Lucy J. Dungan, daughter of Rev. Richard J. Dungan, a member of the Kentucky Conference. His widow and three sons are left to mourn his departure. He moved to Illinois in 1864, and after stopping awhile with friends in Carlinville, he was called to fill a vacant charge in Mattoon. He took hold of the work with his accustomed energy. He built up a flourishing society, and after a successful ministry he joined the Illinois Conference, and was assigned to East Charge and Jacksonville in 1866. Here he spent three prosperous years, beloved and honored by the entire community. He had a gracious revival, and succeeded in building a parsonage, and carrying forward the work of church building so far as to have the basement dedicated before he left. His next charge was the First Church in Springfield, where he remained three years. In 1872 he was returned to Centenary, Jacksonville. The next year he was appointed to the Danville District, and although he only remained on it one year he impressed the preachers and people as possessing rare fitness for the presiding eldership. In 1874 he was elected superintendent of the State Institution for the Blind, which position he filled till his death. In his ministry of nearly twenty years he was strong, popular, and successful. He was a fine specimen of a high-toned, dignified Christian gentleman. He had a great aversion to mere pretense and sham. In his intercourse with society he was candid, but courteous and honorable. In his friendship he was sincere and faithful. In his religious life he was not demonstrative or emotional, but practical. He was a man of fine executive ability, as his superintendency of the State Institution attests. During his thirteen years' connection with it he won the confidence of all, and every interest of the institution was cared for and by wise methods promoted.

Southern California Conference.

Robert W. C. Farnsworth was born at Haverhill, N. H., February 20, 1844, and died in San Fernando, Cal., January 3, 1888. In 1871 he married Miss Emma George. He was elected professor of Latin in Fort Edward Institute, and remained a year, but feeling called to preach he resigned and entered Boston School of Theology, where he spent two years, during which he supplied a charge in Providence Conference; he then served North Main Street Church, Fall River; Fourth Street, New Bedford, and West Dennis. He was then sent to Danielsville, Conn.; yet at the end of a year he was completely broken down, and went to Southern California as a last hope. When he arrived in Los Angeles he was feeble yet hopeful. This was in the summer of 1880, and before the meeting of Southern California Conference he had so improved that he was appointed pastor of Pasadena Church. His faith and zeal secured to it the interest and confidence of the best men in the community. At the end of three years he was made presiding elder of Los Angeles District. This comprised the territory now embraced in San Diego District, Pasadena District, and the present Los Angeles District. As he closed his work on the district the College of Theology became his one great thought. The work of opening the college was hurried to gratify the desire of Brother Maclay to behold it. All hearts were turned to Brother Farnsworth as the man most suitable to become its first Dean, and in August, 1887, he was elected Dean and Professor of Practical Theology. He entered upon his duties after the session of Conference in September, and appeared to give promise of years of useful labor. At the session of Conference he was elected to the General Conference as leader of the delegation. He opened his eyes in the new year with full hope, yet in fever and pain. On the evening of the third day Christ came to receive him. Brother Farnsworth was a man of the highest moral qualities. His loyalty to God gave him a firm purpose to live and labor for the spread of the Gospel. The Church gave some of her most important trusts into his keeping, and was not disappointed. He was a clear and accurate thinker, a sound theologian, and a good preacher. He loved particularly to preach upon the deep questions of Christian experience and life, and was peculiarly happy in his presentation of them. We devoutly thank God for such a life, such a man, and such a work.

Ormond L. Barstow, a native of Massachusetts, died at Plano, Cal., July 21, 1888, aged twenty-eight years. In 1881 he joined the Nevada Conference and remained a member until the Conference was changed again to a mission in 1885, when he became a member of the Southern California Conference. His fields of labor were all within the bounds of the mission until September, 1887, when he was appointed to his last charge—Plano. He was married in June, 1880, to Miss Lottie J. Moores. Brother Barstow's health had not been strong for some time, though he was unremitting in his labors. In ministering to others who were in bereavement, he overexerted himself. Returning from a seventy-mile drive to conduct a funeral on Wednesday, July 18, he was ill on Thursday, inflammation of the brain was apparent on Friday, and death released him on Saturday. Death came to him so suddenly and in such a manner as to prevent his giving many or very definite testimonies to the triumphing grace of God in his last hours, yet every thing he was enabled to say indicated his peaceful repose in the arms of Christ, and full assurances of salvation. He was a good preacher, a faithful and wise pastor, and was growing in usefulness and power. His last work, though in a small charge and amid many discouragements, was in many respects very successful. Several conversions, great increase of spirituality among the members, and larger collections than for several years, were proofs of his success. His memory will abide as a living benediction upon the people whom he served and among whom he died. He was intelligent, studious, and devout, yet clear in his convictions and inflexible in his integrity. His perfect obedience to his tender Christian conscience was remarkable. He had the "charity that seeketh not her own." He followed the highest rules of self-denial and self-sacrifice for the good of others and of the cause of Christ. Such men as he was are an honor to the Church and a blessing to the world.

William Nixon, as near as can be ascertained, was born in the province of Ontario, Canada, in 1848. He had a good common school education, and was an industrious student in the midst of his arduous labors. He was married June 6, 1876, to Miss Hannah Parrot Ottewell, on account of whose failing health he moved in February, 1877, to California. The following September he with his wife, then rapidly recovering, came to Riverside as pastor. Riverside Church was then undergoing its period of greatest struggle for existence, but Brother Nixon was equal to the demand, and so diligently pushed the work that some very burdensome church debts were paid, additional property was secured, and during the three years of his pastorate the church was blessed with a revival, the first in Riverside. His was the only three years' pastorate in the history of the place up to the present. He was then three years at Orange, where he was also of great service to the church in its early struggles; then two years of untiring labor at San Bernardino. From there he was appointed to the Santa Barbara District, where he did heroic work until the following Conference, when his shattered health caused his appointment to the health-giving climate of San Jacinto. After two months of labor he was prostrated by that fell monster, blood-poisoning, and died November 1, 1887. Brother Nixon was one of the most faithful servants ever called to the Christian ministry. He was patient with the erring, persistent in trial, and indomitable in courage. He stood by his charges and endured privations with a submission of spirit and heroism of purpose seldom found even among the soldiers of the cross.

Charles Shelling died at his home in Alhambra, Cal., December 17, 1887. He was born in Canterbury, England, August 17, 1826. In 1850 he married Laura J. Draper, daughter of Gideon Draper, Sr. The same year he united with Genesee Conference, was ordained deacon by Bishop Janes, and was appointed to Springfield, Erie County, N. Y. In 1854 he was ordained elder by Bishop Simpson. His second charge was Rushford; then Attica, where a church was erected; next Batavia; then Second Street Church, N. Y. city; next Sullivan Street, which, during his pastorate, was changed to Washington Square, where a fine church was built; next Washington Street, Brooklyn. At Newburg, N. Y., he built Trinity Church. During the war he served as chaplain of the Tenth Legion, or Fifty-Sixth Regiment of New York State Volunteers. After this he was appointed to Niagara Street Church, Buffalo, the spot of his conversion, then to Le Roy. He was then transferred to what became Centenary Church, Chicago, through his instrumentality, though other hands completed what he inaugurated. His next field was Kalamazoo, Mich., where another elegant church was erected. About this time his health and that of his wife failed, and a vacation ensued, during which she passed to her heavenly reward. We next find him in charge of Amenia, N. Y. In 1870 Miss C. Marion Baker became his itinerant helpmate. For seventeen years they were permitted to encourage each other in the itinerancy. His next charge was Union Mission, Newburg, N. Y. Again health declined, and they came to the Pacific coast. An open door was found for two years in the pulpit of the Presbyterian Church at Sacramento, Cal. Through the persuasion of Bishop Peck he returned east, and was appointed to Nashua, N. H. In 1876 he was transferred to Southern California, took charge of East Los Angeles and Pasadena, and built a church at the latter place. Under his inspiration the chapel at Alhambra was built in 1877. After a year at Santa Barbara he was made presiding elder of Los Angeles District, and battled for four successful years. He secured a home at Alhambra, preaching one year, at Riverside another year, and last year, though in bad health, he piloted successfully the construction of another beautiful Christian temple at Monrovia. It thus appears that Brother Shelling was officially instrumental in the construction of at least eight church edifices: about one church for each four years of an active and useful ministry of near twoscore of years. Brother Shelling entered the Southern California Conference at the beginning of the second year of its history. He was the first man received into it by transfer, and came from the New Hampshire Conference. Sixteen persons responded to the roll-call at that time and the absent ones only numbered three. At the time the Los Angeles District was in charge of Brother Shelling it covered territory now occupied by three districts and included the counties of Los Angeles, San Diego, and San Bernardino, a territory nearly as large as that covered by the State of New York. Brother Shelling was a preacher of great mental vigor and most genial spiritual impulse. His sympathetic heart made him welcome as a pastor. He pressed forward the proper business interests of the church. He was a peer among the best of his brethren. His modest affability made him a favorite in every sphere. His memory is precious to the thousands he comforted or won to Christ.

Central Illinois Conference.

James H. Scott was born in Moorsburg, Columbia County, Pa., February 22, 1824. He was married April 12, 1849, to Elenor C. Kelley. In 1850 he entered the ministry in the Baltimore Conference, but was soon after transferred to the Wisconsin Conference. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Ames, September 5, 1852, and elder by Bishop Morris, September 3, 1854. In 1858 he was transferred to the Peoria (now Central Illinois) Conference. While an effective member of this Conference he served faithfully in the following charges: Brimfield, La Prairie Center, New Boston, Colona, Ionia, and Kickapoo. From 1865 to 1868 he was superannuated. After again traveling a few years he was again superannuated in 1871, when he removed with his family to Missouri. In 1879 he returned to Illinois and settled in Abingdon in order to give his children the opportunity of attending Hedding College. In 1884 he again removed to Rolla, Mo., where he died April 9, 1888. Brother Scott was a man of energy, and unremitting activity characterized his whole life. In feeble health, and under great difficulties, he continued his work to the very last. He was intellectual and well-informed. As a preacher, before his health was broken, he was much above the average.

Andrew Magee was born in Franklin County, Pa., March 26, 1807. He was married to Miss Mary E. Fultz, in Mifflin County, Pa., January 20, 1829. In 1841 he was admitted on trial in the Pittsburg Conference, in which he labored fifteen years, and in 1856 he united with the Central Illinois Conference, in which he was an active and efficient worker until 1875, when he was superannuated, which relation he held until his death. The following is a list of his appointments in the Pittsburg Conference: Morristown, Washington, Birmingham, Senecaville, Deersville, Adamsville, Cambridge, New Philadelphia. In the Central Illinois Conference: Farmington, Canton, presiding elder of Macomb District, Farmington again, Galesburg, First Church, Peoria;

Monmouth, Bushnell, Prairie City, superannuated. He was very highly honored by his brethren. He was elected to the General Conference three times, once by the Pittsburg Conference and twice by the Central Illinois Conference; but after the second election the Conference passed resolutions, instructing the delegates upon the subject of lay representation, which were not satisfactory to the doctor, and he tendered his resignation, and another was elected in his place. He served two years with great acceptability as presiding elder, but as the work was not congenial, by his own request, at the end of his second year, he was relieved. Analysis of his character is difficult only because of the many things to be said of this honored servant of God. His mind was of a superior order, acute and discriminating. Being well-informed and "apt to teach," he always gave instruction to those who heard him preach or converse. Scholars heard from him words of profound wisdom, and children listened to simple statements of truth to make them "wise unto salvation." He adhered to truth and right with the tenacity of a martyr. In the old antislavery controversy he occupied no equivocal position. He was not demonstrative, but quietly adhered to "the truth as it is in Jesus Christ." Neither was he introspective. Like Abraham, "he believed God," and unhesitatingly obeyed. "For he looked for a city which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God." His health gradually failed, until, July 23, 1888, at the age of eighty-one, "the weary wheels of life stood still," and his soul went up to God.

Samuel S. Gruber was born in Lancaster, Pa., May 7, 1819. In November, 1852, he was married to Miss Josephine Head. Brother Gruber became a member of the Rock River Conference in 1854, and was immediately transferred to the Iowa Conference, where he efficiently preached Jesus and the resurrection for seven years. He was transferred back to this Conference in 1861, and among the charges he served are Ipava, Kickapoo, Trivoli, Cuba, Sheffield, Milford, Saunemin, Buckley, Graymont, Sibley, and Strawn. In 1885 he was granted a superannuated relation at his own request. One year ago, Presiding Elder C. O. McCulloch appointed Brother Gruber as supply for the Iroquois Charge, and about the 1st of November he moved to the work, full of faith and the Holy Ghost. November 30, 1887, in company with his wife and daughter he went to the depot in Iroquois to take the train for Sheldon, but being a little early he went upon the bridge that spans the Iroquois River at that place, to converse with a man on the subject of personal salvation. Hearing a train approaching he started back to the depot, which was but a short distance, keeping the main track, expecting that this train would sidetrack for the passenger on which he expected to go. But misjudging the rapidity of the train, he was struck by the engine and thrown ninety feet, instantly killing him. As a Christian he lived, full of years and ripe for the crown of eternal life. Brother Gruber's Christianity was his life. It was within him as a completely prevailing presence and purpose, not merely clothing him as a loose garment. It shone out in all his words and deeds. He was a man of strong convictions, ever ready vigorously to combat evil, without fear or hesitation. He was true to every interest of truth and right, of patriotism and philanthropy, of charity and piety. During his useful life he rendered efficient service to his fellowmen, and many a household mourned when the sad intelligence of his death was borne to their firesides. His life shone on unto the fullness of the day that beams with bliss forever.

Rock River Conference.

Stephen P. Keyes was born in Northumberland, Saratoga County, N. Y., November 13, 1811. He entered the Genesee Conference on trial when he was twenty-three years of age, and was appointed as an assistant upon a circuit on the western shore of Seneca Lake. The next Conference sent him to a station named Albion, where he had a gracious revival of religion. His next station was Dresden, N. Y. He attended the Illinois Conference in September, 1837, where he was introduced to Bishop Soule and to the Conference. He says, "The brethren were all strangers to me, but they bore the badges of Methodist ministers." As his transfer papers had not arrived he supplied Ottawa Circuit under the elder. Ottawa then had three or four hundred inhabitants. At the next Conference, held at Alton, he was read off for Green Bay, seven hundred miles distant, which place he reached after a long ride upon horseback, and a wide circuit of Lake Michigan, being obliged to go by way of Mackinac. On his way he stopped in Chicago, and preached twice for Peter R. Borein. At Green Bay he not only presided over the little society, but preached to the Indians through an interpreter. His sketch of his own life here contains wise criticisms and recommendations upon the management of the Indians. At Green Bay he had a gracious revival, and was a great favorite with his people. In April, 1839, he received an unexpected offer of a chaplaincy in the regular army at Fort Winnebago, Wisconsin Territory, which he occupied, with the advice of the society at Green Bay, who parted with him with great regrets. "I looked to God for directions," he says, "and went forward." He became in 1840 a charter member of the Rock River Conference, in which fact he always took great pleasure. He was sent at its first session to Madison, Wis. At the next session of the Conference, held at Dubuque, Ia., he was sent to Elgin. The next year he went to Ottawa. His next charge was Dixon. Here, September 22, 1846, he married Miss A. A. Basset. He located, on account of ill health, at the Conference soon held at Galena, and went on a farm at Rockford. At the Conference of 1850 he was re-admitted and established at Clark Street, Chicago. Here he remained two years, enjoying with his people a gracious revival of religion. From there he went to Batavia, where he built a church. At the next Conference he went to Saint Charles as presiding elder, where he remained two years, and was then appointed Agent of Clark Seminary at Aurora. The next year, his health being poor, he supplied a small charge under Elder Gammon. His next charge was Jefferson Street, Chicago, where sickness stopped him short in his work, after preaching his first sermon. Then he was presiding elder in the Mount Morris District for two years, then on the Mendota District four years, then on the Chicago District two years, when on account of feebleness he was superannuated at his own request in 1865. He has lived for thirty-three years in Aurora, Ill., esteemed by all and loved by many. He was a Nestor in council. His mind was not quick to reach conclusions, but very clear in its mental vision. His habit was to listen patiently to what others had to say upon controverted subjects, and then with a few well-chosen words he would lay open the path of policy, or wisdom, or law. He suffered for years with a pain in the center of his chest, which was nervous in its nature and exhausting in its effects. One of these torturing spells came upon him at midnight, September 27, he being in his seventy-seventh year, and on the 28th of September "he was not, for God took him."

Henry Minard was born September 22, 1813, in the State of New York, and died December 3, 1887, in Pittsburg, Kan. He was married in 1840 to Miss Tirzah Cass, of Rome, N. Y. In 1837 he joined the Oneida Conference, and was stationed at Amber, where he had a very extensive revival, one hundred and twenty joining the Church. Indeed, his early ministry was very marked for its revival influence. In Scipio, Slaterville, and South Cortland, very extensive revivals attended his ministry, to each of which places he had been appointed by the Conference. In 1842 he was transferred to Rock River Conference and stationed at Ottawa; afterward at Joliet, then Saint Charles and Aurora. His next appointment was Crete Mission. Then followed Morris, Wheeling, Pekin, Oswego, Dover, Malden, and Earlville, where he was superannuated in 1859. Brother Minard was a man of very decided convictions and great steadiness of character, and never swerved from the strictest line of duty. His favorite work was protracted meetings, and here he displayed his greatest strength as a preacher and won his brightest laurels.

TIMOTHY L. OLMSTED died at Joliet, Ill., June 29, 1888. His biography may be summarized as follows: He was born at Enfield, Conn., October 26, 1827. He began his career as a preacher under the presiding eldership of Rev. S. P. Keyes, in the Rock River Conference. His first work was on the Naperville Charge. He joined the Conference as a probationer in 1856, and two years later was admitted in full connection. The charges he served are as follows: Channahon, Arlington Heights and Palatine, Warren, Freeport, Desplaines Street, Chicago; Baileyville, and Forreston. In the fall of 1866 he took a transfer to the Wisconsin Conference, and was stationed at Appleton. Returning to Rock River Conference, he served the Apple River Charge, Libertyville, Geneva, Frankfort and New Lenox, and Mokena. Here his health failed, and for eight years he was out of the regular work, four years being spent in the circulation of our periodicals and books. Returning to the effective ranks in the Conference, he was stationed at Savanna, Shabbona Grove, and Sublette. For two years after this his relation to the Conference was that of supernumerary. He served the Marseilles work for one year and from there went to Manhattan in the fall of 1887, which was his last work. He married Miss Julia A. Pratt, of Towanda, Pa., June 10, 1857. He was an earnest and faithful worker, a good pastor, and on some of his charges remarkably successful. At the appointment now known as Arlington Heights, which included Palatine, Elk Grove, and one other preaching place, he had a wonderful revival. At Freeport the Lord also gave him scores of souls. His piety was earnest and practical, and his influence always on the right side. As the end drew near he longed for rest and his home on high. Not a cloud obscured his spiritual sky. For over thirty-two years he preached the Gospel, and found its saving power fully applied to his own soul.

J. T. COOPER.—[Obituary not received.]

Colorado Conference.

F. C. MILLINGTON was born at Nicholville, N. Y., March 18, 1841. He died suddenly of neuralgia of the heart at Denver, Col., December 27, 1887. At fourteen years of age he was converted and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. He was received into the Black River Conference April, 1863, and was appointed to Constable, Franklin County, N. Y. He subsequently served Colton one year, North Potsdam two; Massena, two; Lawrence, one. At the Conference held at Ogdensburg, April, 1870, Bishop Ames transferred him to the Colorado Conference. His appointments here have been Golden, Longmont, Colorado Springs, Saint James, and California Street, in Denver; Presiding Elder of the Northern District, Agent of Denver University, and associate pastor of Trinity, in Denver. April 13, 1863, he married Adeline Sheldon, who still lives. To him, more than any other, this Conference is indebted for its proud distinction as being unsurpassed in systematic and accurate conduct of its business. His superior business ability and energy are manifest in many monuments, the grandest of which is the University Park enterprise. His preaching was always plain, practical, earnest, utterly free from every phase of sensationalism. His intercourse with his brethren was confiding and loving. We have no doubt that for him sudden death—for which he had expressed a decided preference—was a sudden revelation of the unveiled face of the Saviour.

C. C. ZEBOLD was born in Hocking County, Ohio, January 6, 1856, and died at Monte Vista, Col., May 9, 1888, of brain fever. He was converted at the age of thirteen, came to Colorado in 1881, and in 1882 was recommended by the Durango Quarterly Conference to the Colorado Annual Conference for admission on trial. Being admitted, he was appointed to Loveland. In 1883 and 1884 he was appointed to Fort Collins Circuit, but soon after the Conference of 1884 was sent to Lander, Wyoming Territory, where he remained until the Conference of 1886, when he was appointed to Del Norte and Monte Vista. Before entering upon his work he married, on August 5, Miss Amanda Lowe, of Abington, Ill. In 1887 the work was divided, and he was appointed to Monte Vista, which was his last field of labor. Concerning his last illness his widow writes: "His sickness lasted only a few days. He was unconscious nearly all the time after the serious nature of his illness became known, so that no parting words were given; but we know in whom he trusted, and are assured that he has gone to be with Jesus." Brother Zebold had the elements of a successful preacher, that is, for winning souls to Christ. His future looked bright, but that brightness has been eclipsed.

BENITO GARCIA.—[Obituary not received.]

Columbia River Conference.

JAMES H. WILBUR was born in, or near, the village of Lowville, N. Y., on the 11th of September, 1811. In July, 1832, he was admitted on trial in the Black River Annual Conference, and entered on his lifework as a Methodist preacher. He traveled, in succession, Brunswick, Louisville, Chateaugay, and Brasher, on which charge he was at work when the voice of the Church and of God summoned him to Oregon. George Gary, then superintendent of the Oregon Mission, had indicated Brother Wilbur as every way a suitable man to undertake the upbuilding of Christianity and civilization on these shores. It was a sudden, unexpected, but clearly providential call. Henceforth to the end of life Oregon was to him and his companion the home of their hearts and the field of their toils and triumphs. On the 27th day of September, 1846, in company with Rev. William Roberts, who had been appointed superintendent of the mission, and his wife, they set sail from New York to make the seven months' voyage round Cape Horn to the Columbia River, and landed in Portland, June 27, 1847. It was only thirteen years after Jason Lee had opened the evangel of Methodism on the Pacific Coast. Then he went to Portland —the Portland of 1851. Into every interest and institution of Methodism in Portland his soul entered with a mighty zeal. Versatile and resolute, the walls of the old church and academy rose by his saw and hammer, or grew white and beautiful under the sweep of his brush. Tireless and evangelical, people listened with glad ear to his earnest preaching of the Gospel. Poverty was fed at his table. Weariness rested on his couch. Sickness was cured by his medicine. He was in his best early manhood—forty years of age—and his arm had a giant's strength, but his heart had a mother's tenderness. The magnificent proportions of the Methodism of the Portland of to-day rest, humanly speaking, on the corner-stone that he laid. His work done, he went to Southern Oregon in 1853, in all of which he found but three members of the Church. Here, with a zeal that was tireless, and an ecclesiastical statesmanship that was unerring, he laid the foundation of Church and State progress, in the organization of societies, the erection of churches, the establishment of schools that not only endure until to-day, but that will endure through all time to his honor and God's glory. Four years in that field, followed by four on the upper Willamette and Columbia River Districts, prepared him at fifty years of age to undertake one of the most difficult of all achievements in civilization or Christianity—the redemption of a pagan people and their uplift to a Christian experience and a Christian life. Success in such a field requires a self-forgetting, self-abnegating consecration of which few are intellectually or morally, not to say physically, capable. Twenty-two years of the life of Brother Wilbur were breathed out into what was such a moral desolation when he and his companion went there; lost, some would say, in the all-absorbing and unresponsive soul of paganism. We do not say so. We do not think so. We saw his work too often, knew it too well, traced it too widely to think so. Very much that was greatest in the character and most widely influential in the life and reputation of Brother Wilbur himself was the fruit and growth of that work and these years of consecration to the redemption of the Indian race. When Brother Wilbur had well passed his threescore and ten years he felt that his work on that specific field was done, and, resigning his office, he gave back into the hands of the government his trust, closed up the accounts of his long and responsible administration, and entered, for the last five years of his life, another field. He became the general Educational and Church Extension agent of the Columbia River Conference. He traveled extensively. He built and assisted to build churches all over eastern Oregon and Washington and Idaho. He established the wavering, encouraged the despairing, lifted up the fallen, anxious ever to do more, more, MORE for God. His gifts of money went with his gifts of prayer. At the last session of our Conference, held in Walla Walla, September 14, 1887, he was buoyant, cheerful, hopeful, and bore the courage and confidence of all his life on his words and in his spirit. Conquest was in his tones as they rang—a very battle-cry of a chieftain of God over the sacramental host. Full of plan, full of purpose, full of ambitions, he counted yet on years of victorious doing for his God and Saviour. He and his wife visited the Idaho Conference at Baker City, September 21, 1887. He bore her from the cars to a sick-room, where he watched most tenderly over her for a week, when he bore her home to Walla Walla, and to her chamber of transfiguration and translation. On October 1 he saw the flash of the "chariot of Israel," into which she stepped and mounted out of his sight. Then, to all of earthly hope and plan and purpose, he died. As she was passing over he said: "My dear, you will hardly get settled in heaven until I shall come." "Hallelujah!" responded the departing wife. They have met—the strong, stalwart, deep-hearted, broad-souled husband, the courageous, clear-visioned, consecrated wife—have met so soon, and she has greeted his coming with the kiss of immortality. At the home of Rev. S. M. Driver, to which he went from the funeral of his beloved wife, and where every attention that love could suggest or devotion administer was given him, he closed his earthly life in the forenoon of October 28, 1887. No earthly relative stood at his dying bed, or followed him to his grave; but the Church was his mother, and sister, and brother, and we are all mourners at his bier.

Kentucky Conference.

JOHN P. GRINSTEAD was born in Washington County, Va., November 25, 1810, and died in Knox County, Ky., May 12, 1888. He was licensed to preach on the Madison Circuit, Kentucky Annual Conference, Rev. R. E. Sidebottom acting presiding elder, in 1840, and was ordained deacon by Bishop James O. Andrew in Richmond, Ky., September 26, 1852. He was a Methodist preacher about forty-eight years. During his ministerial life he filled places of important trust in the Church of God. He was presiding elder seven years, filling the place with great acceptability. He was married three times. Brother Grinstead was an earnest Christian gentleman, careful of his word, correct in his dealings, and honorable in his motives. He had the utmost confidence of the people. As a preacher he was well informed, faithful, clear, and pointed. He was successful in his work; no charge suffered in his hands. As a pastor he was faithful in admonishing the erring, in visiting the houses of the afflicted and bereaved, and in persistent effort to bring up the interests of the Church. Without bigotry, he was loyal to his Church, which he loved and for which he labored. Prudence characterized him in all his transactions in relation to the people. His long, useful, and honorable ministry has been a pleasant and profitable memory. There is no stain on his reputation, no departure from a correct standard of pure living. Brother Grinstead is gone. His wise counsel in the Church and elsewhere will no longer be heard, the sunshine of his presence no more be felt. But in the beautiful beyond, beyond life's troubled stream, beyond the strifes and turmoils, the pain and griefs of earth, just across the sable river of death we feel he is safely anchored, and is standing now amid the angels, his brow garlanded with unchanging flowers of richest hue.

R. G. GARDINER was born near Abingdon, England, May 22, 1806, and died in Hardinsburg, Ky., April 23, 1888. At the session of the Kentucky Annual Conference held at Shelbyville in 1832 he was admitted as a probationer. From 1832 to 1855 he continued in the active ministry. From 1855 to 1860 he had charge of the Hardinsburg High-School. During the war he was chaplain to a Kentucky regiment. In 1865 he was appointed presiding elder of what was then called the North-Eastern District. In 1867 he was appointed to collect funds for the building of colored churches in Kentucky. In 1882 he was made a superannuate. For nearly fifty years he was a faithful and active minister of the Lord Jesus Christ. The Princeton Circuit, which he rode in 1834, had forty-two appointments. He was a good preacher and a pure, upright man. Through the months of suffering he was never heard to complain. He looked forward to the coming of the One who said, "I am the resurrection and the life." His last words were, "For me to die is gain."

HECTOR S. WISNER.—[Obituary not received.]

North Carolina Conference.

JAMES PAYNE was born in 1816, and converted at the age of twenty-two. He was licensed to preach in 1867, and joined the North Carolina Conference on trial in 1875, becoming a full member in 1878, and elder in 1880. He served the following charges: Rockingham Circuit, Guilford, East Randolph, Madison, Kernersville, and Trinity. At the fall Conference in 1886, owing to failing health, feebleness, and old age, he was granted a superannuated relation, in which he continued until death. Father Payne, for such the younger brethren delighted to call him, had in him many elements of power; and had he enjoyed early advantages there is no doubt that he would have been one of the most powerful preachers of the North Carolina Conference. He had a strong, rich, melodious, yet penetrating voice, which he knew how to use with good effect. Father Payne planted our standards in Rockingham and Madison Counties, where to-day we have promising charges. He was faithful, zealous, and loyal, both to God and the Methodist Episcopal Church. Through heat and cold, through sunshine and storm, amid difficulties seemingly insuperable and hardships almost unbearable, he traveled much of the time on foot to serve the Church of his choice and call sinners to repentance. He leaves a wife and sons to mourn their loss. They have our sympathies and prayers. Brother Payne's work is done; he has laid down at Jesus's feet the cross, put on the crown of life, and gone up to the general assembly of the first-born, whose names are written on high; for on the first day of April, 1888, he received from the Shepherd and Bishop of souls, Jesus, his transfer to the glory land.

ALEXANDER TURNER was supposed to have been sixty-three years old when he died. He was a member of the Church for thirty-eight years. He joined the African Methodist Episcopal Zion Conference on trial in 1868. He was admitted to the North Carolina Conference on credentials in 1884, and served the following charges: West Randolph, High Point and Trinity, and Oxford. In the month of August, 1887, Father Turner's career in this life ended. He has gone to receive the reward promised to the righteous.

TIMOTHY MCCORKLE.—[Obituary not received.]

Central New York Conference.

A. BENJAMIN was born in the town of Middleburg, N. Y. After spending some time in Cazenovia Seminary he was employed as a supply on old Canaan Charge in Wayne County, Pa. This was an extensive field, embracing the territory of some six or seven charges at the present time, and was about fifty miles in length. He was received on probation in the old Oneida Conference at its session held in Binghamton in the year 1836. During his active ministry he served twenty-one different charges, doing good work for his Master. He was twice married, the first time when he was preaching on the Lanesborough Charge and about four years after he had united with the Conference. In 1850 he was united in marriage to Miss Mary J. Wilson, of Cazenovia, who survives him. In 1859 he took a superannuated relation, and held it up to the time of his death, which occurred at his home in Norwich, N. Y. Brother Benjamin was possessed of many excellent traits of character. His heart was tender and his nature sympathetic. These qualities endeared him to his friends. He was conscientious, and anxious at all times to do right. He was an honest and true man.

WESLEY COCHRAN died suddenly of neuralgia of the heart January 28, 1888, at Mansfield, Tioga County, Pa., aged seventy-four years. He was born in Peru, N. Y., January 13, 1814, and began preaching in 1835. He married Elizabeth Gleason, who survives him, September 6, 1837. Brother Cochran was two years a probationer, and fifty years a member of an Annual Conference; one year supply, thirty-nine years preacher in charge, four years presiding elder, and nine years supernumerary. The following appointments, within the Genesee, East Genesee, and Central New York Conferences, are the fields of his work: supply at Middleport, preacher in charge of Leroy, Attica and Orangeville, Murray, Batavia and Alexander, Parma Circuit, Churchville, Caryville, Alexander, Scottsburg, Wellsborough, Pa., Pittsford, Lima, Avon, Groveland, Rush, Mount Morris, Nunda, Richmond and Canadice, East Palmyra, Mansfield, Pa., Angelica, Canisteo, presiding elder of Troy District, Lawrenceville, Pa., supernumerary, Big Flats, Monterey, Breesport, Sheldrake, supernumerary. At threescore and ten he gave up the work of a pastor, and for two years was strong enough to be a class-leader in the Methodist Episcopal Church, Mansfield, Pa. For a year he was feeble, but was growing stronger, so that he began to look for years of usefulness in the Church, in the prosperity of which he was deeply interested, when one Sunday afternoon he went out and fell dead upon the beautiful snow. He had, indeed, fought the good fight, and had from early life kept the faith. That a crown was waiting there is no doubt.

DANIEL FANCHER was born at Greene, N. Y., in 1803, and died at Onondaga Castle, N. Y., July 17, 1888, aged eighty-five years. He was married to Miss Lucy Payne in 1826. Five children were born to them. In 1834 he joined the Oneida Conference on trial, and served the Bainbridge Charge for two years; was received into full membership in 1837, serving Scipio Circuit one year, Scott one year, Cortland one year, Otselic two years, and Truxton one. In 1842–43 he was at Cardiff; 1844–45, Pompey; Onondaga and Indian Mission from 1846 to 1850 inclusive; Fayetteville 1851; was returned to the mission in 1852; was superannuated for six years, 1853 to 1859. In 1860 and 1861 he served the mission again, and then was obliged to give up his work. He died in the house he built as a mission house, and where a quarter of his ministerial life had been spent, and under the shadow of the house he built for the worship of God and for the gathering of souls for the Master.

ANDREW J. KENYON was born in Pitcher, N. Y., May 7, 1835, and died of lung fever, in Elmira, N. Y., May 12, 1888. At the age of fifteen years the call to preach the Gospel came to him, to which, a few years later, he responded. Soon after entering the ministry he married Miss Augusta Fox, daughter of Rev. Wesley Fox. Death removed the loving wife, and our brother drank the cup of bitterness of which none can know but those who are called to taste it. August 5, 1873, he was united in marriage to Miss Carrie Fries, of Auburn, N. Y. Brother Kenyon was emphatically one of the self-made men for whom our Methodism is so justly famous. In listening to his well-prepared sermons and lectures it would be difficult to decide in what respect the most careful collegiate training would have improved them. Brother Kenyon began his ministry as a "supply" on Onondage Circuit in 1857. In 1858 he was received on trial and in 1860 into full connection by the then Oneida Conference. Without tracing Conference boundaries we record his fields of labor as follows: Jamesville, Camillus, Madison, New Hartford, Oneida, Sandwich, Mass.; Provincetown, Mass.; Moravia, Clyde, Geneva, Rochester, Newark, Clifton Springs, and then he was appointed to the Centenary Church, Elmira, where the disease of which we have spoken terminated his life, so valuable to the Church and to the world, and a pastorate which promised to be one of the most prosperous of his life. His Church had learned to love and appreciate him and his most efficient wife, while the community at large was coming to understand that in the "Centenary pulpit" there was a man of strength and character. In estimating the character of our deceased brother, both as a minister and a man, we have space only to mention a few characteristics which will be readily recognized by all who knew him. He was systematic in his work. He was a sympathizing and faithful pastor. As a public speaker, both in the pulpit and upon the lecture platform, he was much above the average. He was always argumentative, sometimes eloquent. In his pastoral work he would enter, for the first time, a home and in a short time gather together the wants of the family and then kneel before God and pour forth a prayer so comprehensive in its scope and so special in its petitions that the family could scarcely realize that he had not known them for years. In public his prayers were often wonderful. One leading trait of his character was deep sincerity. He believed, and therefore spoke and acted. He was transparent before his brethren. Of selfish intrigue, either in or out of his Conference, he was incapable. If, indeed, a sound conversion to God, an abiding Christian experience, a firm adherence to the truth of God, a fearless utterance of that truth, a character that is above suspicion, and perfect honor in every relation of life, constitute, in the sight of God, a perfect man, then Brother Kenyon was a perfect man. More than this we would not say of any man. During his illness he often spoke of the "increasing preciousness of Christ," and although he expressed a desire to live for the sake of his family, yet he was prepared to go. While for him life had many attractions, death had no terrors.

DANIEL W. RONEY was born in Canaan, Columbia County, N. Y., February 19, 1811, and died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. B. Jones, in Utica, N. Y., November 24, 1887, in the seventy-seventh year of his age. He received his first license as a local preacher from the Quarterly Conference of Van Buren Circuit, April 10, 1847. He united with the Black River Conference on probation in June, 1848, and was admitted into full connection in the Conference and ordained deacon by Bishop Janes in 1851. He was ordained elder by Bishop Morris in 1854. He served the following charges, on the most of which he remained the full disciplinary term: Schrœpple, Red Creek, Cato, DePauville, Carthage, Canton, Belleville, Rome, Embargo Street, Adams District, Baldwinsville, and Boonville. In 1868 by a change in Conference boundaries he fell into the Central New York Conference, and thereafter his appointments were: Marcellus, Phœnix, Liverpool, Centerville, Kirkville, and Conquest. In 1882 he was, at his own request, granted a superannuated relation to the Conference and soon after settled in Liverpool, where he rested from his itinerant labors until his home was broken up by the death of his wife in October, 1886. He spent the most of the last year of his life in the West with his children. He returned in the fall in time to meet his brethren once more in Conference session. He would, even then, at the age of seventy-six, have gladly taken another appointment in the field with his brethren had an available charge been open to him. But his work was done. After a short visit with his daughter in Utica he was called to his eternal home, no more to labor, no more to suffer, no more to weep.
